Thorne, 2015-02-06 A cherished Past can be considered a time capsule of Newfoundland's history and inside you'll read everything from Newfoundland's vital role in both world wars to the early days of aviation when Newfoundland would play host to such aviation pioneers as Alcock and Brown, Charles Lindbergh and Amelia Earhart. From disasters at the seal hunt and rum running to searching for victims of the doomed Titanic, Newfoundlanders made their fair share of history. So sit down and take a trip in time to our most glorious past.

Making the Best of It Sarah Glassford, Amy J. Shaw, 2020-04-15 Many women who lived through the Second World War believed it heralded new status and opportunities but scholars have argued that very little changed. How can these interpretations be reconciled? Making the Best of It examines the ways in which gender and other identities intersected to shape the experiences of female Canadians and Newfoundlanders during the war. The contributors to this thoughtful collection consider mainstream and minority populations, girls and women and different parts of Canada and Newfoundland. They reassess topics such as women in the military and in munitions factories and tackle entirely new subjects such as wartime girlhood in Quebec. Collectively these essays broaden the scope of what we know about the changes the war wrought in the lives of Canadian women and girls and address wider debates about memory, historiography and feminism.

Creating This Place Linda Cullum, Marilyn Porter, 2014-04-01 The twentieth century witnessed both the formation of Newfoundland as a self-conscious national entity and the construction of distinct and self-aware middle and upper classes in its capital city. This interdisciplinary collection examines the key roles played by women in the creation of this state and society and the essential influence that gender, ethnicity and religion played in class relations. Shifting class relations were formed in the salient political events of the first half of the twentieth century in Newfoundland: the First World War, the suffrage movement, the Great Depression, the Second World War and finally Newfoundland's contested entry into the Canadian Confederation. Creating This Place shows how upper middle and working class worlds were established in the everyday work of women as well as the ways in which the complex social boundaries of the period were constructed. Individual chapters explore issues such as women's work in religious and voluntary institutions, their struggle for voice, suffrage and political change, work of domestic servants and the construction of proper women and mothers through denominational education. Creating This Place adopts an innovative perspective on Newfoundland and Labrador that focuses on the often overlooked lives of urban women.
