Ecourbanism Sustainable Human Settlements 60 Case Studies:

Ecourbanism, sustainable human settlements Miguel Ruano, 1999 Suitable for those involved in the field of urban design and planning this book presents the state of the art in sustainable development master planning setting out mostly in a graphic format and by means of 60 illustrated case studies what is considered best practice in the field     The Whole Building Handbook Varis Bokalders, Maria Block, 2010-02-09 The Whole Building Handbook is a compendium of all the issues and strategies that architects need to understand to design and construct sustainable buildings for a sustainable society The authors move beyond the current definition of sustainability in architecture which tends to focus on energy efficiency to include guidance for architecture that promotes social cohesion personal health renewable energy sources water and waste recycling systems permaculture energy conservation and crucially buildings in relation to their place The authors offer a holistic approach to sustainable architecture and authoritative technical advice on How to design and construct healthy buildings through choosing suitable materials healthy service systems and designing a healthy and comfortable indoor climate including solutions for avoiding problems with moisture radon and noise as well as how to facilitate cleaning and maintenance How to design and construct buildings that use resources efficiently where heating and cooling needs and electricity use is minimized and water saving technologies and garbage recycling technologies are used How to close organic waste sewage heat and energy cycles For example how to design a sewage system that recycles nutrients Includes a section on adaptation of buildings to local conditions looking at how a site must be studied with respect to nature climate and community structure as well as human activities The result is a comprehensive thoroughly illustrated and carefully structured textbook and reference     EcoVillage at Ithaca Liz Walker, 2005-05-01 The compelling story of an internationally recognized example of sustainable development     Regenerative-Adaptive Design for Sustainable Development Phillip B. Roös, 2020-09-15 In this book the author tests a regenerative adaptive pattern language theory towards investigating the possibilities of a holistic integrated design and planning method for sustainable development that incorporates the principles of regenerative design as well as an adaptive pattern language that re establishes our wholeness with nature and considers the vulnerabilities of a changing landscape The book examines an integral approach to contemporary theories of planning and design that explores the human nature relationship patterns in social and spatial interconnections between people and their natural environments The interconnectedness of human and natural systems is used to scaffold possible solutions to address key environmental and sustainability issues that specifically address the need for patterns of behaviour that acknowledge the duality of man and nature In 12 chapters the book presents a holistic regenerative adaptive pattern language that encapsulates how communities can better appreciate landscape change under future climate effects and acknowledges the importance to adapt to patterns of change of place and the environment and therefore inform the communities responses for sustainable development The application of the regenerative adaptive pattern language was tested along the Great Ocean Road region of the Victorian coast in Australia The concluding chapters argues that for human settlements and cities to be resilient and sustainable we must understand the interconnected patterns of human built environments and natural systems and how we function in a social spatial dimension with these The book is intended for practitioners and academic scholars with interest in sustainable development regenerative design pattern languages biophilia settlement planning and climate change adaptation     Sustainable Cities Development and Environment Protection Nu Wen Xu,Li Tian,Feng Dai,2013-08-08 Selected peer reviewed papers from the 2013 International Conference on Civil Architecture and Building Materials 3rd CEABM 2013 May 24 26 2013 Jinan China     Scenes and Communities in the City Marta Klekotko,2023-12-04 This open access book addresses the problem of creation and reproduction processes of contemporary urban communities as well as cultural mechanisms and factors of these processes Rejecting both the environmental determinism and cultural reductionism of community studies the book assumes that the postmodern city is a space of diverse urban communities that go far beyond the traditional concept of neighbourhood as well as personal and imagined communities and thus proposes to comprehend urban community as social practice embedded in urban space The book applies the Theory of Social Practice and the Theory of Scenes and develops the concept of socio cultural opportunity structures in order to explain how cultural practices of individuals and symbolic dimensions of territory interact leading to re production of various forms of urban community It is assumed that culture in general and symbolic meanings of territory in particular play a crucial role in the process of re production of urban communities that this process takes place in collective cultural consciousness and is mediated by territorially embedded cultural practices of individuals The book overcomes theoretical gaps in classical community studies and develops a new perspective on urban communal processes based on the analysis of social practices in urban cultural scenes     Advances in the Leading Paradigms of Urbanism and their Amalgamation Simon Elias Bibri,2020-06-20 This book explores the recent advances in the leading paradigms of urbanism namely compact cities eco cities and data driven smart cities and the evolving approach to their amalgamation under the umbrella term of smart sustainable cities It addresses these advances by investigating how and to what extent the strategies of compact cities and eco cities and their merger have been enhanced and strengthened through new planning and development practices and are being supported and leveraged by the applied solutions pertaining to data driven smart cities The ultimate goal is to advance sustainability and harness its synergistic effects on multiple scales This entails developing and implementing more effective approaches to the balanced integration of the three dimensions of sustainability as well as to producing combined effects of the strategies and solutions of the prevailing approaches to urbanism that are greater than the sum of their separate effects in terms of the tripartite value of sustainability Sustainable urban development is today seen as one of the keys towards unlocking the quest for a sustainable world And the big data revolution is set to erupt in cities throughout the world heralding an era where instrumentation datafication and computation are increasingly pervading the very fabric of cities and the spaces we live in thanks to the IoT Big data and the IoT technologies are seen as powerful forces that have tremendous potential for advancing urban sustainability Indeed they are instigating a massive change in the way sustainable cities can tackle the kind of special conundrums wicked problems and significant challenges they inherently embody as complex systems They offer a multitudinous array of innovative solutions and sophisticated approaches informed by groundbreaking research and data driven science As such they are becoming essential to the functioning of sustainable cities Besides yet knowing to what extent we are making progress towards sustainable cities is problematic adding to the fragmented conflicting picture that arises of change on the ground in the face of the escalating rate and scale of urbanization and in the light of emerging ICT and its novel applications In a nutshell new circumstances require new responses This timely and multifaceted book is intended for a wide readership As such it will appeal to researchers academics urban scientists urbanists planners designers policy makers and futurists as well as all readers interested in sustainable cities and their ongoing and future data driven transformation

