production system and improves people's livelihoods. It takes an integrated approach using one watershed in Ethiopia as a laboratory or model case study to focus on the interaction and interdependence between land, water, crops, soil, water harvesting, supplemental irrigation, forestry, socio-economic aspects, livestock, and farm tools. A range of linked studies was conducted with active participation of the farming community and other relevant stakeholders such as the local offices of agriculture and extension services. The starting point for the work was the premise that previous efforts to solve farming system constraints using a piecemeal approach or discipline-specific focus have not been successful. Thus, addressing agricultural and environmental constraints through a holistic approach enables the generation of comprehensive technologies to sustainably improve the natural resource base and livelihoods of communities. The authors discuss trade-offs and resource allocation, demonstrating how the environment can be protected while also improving productivity. A unique feature is the methodology developed for the selection of suitable fields and farmers to implement new approaches or improved technologies to achieve production increases while reducing degradation of sensitive agro-ecosystems. It is also shown how the watershed scale is a valuable basis for assessing the protection of fragile lands.

Rural Education in China: Policy and Development (1978 - 2018) Wu Zhihui, 2025-09-23. This book reveals the policy changes and profound transformations in rural education in China over the past 40 years of reform and opening up. The book emphasizes the need to accurately address the relationship between urban and rural educational development, adopt an integrated urban-rural education mindset, and establish a mechanism for promoting balanced development by linking urban and rural areas, advancing overall progress, and ensuring urban-rural integration. This will comprehensively revitalize rural education. We must treat the development of rural education as the most foundational livelihood project and regard promoting fairness and justice in urban-rural education as a long-term task focusing on balance, strengthening the foundation, and addressing shortcomings. We must adhere to the rule of law in education, enhance and improve the leadership of the party and government over rural education, and correctly guide public opinion and manage societal mindset. We must strengthen research on rural education, make top-level designs for the future development of rural education, and inspire innovative vitality among grassroots educators, effectively conducting rural education modernization experiments to lay a solid foundation for achieving the fundamental modernization of socialism with Chinese characteristics.

Capitalism and Agrarian Change Muchtar Habibi, 2022-11-17. Small-scale agricultural producers in the peripheral world are often condescendingly assumed to be a single social class, the peasantry, to be pitted against the state or corporation This book challenges this rather idealistic view by demonstrating that under current capitalist social relations competition efficiency and productivity and profit maximisation these agricultural producers have been differentiated into different agrarian classes by exploitation By comparing two different contexts of local agrarian change in Indonesia rice cultivation in Java and oil palm in Sumatra this book exposes the different class locations of the agrarian classes among petty agricultural producers and the class relations between them These are often inextricably linked to gender clanship and generational issues The power of class dynamics crucially shapes how agricultural production in both rice and oil palm is organised The share received by different agrarian classes from the production site then prominently shapes the different nature of class reproduction for each agrarian class This analysis demonstrates that the different agrarian classes possess different capacities and responses in their relation to the state or corporations Any real emancipation attempt in the Indonesian countryside and beyond must start from a proper understanding of these class dynamics This book marks a significant contribution to the literature on agrarian change the political economy of development rural development and Marxist political economy
