Functional Ecology of Woodlands and Forests J.R. Packham,D.J. Harding,1992-05-31 Functional Ecology of Woodlands is firmly based on the factors which govern the composition of woodland communities but goes on to explore the dynamics of interactions between various ecosystem components This is an authoritative text on the functioning of forest ecosystems which will also assist readers to reach informed decisions about issues such as the greenhouse effect acid precipitation the greening of cities and agroforestry Wytham Woods Peter Savill,Christopher Perrins,Keith Kirby,Nigel Fisher,2011-06-02 This iconic location has been the subject of a series of continuous ecological research programmes dating back to the 1920s which has provided a level of continuity that is extremely rare For the first time this book tells the Wytham story in a way that is accessible to both scientist and general reader alike Woodland Habitats Mark Frater,Helen J. Read,2005-07-12 Woodland habitats explores the history and ecology of British woodland and explains why they are such a valuable resource It examines the wide range of different types of woodland habitats and the typical species that live within them It offers a practical guide to all the key woodland issues including conservation and management coppicing grazing in woodlands fire breaks recreation management for game pasture woodland and commercial forestry Woodland Habitats also includes a guide to notable sites with location maps and illustrations suggested practical projects and a full glossary of terms Muntjac and Water Deer Arnold Cooke,2019-04-22 Muntjac and water deer were introduced to Britain from East Asia This book provides a comprehensive overview of their natural history and the management of their environmental impacts In lowland England muntjac deer are one of the drivers of changes in woodland structure and species composition and many of the principles relating to such woodland impact are also applicable to the activities of other species of deer Interest in environmental impacts of deer is not solely restricted to woodlands The highest densities of water deer occur in wetlands where there is potential for conflict and considerable numbers are also found on agricultural land Muntjac have also settled in suburbia and frequently cause impacts there Conservationists and national decision makers are concerned both about invasive alien species and about increasing deer populations The first section covers the natural history of both species including breeding biology deer in the field colonisation of Britain a detailed look at colonisation in a single county methods for studying deer populations and a review of deer population numbers The second section covers environmental impact risk assessment impact management control of muntjac effect of muntjac browsing and grazing habitat recovery from muntjac impacts and a study on the impacts of water deer The section concludes with an overview of management and monitoring The costs and benefits of both species are discussed and questions asked about whether we are getting on top of problems caused by muntjac locally and nationally and will water deer turn out to be similar to muntjac Attitudes and approaches to these species are changing with water deer we are actively studying whether it might be an environmental problem not waiting until after it has obviously become one What will happen to distribution numbers impacts and attitudes in the future Will water deer ever become a suburban animal What does the future hold for water deer in China and Korea and how important is the English population as a global conservation resource Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1993-05

Farming the Woods Ken Mudge, Steve Gabriel, 2014 Learn how to fill forests with food by viewing agriculture from a remarkably different perspective that a healthy forest can be maintained while growing a wide range of food medicinal and other nontimber products The practices of forestry and farming are often seen as mutually exclusive because in the modern world agriculture involves open fields straight rows and machinery to grow crops while forests are reserved primarily for timber and firewood harvesting In Farming the Woods authors Ken Mudge and Steve Gabriel demonstrate that it doesn't have to be an either/or scenario but a complementary one forest farms can be most productive in places where the plow is not on steep slopes and in shallow soils Forest farming is an invaluable practice to integrate into any farm or homestead especially as the need for unique value added products and supplemental income becomes increasingly important for farmers Many of the daily indulgences we take for granted such as coffee chocolate and many tropical fruits all originate in forest ecosystems But few know that such abundance is also available in the cool temperate forests of North America Farming the Woods covers in detail how to cultivate harvest and market high value nontimber forest crops such as American ginseng shiitake mushrooms ramps wild leeks maple syrup fruit and nut trees ornamentals and more Along with profiles of forest farmers from around the country readers are also provided comprehensive information on historical perspectives of forest farming mimicking the forest in a changing climate cultivation of medicinal crops cultivation of food crops creating a forest nursery harvesting and utilizing wood products the role of animals in the forest farm and how to design your forest farm and manage it once it's established Farming the Woods is an essential book for farmers and gardeners who have access to an established woodland are looking for productive ways to manage it and are interested in incorporating aspects of agroforestry permaculture forest gardening and sustainable woodlot management into the concept of a whole farm organism

