Ville,2001 This book brings together the literature in a field which may define the 21st century Can economic and technological progress continue with educational systems which seem to answer to no one but themselves and which output graduates who can barely read and write and who have only the faintest clue how to use a map This bibliography provides access via Title Author and Subject Indexes Contents Educational Accountability Educational Change Educational Equalisation Educational Leadership Educational Planning Educational Indicates      Changing the Grade Jonathan Cornue,2017-01-23 Many educators agree that the 100 point grading model is not always a reliable way to evaluate student learning But is there another way to more accurately and equitably grade students and provide high quality information to parents while fostering student learning If so why haven t school districts across the country changed their practices In Changing the Grade author and educator Jonathan Cornue presents a detailed model for developing a more reliable standards based grading system including 30 steps to guide you through the process In addition to identifying and addressing the barriers to change such as concerns about how colleges and employers will interpret an alternative grading model Cornue offers a concrete structure for changing the grading system providing guidance on Thinking in a new way about why grades are given and the purpose of a report card grade Identifying what needs to be changed and what actions must be taken to facilitate the change Building a team of stakeholders including teachers principals and guidance counselors to lead the change process Developing the new standards based grading structure Designing standards based assignments and assessments that align with a new grading structure Avoiding grade inflation and Getting buy in from teachers and other staff members principals administrators the board of education and the community by demonstrating that the change process is intentional research based student focused and permanent The book also includes helpful samples of standards based gradebooks homework assignments rubrics and report cards If you are interested in making a systemic and systematic shift to a high quality grading structure that is far less subjective than many commonly found in schools consider Changing the Grade      It's Time for a Change Matthew Lynch,2011-12-01 The United States entered the 21st century as the world s sole superpower Our diplomatic strength military might financial resources and technological innovation were and continue to be the envy of the world However in the crucial area of education the U S lags behind many other developed countries Though the U S spends more per student than almost any other country international exams have demonstrated that we consistently perform well behind countries such as South Korea China Japan and Finland in the areas of reading and math There are even more worrying elements at play however Paramount among these is the fact that the U S educational system is becoming ever more stratified Despite efforts such as the George W Bush administration's No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB) the disparity in academic achievement between students from high and low socioeconomic classes continues to grow. The ramifications of this trend are vast. China, Japan, and South Korea understand that well-educated workers are crucial for survival in the competitive global economy. Thus they are placing enormous emphasis on education, ensuring that their students receive instruction not only in foundational reading and math but are also taught to think creatively and solve problems. Their youth are poised to take on and conquer the world. The U.S. on the other hand is losing the battle. School systems are using more money but have less to show for it. Test results, especially among the lower socioeconomic classes, are dismal. America has extraordinary natural resources, a solid functioning democracy, and excellent infrastructure, but unless we can reform our educational system to produce students who are able to take advantage of new technologies and compete in the global economy, we will cede our position as world leader. It's Time for Change. School Reform provides a no-nonsense blueprint for reforming the U.S. educational system in a manner that will ensure that it secures its position as the preeminent world leader.

Beyond the Grade Robert Lynn Canady, Carol E. Canady, Anne Meek, 2017. The current grading system doesn't provide equal opportunity for low-income students and that leads to grade inflation, high dropout rates, productivity loss, and more. To help all students succeed and promote equity in learning, vast changes in grading policies and scheduling are needed. In this research-based resource, the authors examine why current grading practices are ineffective for fostering a growth mindset, including the effect poverty has on student achievement. Beyond the Grade presents an evidence-based case for switching to an equitable standards-based grading system that improves student achievement for diverse student populations. Use this book as a schoolwide study guide to ensure all staff fully understand the school variables that can influence student motivation and enhance achievement for all learners. Access a list of questions that can help bring focus to your discussions about grading practices and overcome opposition to the implementation of standards-based grading.
