Guilds, Price Formation and Market Structures in Byzantium George C. Maniatis, 2024-12-11

The essays reproduced in this volume analyze the guild system in Byzantium and the West and investigate for the first time the process of price formation in Byzantium Innovative approaches are devised to fathom the conceptual basis institutional parameters market organization and structures and market dynamics which shaped price determination Correlatively it is persuasively established that the Byzantine guilds unlike their counterparts in the West did not fix prices through concerted action as they did not command the requisite market power or institutional support Fundamentally these studies argue that the Byzantine economy was market oriented as the state was quite circumspect in its interventions and pursued market based policies within a regulatory framework aimed to thwart unfair business practices protect the consumer curb the concentration of economic power and prevent the emergence of monopolistic market structures The competitive process and market mechanism were buttressed by a panoply of legal and other institutional arrangements aimed to frustrate anti competitive practices and ensure correct business conduct to maintain a level playing field Even in guild organized sectors the authorities did not interfere with the firms decision making process relying on the dynamic interaction of market forces and letting the market mechanism take
