"Appropriated Photographs in French Surrealist Periodicals, 1924-1939" Linda Steer, 2017-07-05 The first monograph to analyze the Surrealist gesture of photographic appropriation this study examines found photographs in three French Surrealist reviews published in the 1920s and 1930s La Révolution surréaliste edited by André Breton Documents edited by Georges Bataille and Minotaure edited by Breton and others The book asks general questions about the production and deployment of meaning through photographs but addresses more specifically the construction of a Surrealist practice of photography through the gesture of borrowing and re-contextualization and reveals something crucial both about Surrealist strategies and about the way photographs operate The book is structured around four case studies including scientific photographs of an hysteric in Charcot's clinic at the Salpêtrière hospital positioned as poetry rather than pathology and one of the first crime scene photographs depicting Jack the Ripper's last victim radically transformed into a work of art Linda Steer traces the trajectory of the found photographs from their first location to their location in a Surrealist periodical Her study shows that the act of removal and re-framing highlights the instability and mutability of photographic meaning an instability and mutability that has consequences for our understanding both of photography and of Surrealism in the 1920s and 1930s

Mouchtouris,2019-06-07T00:00:00+02:00 Cet ouvrage traite d'un sujet d'une extrême actualité la destruction et le rapt culturel vritable appropriation des biens et des œuvres de l'esprit La domination n'est pas que matérielle ou reposant sur la gestion du sol mais est aussi intellectuelle Elle sert à falsifier l'histoire et à posséder un peuple de son passé tout en l'ignorant A partir du XVIIIe siècle nous avons assisté dans l'histoire à un réel déplacement des biens culturels à l'instar de ceux des êtres humains et des matières premières La puissance d'un État est représentée par la mise à disposition de l'autre provoquant chez les pays dominés un traumatisme social dans la formation de l'identité Faire table rase du passé de ce passé qui dérange Cela démontre la façon dont le passé culturel fait peur Se l'approprier ou le détruire sont des façons d'attaquer l'intime de la formation de l'identité de l'autre afin que celui-ci ne puisse pas s'exprimer ou se révolter pour atteindre son autonomie The Museum of French Monuments 1795-1816 Alexandra Stara,2017-07-05 The first volume in two centuries on Alexandre Lenoir's Museum of French Monuments in Paris this study presents a comprehensive picture of a seminal project of French Revolutionary cultural policy one crucial to the development of the modern museum institution The book offers a new critical perspective of the Museum's importance and continuing relevance to the history of material culture and collecting through juxtaposition with its main opponent the respected connoisseur and theorist Quatrem de Quincy This innovative approach highlights the cultural and intellectual context of the debate situating it in the dilemmas of emerging modernity the idea of nationhood and changing attitudes to art and its histories Open only from 1795 to 1816 the Museum of French Monuments was at once popular and controversial The salvaged sculptures and architectural fragments that formed its collection presented the first chronological panorama of French art which drew the public it also drew the ire of critics who saw the Museum as an offense against the monuments' artistic integrity Underlying this localized conflict were emerging ideas about the nature of art and its relationship to history which still define our understanding of notions of heritage monument and the museum Decolonial Heritage Aníbal Arregui,Gesa Mackenthun,Stephanie Wodianka,2018 The volume attempts to triangulate three vibrant discourses of our times It combines postcolonial and decolonial readings of cultural conflicts with assessments of ecological dimensions of those conflicts as well as their significance within discourses on natural and cultural world heritage The examples from four continents range from the medieval Middle East already shaken by a convergence of ecological and social disaster to modern imaginary constructions of medieval Vikings the persistence of Indigenous knowledge in the Arctic literary poetics of patrimony and the heritage politics of Mediterranean urban architecture Authors ask which strategies societies in developing countries use to defend their cultural and ecological uniqueness and integrity while being penetrated by environmental hazards and hegemonizing Western forms of heritage culture or how western societies construct their own past in ways that are sometimes reminiscent of traditional imaginations of a pre-modern past petrified eternally in an ideal moment of time Colonial and historical forms of heritagization of human and non human environments the essays show answer to pressing emotional needs for a sense of stability But the desire for nostalgia frequently commodified tends to collide with the similarly pressing need for political and economic survival in a rapidly changing world and in the face of accelerating extraction practices Without being able to solve this dilemma the volume makes an interdisciplinary contribution to taking intellectual stake of the asymmetrical politics and poetics of heritage and collective cultural memory

The Museum of French Monuments 1795-1816 Alexandra Stara, 2013 The first volume in two centuries on Alexandre Lenoir's Museum of French Monuments in Paris this study presents a comprehensive picture of a seminal project of French Revolutionary cultural policy one crucial to the development of the modern museum institution The book offers a new critical perspective of the Museum's importance and continuing relevance to the history of material culture and collecting through juxtaposition with its main opponent the respected connoisseur and theorist Quatremere de Quincy This innovative approach highlights the cultural and intellectual context of the debate situating it in the dilemmas of emerging modernity the idea of nationhood and changing attitudes to art and its histories Open only from 1795 to 1816 the Museum of French Monuments was at once popular and controversial The salvaged sculptures and architectural fragments that formed its collection presented the first chronological panorama of French art which drew the public it also drew the ire of critics who saw the Museum as an offense against the monuments artistic integrity Underlying this localized conflict were emerging ideas about the nature of art and its relationship to history which still define our understanding of notions of heritage monument and the museum visant la gestion l'aménagement et la création des territoires At Home in Postwar France Nicole C. Rudolph, 2015-03-01

After World War II France embarked on a project of modernization which included the development of the modern mass home At Home in Postwar France examines key groups of actors state officials architects sociologists and tastemakers arguing that modernizers looked to the home as a site for social engineering and nation building designers and advocates of the modern home contributed to the democratization of French society and the French home of the Trente Glorieuses as it was built and inhabited was a hybrid product of architects planners and residents understandings of modernity This volume identifies the right to comfort as an invention of the postwar period and suggests that the modern mass home played a vital role in shaping new expectations for well being and happiness A Frenchwoman's Imperial Story Rebecca Rogers, 2013-01-16 Eugénie Luce was a French schoolteacher who fled her husband and abandoned her family migrating to Algeria in the early 1830s By the mid 1840s she had become a major figure in debates around educational policies insisting that women were a critical dimension of the French effort to effect a fusion of the races To aid this fusion she founded the first French school for Muslim girls in Algiers in 1845 which thrived until authorities cut off her funding in 1861 At this point she switched from teaching spelling grammar and sewing to embroidery an endeavor that attracted the attention of prominent British feminists and gave her school a celebrated reputation for generations The portrait of this remarkable woman reveals the role of women and girls in the imperial projects of the time and sheds light on why they have disappeared from the historical record since then
