Eyes of Laura Mars H. B. Gilmour, John Carpenter, David Zelag Goodman, 1978      Eyes of Laura Mars Irvin Kerschner, 1977      Eyes of Laura Mars Harriet B. Gilmour, 1978      American Horrors Gregory Albert Waller, 1987 Since the release of Rosemary's Baby in 1968 the American horror film has become one of the most diverse commercially successful widely discussed and culturally significant film genres Drawing on a wide range of critical methods from close textual readings and structuralist genre criticism to psychoanalytical feminist and ideological analyses the authors examine individual films directors and subgenres In this collection of twelve essays Gregory Waller balances detailed studies of both popular films Night of the Living Dead The Exorcist and Halloween and particularly problematic films Don't Look Now and Eyes of Laura Mars with discussions of such central thematic preoccupations as the genre's representation of violence and female victims its reflexivity and playfulness and its ongoing redefinition of the monstrous and the normal In addition American Horrors includes a filmography of movies and telefilms and an annotated bibliography of books and articles about horror since 1968      Unless the Threat of Death Is Behind Them John T. Irwin, 2006-10-25 Publisher description

Mythologies of Violence in Postmodern Media Christopher Sharrett, 1999 This anthology examines a number of issues related to violence within the media landscape Violence has been a topic of continued concern within American culture and society Although there have been numerous sociological and historical studies of violence and its origins there is relatively little systematic analysis of violence within media representation even as this issue becomes preeminent within public discourse This anthology examines a number of issues related to violence within the media landscape using various methodologies to suggest the implications of the increasing obsession with violence for postmodern civilization      Eyes of Laura Janet Cardiff, Deanna Ferguson, Bruce Grenville, Ronald Wakkary, Vancouver Art Gallery, 2005      Horror Films of the 1970s John Kenneth Muir, 2012-11-22 The seventies were a decade of groundbreaking horror films The Exorcist Carrie and Halloween were three This detailed filmography covers these and 225 more Section One provides an introduction and a brief history of the decade Beginning with 1970 and proceeding chronologically by year of its release in the United States Section Two offers an entry for each film Each entry includes several categories of information Critical Reception sampling both 70s and later reviews Cast and Credits P O V quoting a person pertinent to that film's production Synopsis summarizing the film's story Commentary analyzing the film from Muir's perspective Legacy noting the rank of especially worthy 70s films in the horror pantheon of decades following Section Three contains a conclusion and these five appendices horror film clichés of the 1970s frequently appearing performers memorable movie ads recommended films that illustrate how 1970s horror films continue to impact the industry and the 15 best genre films of the decade as chosen by Muir      The Films of John Carpenter John Kenneth Muir, 2015-09-15 The films of John Carpenter cover a tremendous range and yet all bear his clear personal stamp From the horrifying Halloween to the touching Starman to the controversial The Thing to the comic Big Trouble in

Little China his films reflect a unique approach to filmmaking and singular views of humanity and American culture This analysis of Carpenter s films includes a historical overview of his career and in depth entries on each of his films from 1975 s Dark Star to 1998 s Vampires Complete cast and production information is provided for each The book also covers those films written and produced by Carpenter such as Halloween II and Black Moon Rising as well as Carpenter s work for television Appendices are included on films Carpenter was offered but turned down the slasher films that followed in the wake of the highly successful Halloween the actors and characters who make repeated appearances in Carpenter s films and ratings for Carpenter s work Notes bibliography and index are included     Discipline and Desire Elise Morrison,2016-10-12 Discipline and Desire examines how surveillance technologies when placed within the frames of theater and performance can be used to critique and reimagine the politics of surveillance in everyday life The book explores how rapidly proliferating surveillance technologies including drones CCTV cameras GPS tracking systems medical surveillance equipment and facial recognition software can be repurposed through performance to become technologies of ethical witnessing critique and action While the subject of surveillance continues to provoke fascination and debate in mainstream media and academia opportunities to critically reflect upon and more importantly to imagine alternative creative responses to living in a rapidly expanding surveillance society have been harder to find Author Elise Morrison argues that such opportunities are being created through the growing genre of surveillance art and performance defined as works that centrally employ technologies and techniques of surveillance to create theater installation and performance art Introducing readers to a broad range of surveillance art works including the work of artists and activists such as Surveillance Camera Players Jill Magid Steve Mann Hasan Elahi Wafaa Bilal Blast Theory Electronic Disturbance Theater George Brant Janet Cardiff Mona Hatoum and Zach Blas Discipline and Desire provides a practical and analytical framework that can aid the diverse pursuits of new media arts practitioners performance scholars activists and hobbyists interested in critical and creative uses of surveillance technologies
