Financial Institutions, Markets and Services Dr. SADASIVAM RANI, Dr. JAYANTHI.S.V.GOPALA SARMA, Dr. PUCHA SWATHI, Dr. KRATI KULSHRESTHA, 2024-07-12 This book delves into the structure operation and expansion of India's financial system. For students of finance and money management, gaining a thorough understanding of how the financial system functions is crucial for effectively analyzing and comprehending monetary and financial policies. The first edition of this book provides a comprehensive view of the entire landscape of banking and non-banking institutions as well as the various markets for both short-term and long-term financial instruments and services. It covers significant issues within the Indian financial system such as financial inclusion, the new pension system, insurance principles, the auctioning of treasury bills, and foreign direct investment in India's retail sector. In addition, the book offers an in-depth analysis of derivatives, including their role in the global economy, market design, major policy changes, and the development of the derivatives market both in India and internationally. Recent financial reforms and current trends in the Indian financial industry are highlighted to reflect the latest developments. The evolution of a sophisticated financial system in India, especially since the early 1990s, has also led to the growth of a robust financial services sector. The efficiency of this emerging system is closely linked to the quality and range of financial services offered by non-banking financial companies, which, although still developing, are increasingly significant to the financial system. Financial services are broadly categorized into fund asset-based and fee-based advisory services, and this book addresses both categories. While focusing on the analytical aspects from the perspectives of both non-banking financial intermediaries and their clients, the book also thoroughly examines legal, procedural, tax, accounting, and regulatory dimensions. To facilitate learning and assessment, the text includes illustrative problems and review questions. A distinctive feature of the book is its blend of theoretical and practical insights into the contemporary Indian financial services sector. It is intended primarily for educators and advanced students in finance, management, commerce, and accounting, but it also serves as a valuable resource for practicing professionals. The book provides an overview of non-banking financial companies (NBFCs) as regulated by the RBI, including theoretical, conceptual, and regulatory aspects of lease financing and other fund-based services. It also covers legal, analytical, and regulatory facets of hire purchase, finance, consumer credit, and the institutional and operational framework of merchant banking in India. The analysis extends to prominent merchant banking activities such as mergers and acquisitions, stock broking, and credit rating.

Reform and Regulation of Economic Institutions in Afghanistan Haroun Rahimi, 2022-10-21 Taliban's return to power in August of 2021 caused everyone to ask why the two decades of institution building in Afghanistan failed. This book investigates the root causes of failed reforms in an important area of reform: trade and credit institutions. It explains why the efforts to reform and regulate the economic institutions in Afghanistan failed and what we can learn from their failure. It draws on more than eighty interviews with Afghan merchants, business leaders, money dealers, and government officials in five major provinces of Afghanistan to identify the barriers to access to credit and to understand the performance of formal institutions banks and their informal counterparts This book finds that Afghan merchants were often unable to benefit from the offerings of formal institutions for three reasons a highly volatile business climate uncertain contract enforcement and an unsupportive property rights system Several informal institutions have emerged that alleviate some of the credit constraints on Afghan merchants These informal institutions include risk sharing trade credit operations money dealers short term working capital loans Gerawee and Sar qufli Although these informal institutions have helped Afghan merchants survive they are unable to support economic growth This book argues that countries like Afghanistan should solve their institutional dilemma by adopting an approach which the author calls Grounded Institutional Reform Using this approach a country would formalize existing informal institutions a development that would vastly increase their effectiveness While this book focuses on credit and trade in Afghanistan the analysis of formalizing the informal can easily be extended to solve other types of economic problems in similarly situated countries This book should be of great interest to scholars policymakers and development workers in the field of law finance and development

Financial Institutions, Markets, and Economic Activity Tim S. Campbell,1982 H.R. 1062, the Financial Services Competitiveness Act of 1995, Glass-Steagall Reform, and Related Issues (revised H.R. 18) United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking and Financial Services,1995 Gulf Cooperation Council Countries (GCC) International Monetary Fund,2018-12-06

Financial systems in the GCC have developed significantly over the last couple of decades but there appears to be further room for progress The development of bank and equity markets has been supported by a combination of buoyant economic activity a booming Islamic finance sector and financial sector reforms As a result financial systems have deepened and overall the level of financial development compares well with emerging markets However it still lags advanced economies and other than for Saudi Arabia appears to be lower than would be expected given economic fundamentals such as income levels Financial development in the GCC has relied to a large extent on banks while debt markets and nonbank financial institutions are less developed and access to equity markets is narrow The non bank financial institutions pension funds asset management and finance companies and insurance remain small Domestic debt markets are underdeveloped While equity markets appear to be well developed by market size they are dominated by a few large and often public sector companies GCC countries have made progress on financial inclusion but gaps remain in some important areas Access to finance for SMEs women and youth in particular appears relatively low This may partly reflect social norms low levels of participation of women in the labor market and private sector activity and the high level of youth unemployment Further financial development and inclusion is likely to be associated with stronger economic growth in the GCC countries While there is uncertainty surrounding the empirical estimates in the paper further progress with financial development and or inclusion is likely to go hand in hand with stronger growth The growth benefits however are likely to vary across countries depending on the current level of financial development and inclusion To realize these growth benefits reforms to strengthen access to finance for SMEs women and youth are needed Addressing institutional weaknesses and promoting financial sector competition would help boost access to finance for SMEs Reforms to enhance financial literacy and improve SME governance structures and insolvency frameworks are critical Other reforms encouraging female and youth employment and the use of emerging technologies in finance also appear promising Additional reforms to foster financial development should focus on developing debt markets and making stock markets more accessible to a larger pool of companies and investors To grow domestic debt markets the authorities should develop a government yield curve seek to increase market liquidity through secondary market trading and ensure requirements for private issuance are not onerous Stock market reforms should focus on enhancing corporate governance and investor protection removing restrictions on foreign ownership and encouraging financial market competition The latter would also help the development of non bank financial institutions

Regulatory Transformations Bettina Lange,Fiona Haines,Dania Thomas,2015-09-10 The issue of whether transnational risk can be regulated through a social sphere goes to the heart of what John Ruggie has described as embedded liberalism how capitalist countries have reconciled markets with the social community that markets require to survive and thrive This collection located in the wider debates about global capitalism and its regulation tackles the challenge of finding a way forward for regulation It rejects the old divisions of state and market citizens and consumers social movements and transnational corporations as well as economic and social regulation Instead this rich multidisciplinary collection engages with a critical theme the idea of harnessing the regulatory capacity of a social sphere by recognising the embeddedness of economic transactions within a social and political landscape This collection therefore explores how social norms practices actors and institutions frame economic transactions and thereby regulate risks generated by and for business state and citizens A key strength of this book is its integration of three distinct areas of scholarship Karl Polanyi s economic sociology regulation studies and socio legal studies of transnational hazards The collection is distinct in that it links the study of specific transnational risk regulatory regimes back to a social theoretical discussion about economy society interactions informed by Polanyi s work Each of the chapters addresses the way in which economics as well as economic and social regulation can never be understood separately from the social particularly in the transnational context Endorsement This thought provoking collection asks the most critical question of our time how to civilise markets through social accountability and political action The climate and financial crises we face show how crucial this challenge is Lange Haines and Thomas have put together a series of fruitful case studies of the possibilities for embedding economic relationships in social relationships by a series of top class researchers within their own illuminating and sensitive framing of the issue Professor Christine Parker Professor of Regulatory Studies at Monash University