Ecopolis Paul F. Downton, 2008-11-19 From 2008 for the first time in human history half of the world's population now live in cities Yet despite a wealth of literature on green architecture and planning there is to date no single book which draws together theory from the full range of disciplines from architecture planning and ecology which we must come to grips with if we are to design future cities which are genuinely sustainable Paul Downton's Ecopolis takes a major step along this path It highlights the urgent need to understand the role of cities as both agents of change and means of survival at a time when climate change has finally grabbed world attention and it provides a framework for designing cities that integrates knowledge both academic and practical from a range of relevant disciplines Identifying key theorists practitioners places and philosophies the book provides a solid theoretical context which introduces the concept of urban fractals and goes on to present a series of design and planning tools for achieving Sustainable Human Ecological Development SHED Combining knowledge from diverse fields to present a synthesis of urban ecology the book will provide a valuable resource for students researchers and practitioners in architecture construction planning geography and the traditional life sciences

The Sustainable City XII C.A. Brebbia, J.J. Sendra, 2017-12-20 Grouping a selection of papers from the 12th International Conference on Urban Regeneration and Sustainability this book refers to all aspects of urban environment and provides solutions that lead towards sustainability The series maintains its strong reputation and a substantial number of contributions have been made from a diverse range of transnational delegates resulting in a variety of topics and experiences Urban areas face a number of challenges related to reducing pollution improving main transportation and infrastructure systems and these challenges can contribute to the development of social and economic imbalances and require the development of new solutions The challenge is to manage human activities pursuing welfare and prosperity in the urban environment whilst considering the relationships between the parts and their connections with the living world The dynamics of its networks flows of energy matter people goods information and other resources are fundamental for an understanding of the evolving nature of today's cities. Large cities represent a productive ground for architects, engineers, city planners, social and political scientists, able to conceive new ideas and time them according to technological advances and human requirements. The multidisciplinary components of urban planning, the challenges presented by the increasing size of cities, the amount of resources required and the complexity of modern society are all addressed. The published papers cover the following fields: Urban strategies, Planning, development and management, The community and the city, Infrastructure and society, Eco town planning, Spatial conflicts in the city, Urban transportation and planning, Conservation and regeneration, Architectural issues, Sustainable energy and the city, Environmental management, Flood risk, Waste management, Urban air pollution, Health issues, Water resources, Landscape planning and design, Intelligent environment, Planning for risk and natural hazards, Waterfront development, Case studies.

