EU Economic Policy at the Dawn of the Century Patrick M. Crowley,2008 The European Union EU has undergone remarkable change in the last century from frequent conflicts in the first part of the last century to peace stability and unprecedented prosperity in the second half As we move into the first half of the twenty first century there is also a sense that a fragile economic renaissance is underway in the EU but one that is fraught with challenges and difficulties Contrary to many of the vociferous critics of the single currency project mostly US economists and some UK politicians most notably Thatcher 2002 to date the project has met with remarkable success despite the dramatic fall in the euro from its launch date and the strains imposed on EU economies following the recent downturn in the world economy EU Enlargement has now been successfully completed and although there have been painful discussions on EU institutional reform to accommodate the expansion a breakdown in the 2005 budget negotiations and an controversy over the implementation of the Stability and Growth pact it is likely that this will not impede the addition of new Member States from the east

Although most existing literature is either policy-oriented or institution-oriented, this textbook employs a different, more comprehensive approach. Not only does it analyze selected EU laws and most EU institutions, it is also unique in that it brings together EU public administration, EU institutions, and most importantly, EU policies into a comprehensive text. Divided into five parts, the book provides an overview of theory, discourses on European integration, followed by an analysis of the development of European organizations. The transatlantic link still dominates the EU's external relations, but the cohesion of the Euro-American relationship has been tested severely. Moreover, the transition of Central and Eastern Europe and the rise of new growth poles in Asia and Latin America have not only created new opportunities for trade and investment but intensified international competition at the same time. The volume is organized in two parts. Part I focuses on the competitiveness of the EU and its position in the world economy, as well as on specific aspects of its external economic policies, including the restructuring of the Common Agricultural Policy and the enlargement of the EU membership.
