From Historicity To Fictionality The Chinese Poetics Of Narrative:

From Historicity to Fictionality Hsiao-peng Lu, 1994 A comprehensive comparative and cross cultural study of the poetics of the entire Chinese narrative tradition The Oxford Handbook of Classical Chinese Literature Wiebke Denecke, Wai-Yee Li, Xiaofei Tian, 2017-03-21 This volume introduces readers to classical Chinese literature from its beginnings ca 10th century BCE to the tenth century CE It asks basic questions such as How did reading and writing practices change over these two millennia How did concepts of literature evolve What were the factors that shaped literary production and textual transmission How do traditional bibliographic categories modern conceptions of genre and literary theories shape our understanding of classical Chinese literature What are the recurrent and evolving concerns of writings within the period under purview What are the dimensions of human experience they address Why is classical Chinese literature important for our understanding of pre modern East Asia How does the transmission of this literature in Japan Korea and Vietnam define cultural boundaries And what in turn can we learn from the Chinese style literatures of Japan Korea and Vietnam about Chinese literature In addressing these questions the Oxford Handbook of Classical Chinese Literature departs from standard literary histories and sourcebooks It does not simply categorize literary works according to periods authors or texts Its goal is to offer a new conceptual framework for thinking about classical Chinese literature by defining a four part structure The first section discusses the basics of literacy and includes topics such as writing systems manuscript culture education and loss and preservation in textual transmission It is followed by a second section devoted to conceptions of genre textual organization and literary signification throughout Chinese history A third section surveys literary tropes and themes The final section takes us beyond China to the surrounding cultures that adopted Chinese culture and produced Chinese style writing adapted to their own historical circumstances The volume is sustained by a dual foci the recuperation of historical perspectives for the period it surveys and the attempt to draw connections between past and present demonstrating how the viewpoints and information in this volume yield insights into modern China and east Asia

Stories Old and New, 2011-10-15 Stories Old and New is the first complete translation of Feng Menglong's Gujin xiaoshuo also known as Yushi mingyan Illustrious Words to Instruct the World a collection of 40 short stories first published in 1620 in China This is considered the best of Feng's three such collections and was a pivotal work in the development of vernacular fiction The stories are valuable as examples of early fiction and for their detailed depiction of daily life among a broad range of social classes The stories are populated by scholars and courtesans spirits and ghosts Buddhist monks and nuns pirates and emperors and officials both virtuous and corrupt The streets and abodes of late Ming China come alive in Shuhui Yang and Yunqin Yang's smooth and colorful translation of these entertaining tales Stories Old and New has long been popular in China and has been published there in numerous editions Although some of the stories have appeared in English translations in journals and anthologies they have not previously been presented sequentially in thematic pairs as arranged by Feng Menglong This unabridged translation illustrated with a selection of woodcuts from the original Ming dynasty edition and including Feng's interlinear notes and marginal comments as well as all of the verse woven throughout the text allows the modern reader to experience the text as did its first audience nearly four centuries ago For other titles in the collection go to <http://www.washington.edu/uwpress/books/ming.html> China's Cosmopolitan Empire Mark Edward Lewis, 2009-10-30 The Tang dynasty is often called China's golden age Mark Lewis captures a dynamic era in which the empire reached its greatest geographical extent under Chinese rule painting and ceramic arts flourished women played a major role both as rulers and in the economy and China produced its finest lyric poets in Wang Wei Li Bo and Du Fu

Reading East Asian Writing Michel Hockx, Ivo Smits, 2014-02-05 This book presents contributions by thirteen scholars of Chinese and Japanese literature whose work is characterised by a strong interest in literary theory They focus in particular on the various new theories that have emerged during the past two decades uprooting traditional forms of understanding literary texts their function their readership and their interpretation Often confined to discussion of a specific country or area these theories have been criticised for their Western bias This collection breaks through these barriers providing an opportunity for scholars of two closely related yet often independently studied cultures to present and compare their views on specific theories of literature to discuss the advantages and shortcomings of those theories and to consider specific difficulties related to the East West dimension Chinese Ecocinema Sheldon H. Lu, Jiayan Mi, 2009-12-01 This anthology is a book length study of China's ecosystem through the lens of cinema Proposing ecocinema as a new critical framework the volume collectively investigates a wide range of urgent topics in today's world Before Fiction Nicholas D.

