Elites Choice Leadership And Succesion:

Elites João de Pina-Cabral, Antónia Pedroso de Lima, 2020-08-28 Wealth and power characterize elites yet despite the strong cultural influences they exert their study remains underdeveloped Partly because of complications resulting from access scholars have tended to focus on groups affected by elite governance rather than on elites themselves It is often overlooked that in order to continue through time elites have to empower new members Choice has to be exercised over who achieves leadership both by reference to the elite group itself and to the wider group over which it holds power This book fills a gap in the current literature by providing the first rigorous interrogation of the choice and succession strategies of elites in various cultural contexts from the transmission and preservation of financial power in urban contexts to the complex relation between subjectivity and the transmission of leadership positions in places as varied as the United States Northern Italy and Lisbon Various elite succession types are discussed from self avowedly traditional leaders to the aristocracy where choice is practically non existent to situations where leaders are elected from among a group of peers The relationship between familial property and choice of successor in landholding families small business enterprises and peasant communities is also examined as are ethnic monopolies

The Anthropology of Elites J. Abbink, T. Salverda, 2012-12-28 Offering insightful anthropological historical contributions to the understanding of elites worldwide this book helps us grasp their ways of life and role in times of contested global inequalities Case studies include the Polish gentry the white former colonial elite of Mauritius professional elites and transnational financial elites

The Franco-Mauritian Elite Tijo Salverda, 2015-04-01 Mauritian independence in 1968 marked the end of a regime favorable to the Franco Mauritians the island's white colonial elite Now in postcolonial Mauritius this group is faced with a much more diverse power constellation and often feels in competition with others vying for their privileges Though this is a clear departure from the colonial heydays Franco Mauritians have been able to continue their elite position into the early twenty first century This book focuses on the power of white elites still lingering on in postcolonial realities and with regards to elites and power in general addresses anew how an elite group aims to prolong its position over time

New Directions in Elite Studies Olav Korsnes, Johan Heilbron, Johs. Hjellbrekke, Felix Bühlmann, Mike Savage, 2017-12-06 Since the financial crisis the issue of the one percent has become the centre of intense public debate unavoidable even for members of the elite themselves Moreover inquiring into elites has taken centre stage once again in both journalistic investigations and academic research New Directions in Elite Studies attempts to move the social scientific study of elites beyond economic analysis which has greatly improved our knowledge of inequality but is restricted to income and wealth In contrast this book mobilizes a broad scope of research methods to uncover the social composition of the power elite the field of power It reconstructs processes through which people gain access to positions in this particular social space examines the various forms of capital they mobilize in the process economic but also cultural and social capital and probes changes over time and variations across national contexts

Bringing together the most advanced research into elites by a European and multidisciplinary group of scholars this book presents an agenda for the future study of elites It will appeal to all those interested in the study of elites inequality class power and gender inequality

A New African Elite Deborah Pellow,2022-03-11 Focusing on a sub set of the Dagomba of northern Ghana this book looks at the first generation to go through secondary school in the north After university and post graduate education they relocate to Accra the capital hundreds of miles south They crossed social and physical space and have become cosmopolitan while holding on to tradition and attachment to their home town This bridge generation are patrons to those living up north This book charts their path into elite status and argues that they use the tools gained through education and social connections to influence politics back home

Elite Cultures Stephen Nugent,Cris Shore,2003-12-16 Drawing on a diverse comparative ethnographic literature this new volume examines the intimate spaces and cultural practices of those elites who occupy positions of power and authority across a variety of different settings Using ethnographic case studies from a wide range of geographical areas including Mexico Peru Amazonia Indonesia Sri Lanka Europe North America and Africa the contributors explore the inner worlds of meaning and practice that define and sustain elite identities They also provide insights into the cultural mechanisms that maintain elite status and into the complex ways that elite groups relate to and are embedded within wider social and historical processes

Diplomacy and lobbying during Turkey's Europeanisation Bilge Firat,2019-09-26 This book presents intricate backstage negotiations of interests and compromises between diplomats and lobbyists through the corridors of power which drove Turkey both closer to and farther apart from the EU

