The American Church that Might Have Been Keith Watkins, 2014-11-03 During a forty year period ending in 2002 leaders of major American churches tried to unite their members ministries and public service in a new church they named A Church of Christ Uniting Participating in this movement were four Methodist Churches the Episcopal Church the nation s largest Presbyterian Church the United Church of Christ the Christian Church Disciples of Christ and the International Council of Community Churches With a membership of close to twenty million this church would have been spread throughout the nation more fully than any other church except the Roman Catholic Leaders of the movement believed that this union would enable church members to experience their Christian life more fully It would heal divisions that had existed since the Protestant Reformation 450 years earlier and displace the denominational system that was increasingly dysfunctional By coming together in a new way these churches could work more effectively at overcoming problems in American life especially the challenges related to racism Although the Consultation on Church Union COCU closed before converting its vision into a new form of the church it had a significant effect on these churches and the nation This is a story that needs to be remembered Modern Western Christian

Theological Understandings of Muslims Since the Second Vatican Council Mahmut Aydin, 2002 Transforming Renewal Andy Lord, 2015-01-12 Pentecostal and charismatic renewal movements have seen great growth over the last century and have engaged with many Christian traditions Yet there are signs that all is not well and there is a need to develop theologies of renewal that engage with practice and across the traditions if the movements are to continue to grow In particular this book seeks an ecumenical engagement between David Watson and Thomas Merton leaders in the charismatic and monastic renewal movements The aim is to reflect on the theological roots of these renewal movements through a study of particular people who lived them in practice and sought to help others understand how the triune God was at work This is done against the wider background of contemporary renewal theology to develop constructive proposals for renewal theology in the future Receptive ecumenism provides the method for bringing the different voices into conversation in ways that also point forward in approaches to ecumenical dialogue It is thus a study relevant to those seeking new ways in theology those involved in renewal and ecumenical movements students of Thomas Merton and all who seek to better understand the Christian renewal movements that have swept the world Development Beyond the Secular Catherine Loy, 2017-09-30 The intersection of religion and development has for some decades been considered contentious with scholars of both disciplines inhibited by the constraints of either the religious or the secular paradigm they primarily inhabit Development Beyond the Secular aims to provide a new resource for those interested in the study of religions and development primarily postgraduate and academic and for those development practitioners wishing to contextualize their discipline within a religious frame Using the work of Christian Aid as its primary lens this book examines and critiques the theological underpinnings of development work and questions how Christian values are manifest through day to day work in the world of poverty eradication Communion, Diversity, and Salvation Brian Flanagan, 2011-06-09 Questions surrounding the understanding of communion are a significant feature of much contemporary ecclesiology but their prominence calls attention to wider questions regarding ecclesiological method Brian Flanagan addresses the questions of how to characterize a systematic ecclesiology and the possibility of a systematic communion ecclesiology through an investigation of the concept of communion in the work of Jean Marie Tillard OP Tillard's theology is noted as the most prominent Roman Catholic communion ecclesiology Flanagan argues that Tillard contributes to systematic ecclesiology by defining the concept of communion in relation to Christology soteriology and theological anthropology thereby framing an answer to the contemporary question of ecclesial unity and diversity The book also assesses the danger of idealism in Tillard's thought and suggests that further engagement with social scientific study of the church will help strengthen nuance and critique Tillard's idea of communion New & Enlarged Handbook of Christian Theology Donald W. Musser, Joseph Price, 2011-09-01 This handbook provides thorough introductory articles on important themes in Christian theology Along with cross references and select bibliographies it is an indispensable reference source The Handbook consists of 148 topical entries arranged alphabetically Instead of a Table of Contents a Routes For Reading page suggests related entries and cross referencing makes surfing this volume easier than ever The Spirit-Baptized Church Frank D. Macchia, 2020-04-16 Frank D Macchia argues that the Son of God baptized and continues to baptize humanity in the Spirit by pouring forth the Spirit on the Day of Pentecost All four Gospels and the book of Acts describe how the Son is sent of the Father and empowered by the Spirit to fulfil this mission Macchia in turn claims that Christ succeeds by incorporating others into himself and into the love of the Father The Spirit Baptized Church proposes a richly pneumatological ecclesiology that is dominated by a Pentecostal confessional concern while also open to a larger ecumenical conversation The volume focuses not only on the dogmatic Trinitarian foundations and election processes of the Spirit baptized church but also on its marks and witnessing practices As an exceptionally detailed study of the Spirit baptismal metaphor this volume is a valuable resource for scholars of ecclesiology Pentecostalism and systematic theology The Concept of "Sister Churches" in Catholic-Orthodox Relations since Vatican II Will T. Cohen, 2017-09-28 Often invoked between Vatican II and the end of the twentieth century by both Orthodox and Catholic officials across their confessional division the expression sister churches reflected their growing rapprochement as well as a shift on the Catholic side from a more centralized ecclesiology to one more attentive to the local church and conciliarity Pope John Paul II in his 1995 encyclical Ut Unum Sint spoke significantly of a doctrine of sister churches that would help guide the Catholic and Orthodox toward unity along a path of mutual respect rather than either tradition's submission to the other In his comprehensive treatment of the history of the expression sister churches over half a century of Catholic Orthodox relations Dr Will Cohen explores why the concept developed as it did why it was so fiercely contested and what remains vital about the concept today In the process Dr Cohen illuminates the ways in which Catholic and Orthodox ecclesiology respectively is each most capable of renewing and sustaining its proper balance when open to the authentic gifts of the other
