Face In The Mirror Teens And Adoption:

The Face in the Mirror Marion Crook, 2002-07-01 Being a teenager in today's complex world is a difficult enough task but adopted teens have a unique struggle to discover their identity and a sense of belonging and place in the world which often means coming to terms with their past The Face in the Mirror based on numerous interviews with adopted teens adoptive parents and birth parents brings attention to the growing and often controversial phenomenon of teenagers wanting to know where they came from The book written for both teenagers and adults is a frank discussion of the issues surrounding adoption and in particular what adoptees adoptive parents and birth parents should know when adopted teens want to discover their past The book also addresses the impact of cross cultural or cross racial adoption as well as the legal parameters of adoption in the US and Canada including the complex emotions involved As written by Marion Crook an adoptive parent herself and the author of previous books about teens The Face in the Mirror articulates the complexity of adoption issues with candor and compassion The Face in the Mirror Rebecca Chalker, Marion Crook, 2010-10 Being a teenager in today's complex world is a difficult enough task but adopted teens have a unique struggle to discover their identity and a sense of belonging and place in the world which often means coming to terms with their past The Face The Face in the Mirror Marion Crook, 2000 Based on numerous interviews with adopted teens adoptive parents and birth parents this book brings attention to the growing and often controversial phenomenon of teenagers wanting to know where they Thicker Than Blood Marion Crook, 2016-07-11 The act of adopting children and the processes and politics came from around it have changed drastically in recent decades mostly for the better Still many prospective adoptive parents remain bewildered or apprehensive and those who have adopted find themselves struggling in ways they hadn t anticipated Thicker Than Blood is a comprehensive yet down to earth look at adoptive parenting in the twenty first century Author Marion Crook s family includes two adopted sons in her experience adoptive parents need to acquire skills knowledge and a good sense of humor in order to deal with the emotional upheavals of raising adopted children The book looks at all facets of adoption including its dark history over the past one hundred years when it was seen as a lower class option for desperate parents or when children were taken from single mothers against their will Today adoption is much more open minded LGBT adoptive parents and adoptive single parents are now commonplace yet challenges linger from adoptive children suffering from PTSD to those dealing with issues of anger and abandonment Crook gently takes adoptive parents through the process of adoption from childhood to adulthood helping to demystify the experience with compassion and reassurance Meticulously researched but refreshingly free of academic jargon Thicker Than Blood will enlighten and empower adoptive parents and those who work with adopted children alike Marion Crook is the author of twenty one previous books which include novels and nonfiction for both adults and young people on such subjects as women s health teen suicide and body image Out of the Darkness Marion Crook, 2004-01-01 Teen suicide has long been considered one of society s darkest secrets the idea of troubled young people driven to take their own lives was a tragedy too horrible to contemplate let alone talk about openly But the fact remains that teen suicide is an issue that refuses to go away so long as young people in crisis have nowhere to turn But now in this age of frank discussions about bullying peer pressure and issues of difference there is a growing sense that teen suicide is no longer a taboo subject and that talking about it can help us to identify and acknowledge the kind of problems that lead teens to make such drastic and tragic decisions Based on interviews with teen suicide survivors parents and professionals Marion Crook sensitively explores all aspects of teen suicide in particular the reasons why certain young people are driven to it The motives are far ranging but central to all is a sense of desperation Despite their dire circumstances however many found a way out of the darkness and into adult lives of meaning and worth Marion Crook also examines the history of teen suicide in Western and other cultures as well as what roles parents and schools can play in suicide prevention and coping strategies for teens in crisis Out of the Darkness is a book for both teens and adults that breaks the silence surrounding teen suicide offering hope for those who think there is none Marion Crook has spent the last fifteen years actively researching the difficulties teens face relying on the expertise of the teens themselves This is her twenty third published book She teaches at the university in Surrey B C while continuing to research and write of Intercountry Adoptions in School Ruth Lyn Meese, 2002-09-30 Children of intercountry adoption have complex histories that place them at high risk for difficulty or failure in school Teachers and other school professionals rarely know how to test them teach them or meet their needs This volume explains those needs and offers guidelines and suggestions for maximizing the educational performance of these children and helping them to meet their potential The volume includes research on children adopted from several countries including Russia and former Soviet states Romania and China Content includes information from adoption literature on English as a Second Language classes as well as special education law and research The volume also presents the stories of real children adopted from Romania Russia and China along with their parents and their interactions with schools in the United States Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris, 2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience Oualitative Research Sandra G. Kouritzin, Nathalie A.C. Piguemal, Renee Norman, 2009-02-15 I commend and celebrate the editors and authors for a remarkable book that engages the reader s imagination heart mind spirit and body Out of creative and courageous commitments to challenging orthodoxies by living and writing research that is personal political and poetic these scholars invite the kind of vigorous dialogue that will continue to promote creative possibilities for inquiry in the social sciences Carl Leggo University of British Columbia From the Foreword Evocative and provocative this book presents the points of view of often junior scholars in the social sciences who used non standard methods or writing practices to challenge the research as usual paradigm in the academy while at the same time meeting the demands of quality and rigor set by their university examining committees and ethical review boards The intent is to encourage new researchers who are also considering such a path The authors discuss their lived personal experiences within and against traditional academic research and writing traditions as well as their struggles and eventual successes Chapters are written in dramatic form in dialogue in story and include poetry vignettes testimonials and autobiographical accounts Collectively they form a unique distinctive situated polyphonic case study of research in the social sciences from several perspectives challenging the orthodoxies