Paige, 2011-08-16 Fiction has become nearly synonymous with literature itself as if Homer and Dante and Pynchon were all engaged in the same basic activity But one difficulty with this view is simply that a literature trafficking in openly invented characters is a quite recent development Novelists before the nineteenth century ceaselessly asserted that their novels were true stories and before that poets routinely took their basic plots and heroes from the past We have grown accustomed to thinking of the history of literature and the novel as a progression from the ideal to the real Yet paradoxically the modern triumph of realism is also the triumph of a literature that has shed all pretense to literalness Before Fiction The Ancien Régime of the Novel offers a new understanding of the early history of the genre in England and France one in which writers were not slowly discovering a type of fictionality we now take for granted but rather following a distinct set of practices and rationales Nicholas D Paige reinterprets Lafayette's La Princesse de Clèves Rousseau's Julie ou la Nouvelle Héloïse Diderot's La Religieuse and other French texts of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries in light of the period's preoccupation with literal truth Paige argues that novels like these occupied a place before fiction a pseudofactual realm that in no way leads to modern realism The book provides an alternate way of looking at a familiar history and in its very idiom and methodology charts a new course for how we should study the novel and think about the evolution of cultural forms Epic and Other Higher Narratives: Essays in Intercultural Studies Shankman,Dev,2010 Epic and Other Higher Narratives Essays in Intercultural Studies is dedicated to the memory of Earl Miner the distinguished comparitist and scholar of intercultural comparative literature Beginning with a discussion on theoretical foundations of narratives it moves on to the nature of narrative in relation to higher narratives It attempts to define a form of narrative that is distinguished by elevation dignity and engaging in a cross cultural phenomena It is useful for students of international studies and world literature China, Transnational Visuality, Global Postmodernity Hsiao-peng Lu,Sheldon H. Lu,2001 By focusing on Chinese cultural formations and critical discourses of the last decade of the century the author dissects the intellectual economic and political contradictions of a turbulent era This wide ranging deeply interdisciplinary work demarcates the cultural terrain by examining diverse media film television avant garde art and literature as well as critical theory and intellectual history

Metacinema in Contemporary Chinese Film G. Andrew Stuckey,2018-08-17 Depictions within a movie of either filmmaking or film watching are hardly novel but the dramatic expansion of the reach of the metacinematic into contemporary Chinese cinemas is nothing short of remarkable To G Andrew Stuckey the prevalence of metacinematic features forms the basis of a discourse on film arising from the films themselves Such a discourse in turn outlines the boundaries of the possible for film in China as aesthetic or sociopolitical practice Metacinema also draws our attention to the presence of the audience people actively responding to a film In elucidating the affective responses elicited by the metacinematic mode in the viewers Stuckey argues that metacinema reflects ways of being in the world that audiences may take up for themselves The films studied in this book are drawn across the full spectrum of Chinese films made in mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan during the 1990s and 2000s from award winning conceptual art films to popular crowd pleasers blockbusters to low budget productions and documentary style social realist expos projects to studio assembly line investments The recurrence of the metacinematic across this broad range of works is indicative of its relevance to Chinese films today and the analysis of these diverse examples allows us to gauge the cultural social and aesthetic implications of Chinese cinemas as a whole Stuckey surveys a broad swath of contemporary Chinese cinema from popular blockbusters to elite art films around the theme of metacinema yielding new insights into both previously neglected films and those already acknowledged as contemporary classics The result is a fascinating dive into the growing and diversifying cinema culture of China today Jason McGrath University of Minnesota Stuckey s brilliant work Metacinema in Contemporary Chinese Film offers insightful close analyses of films by key directors from the PRC Jiang Wen Lou Ye Jia Zhangke and Li Yu Hong Kong Peter Chan and Taiwan Tsai Ming liang This clearly written book is essential reading for scholars and students of Chinese cinemas Stuckey s study of genre and metacinema makes it a must read for anyone interested in cinema Michelle Bloom University of California Riverside Public Secrets, Public Spaces Stephanie Donald,2000 Public Secrets Public Spaces explores the possibility of symbolic public space in the context of Chinese cinema Focusing especially on women children and the dispossessed Stephanie H Donald looks at the ways public space is constructed and occupied and how it interacts with public secrets on the unstated common sense knowledges of everyday life extraordinary to those who are not initiated into the routines of a particular cultural place and space In traditional societies public secrets are organized through observable ritual in modern societies they are embedded in the cultural discourse of the routine and the everyday As we see in this perceptive book film offers a rich medium for unearthing these secrets

