Building Coalitions, Making Policy Martin A. Levin,Daniel DiSalvo,Martin M. Shapiro,2012-06-04 This collection of essays examines the efforts of policymakers from three presidential administrations to produce lasting policy changes The Health Debate 2nd Edition David J. Hunter,2008-09-24 Health care systems across the world are in a state of permanent revolution as they struggle to cope with multiple pressures arising from changing demography new technologies and limited resources Focusing on the British National Health Service NHS this book offers a fresh look at how it has coped with such pressures over its 60 year history and considers what the future holds The book explores the complexity of health policy and health services offering a critical perspective on their development A number of tensions are evident in contemporary health policy and the book is organised around a selection of these including the funding of health systems and the changing mix of public and private arrangements the capture of medicine by management the imbalance between health and health care and the growing emphasis on markets and competition in health care systems The health debate offers a lively and accessible reassessment of successive reforms of the NHS and their cyclical nature Two unique features of the book are its breadth and the assembly in one publication of a range of interrelated and largely unresolved policy puzzles It will appeal to all students of health care and health policy and to policy makers and health care professionals BOOK JACKET Navigating the Cultures of Health Care and Health Insurance Nina Zeldes,2023-04-20 What are the barriers preventing migrants from accessing and successfully utilizing health care in their new home country Do these barriers vary across different migrant origin countries And are they still a problem for highly skilled migrants who often have well paid jobs and health insurance provided by their employers Based on field research conducted in the Washington D C area Navigating the Cultures of Health Care and Health Insurance takes a mixed methods qualitative and quantitative approach to the study of foreign patients utilization and assessment of health care in the US Through interviews with both health care providers and patients attitudes towards US health insurance and medical treatment are compared for migrants from three countries with very different cultural backgrounds and health insurance systems Germany India and Japan Combined with an in depth literature review historical and contemporary surveys of health care across countries and analysis of health related terms in the media the results of this research indicate that foreign patients barriers to good health care persist despite access to health care services and insurance coverage and reveal recurring transnational care seeking patterns such as bringing medicines from abroad delaying treatment for medical visits insurance juggling and more By describing their difficulties in integrating into the US health care system the migrants in this study show the challenges and the potential for improvements in providing the care that migrants need in their new home