Europe's Changing Woods and Forests Keith Kirby, Charles Watkins, 2015-06-30 Our understanding of the ecological history of European forests has been transformed in the last twenty years Bringing together key findings from across the continent this book provides a comprehensive account of the relevance of historical studies to current conservation and management of forests It combines theory with a series of regional case studies to show how different aspects of forestry play out according to the landscape and historical context of the local area Urban Forests and Trees Cecil C. Konijnendijk, 2005-05-20 This multidisciplinary book covers all aspects of planning designing establishing and managing forests and trees and forests in and near urban areas with chapters by experts in forestry horticulture landscape ecology landscape architecture and even plant pathology Beginning with historical and conceptual basics the coverage includes policy design implementation and management of forestry for urban populations Wessex: A Landscape History Hadrian Cook, 2024-04-04 Wessex is famous for its coasts heaths woodlands chalk downland limestone hills and gorges settlements and farmed vales This book provides an account of the physical form development and operation of its landscape as it was shaped by our ancestors Major themes include the development of agriculture settlements industry and transport Biochar Viktor J. Bruckman, 2016-11-24 This state of the art compendium combining theory with practical examples looks at the entire biochar supply chain Managing Habitats for Conservation William J. Sutherland, David Arnold Hill, 1995-05-26 The essential habitat by habitat guide to conservation management for practitioners of ecology and land management The Environmental Legacy of War on the Hungarian-Ottoman Frontier, c. 1540-1690 András Vadas, 2025-10-01 This book is the first monographic attempt to follow the environmental changes that took place in the frontier zone of the Ottoman Empire and the Kingdom of Hungary in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries On the one hand it looks at how the Ottoman Hungarian wars affected the landscapes of the Carpathian Basin specifically the frontier zone On the other hand it examines how the environment was used in the military tactics of the opposing realms By taking into consideration both perspectives this book intends to pursue the dynamic interplay between war environment and local society in the early modern period Landscape Ecological Applications in Man-Influenced Areas Sun-Kee Hong, Nobukazu Nakagoshi, Bojie Fu, Yukihiko Morimoto, 2007-01-29 Landscape Ecological Applications in Man Influenced Areas not only expands the concept of landscape ecology but also applies its principles to man influenced ecosystems New dimensions of landscape ecological research in a global change such as urbanization biodiversity and land transformation are explored in this book The book also includes case studies concerning landscape analysis and evaluation using spatial analysis and landscape modelling for establishing sustainable management strategy in urban and agricultural landscapes Proceedings of the Symposium on the Ecology and Management of Dead Wood in Western Forests, 2002 Handbook of Ecological Restoration Martin R. Perrow, Anthony J. Davy, 2002-09-05 The two volumes of this handbook provide a comprehensive account of the emerging and vibrant science of the ecological restoration of both habitats and species Ecological restoration aims to achieve complete structural and functional self maintaining biological integrity following disturbance In practice any theoretical model is modified by a number of economic social and ecological constraints Consequently material that might be considered as rehabilitation enhancement reconstruction or re creation is also included Restoration in Practice provides details of state of the art restoration practice in a range of biomes within terrestrial and aquatic marine coastal and freshwater ecosystems Policy and legislative issues on all continents are also outlined and discussed The accompanying volume Principles of Restoration defines the underlying principles of restoration ecology The Handbook of Ecological Restoration will be an invaluable resource to anyone concerned with the restoration rehabilitation enhancement or creation of habitats in aquatic or terrestrial systems throughout the world