The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang John Christopher Hamm, 2019-08-27 Xiang Kairan who wrote under the pen name the Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang is remembered as the father of modern Chinese martial arts fiction one of the most distinctive forms of twentieth century Chinese culture and the inspiration for China's globally popular martial arts cinema In this book John Christopher Hamm shows how Xiang Kairan's work and career offer a new lens on the transformations of fiction and popular culture in early twentieth century China The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang situates Xiang Kairan's career in the larger contexts of Republican era China's publishing industry literary debates and political and social history At a time when writers associated with the New Culture movement promoted an aggressively modernizing vision of literature Xiang Kairan consciously cultivated his debt to homegrown narrative traditions Through careful readings of Xiang Kairan's work Hamm demonstrates that his writings far from being the formally fossilized and ideologically regressive relics their critics denounced represent a creative engagement with contemporary social and political currents and the demands and possibilities of an emerging cultural marketplace Hamm takes martial arts fiction beyond the confines of genre studies to situate it within a broader reexamination of Chinese literary modernity The first monograph on Xiang Kairan's fiction in any language The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang rewrites the history of early twentieth century Chinese literature from the standpoints of genre fiction and commercial publishing

Remapping the Past Howard Choy, 2008-05-31 The most prominent literary phenomenon in the 1980s and 1990s in China historical fiction has never been systematically surveyed in Anglophone scholarship This is the first investigation into how by rewriting the past writers of Deng Xiaoping's reform era undermined the grand narrative of official history It showcases fictions of history by eleven native Chinese Muslim and Tibetan authors The four chapters are organized in terms of spatial schemes of fictional historiography namely regional histories and family romances discourses on diaspora and myths of minorities nostalgia for the hometown in the country and the city as well as the bodily text and the textual body thus broadly covering the eternal themes of memory language food sex and violence in historical writing

Transnational Chinese Cinemas Sheldon H. Lu, 1997-10-01 Zhang Yimou's first film Red Sorghum took the Golden Bear Award in 1988 at the Berlin International Film Festival Since then Chinese films have continued to arrest worldwide attention and capture major film awards winning an international following that continues to grow Transnational Chinese Cinemas spans nearly the entire length of twentieth century Chinese film history The volume traces the evolution of Chinese national cinema and demonstrates that gender identity has been central to its formation Femininity masculinity and sexuality have been an integral part of the filmic discourses of modernity nationhood and history This volume represents the most comprehensive wide ranging and up to date study of China s major cinematic traditions It is an indispensable source book for modern Chinese and Asian history politics literature and culture

Dubious Facts Garret P. S. Olberding,2012-12-04 What were the intentions of early China s historians Modern readers must contend with the tension between the narrators moralizing commentary and their description of events Although these historians had notions of evidence it is not clear to what extent they valued what contemporary scholars would deem hard facts Offering an innovative approach to premodern historical documents Garret P S Olberding argues that the speeches of court advisors reveal subtle strategies of information management in the early monarchic context Olberding focuses on those addresses concerning military campaigns where evidence would be important in guiding immediate social and political policy His analysis reveals the sophisticated conventions that governed the imperial advisor s logic and suasion in critical state discussions which were specifically intended to counter anticipated doubts Dubious Facts illuminates both the decision making processes that informed early Chinese military campaigns and the historical records that represent them
