Face Of Eve:

The Hidden Face of Eve Nawal El Saadawi, 2007-06-01 This powerful account of the oppression of women in the Muslim world remains as shocking today as when it was first published more than a quarter of a century ago Nawal El Saadawi writes out of a powerful sense of the violence and injustice which permeated her society Her experiences working as a doctor in villages around Egypt witnessing prostitution honour killings and sexual abuse including female circumcision drove her to give voice to this suffering She goes on to explore the causes of the situation through a discussion of the historical role of Arab women in religion and literature Saadawi argues that the veil polygamy and legal inequality are incompatible with the essence of Islam or any human faith This edition complete with a new foreword lays claim to The Hidden Face of Eve's status as a classic of modern Arab writing

Masked Men Steve Cohan, 1997-12-22 The fifties marks the moment when a heterosexual homosexual dualism came to dominate U S culture's thinking about masculinity The films of this era record how gender and sexuality did not easily come together in a normative manhood common to American men Instead these films demonstrate the widely held perception of a crisis of masculinity Masked Men documents how movies of the fifties represented masculinity as a multiple masquerade Hollywood's star system positioned the male actor as a professional performer and as a body intended to solicit the erotic interest of male and female viewers alike Drawing on publicity poster art fan magazines and the popular press as a means of following the links between fifties stars their films and the social tensions of the period Cohan juxtaposes Hollywood's narratives of masculinity against the personae of leading men like Cary Grant Humphrey Bogart John Wayne Charlton Heston Yul Brynner William Holden Montgomery Clift Marlon Brando and Rock Hudson Masked Men focuses on the gender and sexual masquerades that organized their performances of masculinity on and off screen

Wins and Losses Pamela Ardoyn Funderburk, 2023-03-01 Wins and Losses is a fictional story of a family Tate Eve and Jenna Richards who became all too familiar with wins and losses in their lives This book introduces Tate and Eve Richards and follows their journey into parenthood where they suffer one of their greatest losses Their daughter Jenna literally from birth without even knowing it experiences one of her first losses and invites readers to ride alongside her as she travels through life continuing to experience more wins and losses The wins and losses ultimately shape her into the young woman she becomes It's my hope that readers will realize that some losses in life allow us to grow and teach us that no person will be able to experience only wins Both wins and losses cause people to react in a way that forces them to push themselves in directions they may never have considered before This may sound a bit harsh but my goal in writing this book was to help people realize that some of the losses experienced in life regardless of the pain they may have caused happen for a reason Those losses whether understood or not can and do sometimes open a door to allow them to find something or someone they would not have been able to find had they not experienced that loss Losses in people
