Gestures and Looks in Medieval Narrative J. A. Burrow, 2002-08-08 In medieval society gestures and speaking looks played an even more important part in public and private exchanges than they do today Gestures meant more than words for example in ceremonies of homage and fealty In this the first study of its kind in English John Burrow examines the role of non verbal communication in a wide range of narrative texts including Chaucer's Troilus and Criseyde the anonymous Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Malory's Morte D'Arthur the romances of Chrétien de Troyes the Prose Lancelot Boccaccio's Il Filostrato and Dante's Commedia Burrow argues that since non verbal signs are in general less subject to change than words many of the behaviours recorded in these texts such as pointing and amorous gazing are familiar in themselves yet many prove easy to misread either because they are no longer common like bowing or because their use has changed like winking

Christly Gestures Brett Webb-Mitchell, 2003 The church is not only the central place of Christian worship but also a place of faith filled education Christly Gestures reframes the very meaning of religious education exploring what the form and content of Christian learning would look like if local churches truly saw themselves as the body of Christ Author Brett Webb Mitchell begins with the writings of Paul using them to clarify the biblical image of Christ's body as the community of believers Taking this powerful analogy to heart he suggests that Christian education must not only nurture the minds and spiritual lives of church members but also educate their bodies into the Christly gestures performing acts of faith that imitate Jesus and embody the gospel in daily life In the quest for a richer more relevant understanding of Christian education Webb Mitchell provides meaningful answers to questions concerning the purpose context ways and means of educating Christians today
