Economic Decentralization and Public Management Reform Maureen Mackintosh, Rathin Roy, 1999 Scholars of economics and business most from Britain and especially the University of Manchester consider the political economy of public management reform They report research findings on privatization and decentralization in both industrialized and aid dependent countries concentrating on the meso level of institutional response Combining theory case studies and institutional analysis they look at public private partnerships public finance and aid allocation Academics and researchers in development studies and economics political economy and international public management and policy makers may find this volume of interest

New Public Management in Africa Benon C. Basheka, Lukamba-Muhiya. Tshombe, 2017-08-25 The administrative sciences have been dominated by a turn to managerial perspectives in the late 20th and early 21st centuries and in the spirit of this turn New Public Management or NPM promises to produce efficient responsible and client oriented public services The reforms carried out in the pursuit of New Public Management are often accompanied by great optimism and rapid enthusiastic steps toward implementation Even in highly developed industrial countries however these fundamental reforms often overlook the political and cultural contexts of the implementing country New Public Management in Africa Emerging Issues and Lessons provides much needed theoretical foundations for NPM reforms in the African context and reflects on the success of existing reforms in the development of several African states The individual contributions in this timely volume provide important analyses of academic discourse practical policy achievements and desiderata The book as a whole however provides a valuable impetus for public administration research in and on African states sharing findings on the results of reforms to date and adjustments required for these reforms to succeed For public administration researchers outside of Africa this book offers a review of New Public Management case studies that are unavailable or difficult to find elsewhere contributing much to the exchange between African and Western administration science research and demonstrating that African administrative research is well prepared to help resolve global challenges

The African Journal of Finance and Management, 2003

Eliminating Human Poverty Santosh Mehrotra, Enrique Delamonica, 2008-02-29 This book focuses on the provision of basic social services in particular access to education health and water supplies as the central building blocks of any human development strategy The authors concentrate on how these basic social services can be financed and delivered more effectively to achieve the internationally agreed Millennium Development Goals Their analysis which departs from the dominant macro economic paradigm deploys the results of broad ranging research they led at UNICEF and UNDP investigating the record on basic social services of some 30 developing countries In seeking to learn from these new data they develop an analytical argument around two potential synergies at the macro level between poverty reduction human development and economic growth and at the micro level between interventions to provide basic social services Policymakers they argue can integrate macro economic and social policy Fiscal monetary and other macro economic policies can be compatible with social sector requirements They make the case that policymakers have more flexibility than is usually presented by orthodox writers and international financial institutions and that if policymakers engaged in alternative macro economic and growth oriented policies this could lead to the expansion of human capabilities and the fulfillment of human rights This book explores some of these policy options The book also argues that more than just additional aid is needed Specific strategic shifts in the areas of aid policy decentralized governance health and education policy and the private public mix in service provision are a prerequisite to achieve the goals of human development The combination of governance reforms and fiscal and macro economic policies outlined in this book can eliminate human poverty in the span of a generation     Austerity, Welfare and Work David Etherington, 2020-09-15

David Etherington provides bold and fresh perspectives on the link between welfare policy and employment relations as he assesses their fundamental impact on social inequalities Exploring how reforms including Universal Credit have reinforced employment and social insecurity he assesses the role of NGOs trade unions and policymakers in challenging this increasingly work focused welfare agenda Drawing on international and national case studies the book reviews developments including rising job insecurity low pay and geographical inequalities considered integral to neoliberal approaches to social spending Etherington sets out the possibilities and challenges of alternative approaches and progressive new paths for welfare the labour market and social rights
