This is the first systematic study of Berlin's political ideas to draw on all of his writings including manuscripts interviews and correspondence Berlin's defence of political liberalism is based on a theory of moral pluralism a view of human nature and an interpretation of the historical and cultural development of Western civilization rather than on abstract arguments about rights Claude Galipeau brings out the uniqueness and force of this defence while acknowledging in his discussion of Berlin's Zionism the tensions and complexities inherent in it In all his writings Berlin seeks to understand the intricacies and paradoxes of human behaviour His political thought offers a compelling justification of liberal institutions in the contemporary world and Claude Galipeau's study will be an invaluable guide to the range and depth of his work

Speaking of the Self Anshu Malhotra, Siobhan Lambert-Hurley, 2015-10-23 Many consider the autobiography to be a Western genre that represents the self as fully autonomous The contributors to Speaking of the Self challenge this presumption by examining a wide range of women's autobiographical writing from South Asia Expanding the definition of what kinds of writing can be considered autobiographical the contributors analyze everything from poetry songs mystical experiences and diaries to prose fiction architecture and religious treatises The authors they study are just as diverse a Mughal princess an eighteenth century courtesan from Hyderabad a nineteenth century Muslim prostitute in Punjab a housewife in colonial Bengal a Muslim Gandhian devotee of Krishna several female Indian and Pakistani novelists and two male actors who worked as female impersonators The contributors find that in these autobiographies the authors construct their gendered selves in relational terms Throughout they show how autobiographical writing in whatever form it takes provides the means toward more fully understanding the historical social and cultural milieu in which the author performs herself and creates her subjectivity