Environmental Policy is Social Policy – Social Policy is Environmental Policy Isidor Wallimann, 2014-07-08. This book argues that social and environmental policy should be synthetically treated as one and the same field, that both are but two aspects of the same coin if sustainability is the goal. Such a paradigm shift is indicated, important and timely to effectively move towards sustainability. This book is the first to take this approach and to give examples for it. Not to synthetically merge the two fields has been and will continue to be highly insufficient, inefficient and contradictory for policy and public administration aiming for a transformation towards a sustainable world. In general, social problems are dealt with in one policy corner and environmental problems in another. Rarely is social policy at large concerned with its impact on the environment or its connection with and relevance to environmental policy. Equally, environmental problems are generally not seen in conjunction with social policy, even though much environmental policy directly relates to health, nutrition, migration and other issues addressed by social policy. This book intends to correct the pattern to separate these very significant and large policy fields. Using examples from diverse academic and applied fields, it is shown how environmental policy can and should be thought of as social policy and how social policy can and should simultaneously be seen as environmental policy. Tremendous benefits are to be expected.

North-South University Research Partnerships in Latin America and the Caribbean Gustavo Gregorutti, Nanette Svenson, 2018-06-06. This volume examines research productivity within schools in Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC) and presents examples of various successful LAC North-South programs which have propelled university research in the region. Much of the scholarly work on North-South research to date has concentrated principally on joint publications and co-authorship bibliometrics. In this book, cases are explored within the context of study on international research collaborations to highlight the motivations, mechanics, limitations and success factors involved in the North-South relationships and their resulting research output.

Innate Terrain Alissa North, 2022-12-01. Innate Terrain addresses the varied perceptions of Canada's natural terrain, framing the discussion in the context of landscapes designed by Canadian landscape architects. This edited collection draws on contemporary works to theorize a distinct approach practiced by Canadian landscape architects from across the country.

The essays authored by Canadian scholars and practitioners some of whom are Indigenous or have worked closely with Indigenous communities are united by the argument that Canadian landscape architecture is intrinsically linked to the innate qualities of the surrounding terrain Beautifully illustrated Innate Terrain aims to capture distinct regional qualities that are rooted in the broader context of the Canadian landscape

Sustainable Architecture and Urbanism Dominique Gauzin-Müller, 2002-07-01 Since the mid 1980s and in particular the 1992 environmental summit in Rio de Janeiro sustainability has become a global issue and the subject of international debate In the context of architecture sustainability implies the use of intelligent technology innovative construction methods ecologically friendly materials and use of environmentally friendly energy resources This book begins with an overview of the various approaches and developments in sustainable architecture followed by an in depth section on urbanism looking at several European towns In the third section the technologies materials and methods of ecological architecture are examined Concluding the volume are 23 sophisticated and innovative European case studies The author and architect Dominique Gauzin Müller has specialised on energy and environmental issues and ecological architecture for over 15 years

Innovations Durables / Appropriate Sustainabilities Marc Emery, 2002-10-25 Whilst France's contemporary architecture is highly regarded throughout the world her architects have hardly been leading protagonists in the debate on ecological building The developments featured in this book however should serve to correct this impression Between 1999 2002 Electricité de France EDF initiated an ambitious research programme to bring together first class architects and innovative technologies involving renewable energy strategies to reduce energy consumption newly developed software programs to support ecologically oriented architectural design etc The goal was to create sustainable and aesthetically pleasing architecture This book documents the submissions from both established and younger architects Amongst those included are Jacques Ferrier Christian Hauvette Marc Mimram and François Roche

VERSUS: Heritage for Tomorrow Correia, Mariana, Dipasquale, Letizia, Mecca, Saverio, 2014 Vernacular architecture represents a great resource that has considerable potential to define principles for sustainable design and contemporary architecture This publication is the result of an overall aim to produce a valuable tool for analysis regarding vernacular heritage through different assessments in order to define principles to consider for sustainable development This was possible through a comprehensive reflection on the principles established and the strategies to recognise in different world contexts The present publication was the result of an in depth approach by 46 authors from 12 countries concerned with the analysis and critical assessment of vernacular heritage and its sustainable perspective The book presents 8 chapters addressing operational definitions and synopses advances regarding the main areas of vernacular heritage contribution to sustainable architecture It also presents 15 chapters and 53 case studies of vernacular and contemporary approaches in all the 5 continents regarding urban architectural technical and constructive strategies and solutions