Foodscapes, Foodfields, and Identities in Yucatán Steffan Igor Ayora Díaz,2012 The state of Yucatán has its own distinct culinary tradition and local people are constantly thinking and talking about food They use it as a vehicle for social relations but also to distinguish themselves from Mexicans This book examines the politics surrounding regional cuisine as the author argues that Yucatecan gastronomy has been created and promoted in an effort to affirm the identity of a regional people and to oppose the hegemonic force of central Mexican cultural icons and forms In particular Yucatecan gastronomy counters the homogenizing drive of a national cuisine based on dominant central Mexican appetencies and defies the image of Mexican national cuisine as rooted in indigenous traditions Drawing on post structural and postcolonial theory the author proposes that Yucatecan gastronomy having successfully gained a reputation as distinct and distant from Mexican cuisine is a bifurcation from regional culinary practices However the author warns this leads to a double paradoxical situation that divides the nation while a national cuisine attempts to silence regional cultural diversity the fissures in the project of a homogeneous regional identity are revealed

Researching Values with Qualitative Methods Antje Bednarek-Gilland,2016-03-03 In several branches of social science interest in values and moral evaluations has increased in recent years with group values taking centre stage yet a satisfactory theoretical account of the concept of values and their role in social life remains lacking Engaging with theories of value formation and the role of values in everyday life found in ethics classical sociology and contemporary social theory and their implications for empirical work Researching Values with Qualitative Methods argues for a pragmatist approach both to understanding values and the manner in which they are formed as well as exploring the ways in which they can be studied empirically using qualitative research methods In this way this book promises to resolve many of the practical problems involved in fieldwork with political groups including the prominent question of how to account for the researcher's own values Illustrated with examples from published as well as new research this book provides the foundation for the theoretical understanding of values and their empirical investigation thus strengthening the connection between social theory and the development of research methods As such it will be of interest to sociologists anthropologists and geographers with interests in values social theory and research methodology

Patrons of History Longina Jakubowska, 2016-05-13 This book explores resilience social capital and relationships of power in an examination of the manner in which capital can be converted from one form to another Through a study of the survival of the Polish gentry in spite of the communist regime's attempts to disempower and discredit them through land reform and high profile trials Patrons of History shows how the gentry managed not only to survive as a class but also to remain influential By revitalising older forms of cultural capital invested with education and transnational networks the gentry were able to transform wealth land patronage lifestyle and the ability to define patriotism and authorise a version of history so as to ensure that noble heritage remained an advantageous resource in the face of communist opposition Drawing on rich interview material spanning fifteen years Patrons of History sheds light not only on communism as it existed and the stratification that persisted under such regimes but also on the functioning of relationships of power and the ways in which privilege can be studied in the contemporary world As such this book will appeal to anthropologists sociologists ethnographers and historians interested in cultural and social capital inequality and resistance

Putting People in the Picture, 2007-01-01 Getting the picture constructing and deconstructing the picture finding the picture viewing the picture being in the picture changing the pictures these are all phrases that apply to the fascinating world of putting people in the picture in visual research within the Social Sciences Putting People in the Picture Visual Methodologies for Social Change focuses on the ways in which researchers practitioners and activists are using such techniques as photo voice collaborative video drawings and other visual and arts based tools as modes of inquiry as modes of representation and as modes of disseminating findings in social research The various chapters address methodological analytical interpretive aesthetic technical and ethical concerns in using visual methodologies in work with young people teachers community health care workers and even the self as researcher The range of issues addressed in the work is broad and includes work in the areas of HIV AIDS schooling poverty gender violence race and children's visions for the future While the studies are situated within a variety of social contexts the focus is primarily on work in Southern Africa The book takes up some of the theoretical and practical challenges offered by Visual Sociology Image based Research Media Studies Rural Development and Community based and Participatory Research and in so doing offers audiences an array of visual approaches to studying and bringing about social change An Anthropology of Ethics James D. Faubion, 2011-04-14 Through an ambitious and critical revision of Michel Foucault's investigation of ethics James Faubion develops an original program of empirical inquiry into the ethical domain From an anthropological perspective Faubion argues that Foucault's specification of the analytical parameters of this domain is the most productive point of departure in conceptualizing its distinctive features He further argues that Foucault's framework is in need of substantial revision to be of genuinely anthropological scope In making this revision Faubion illustrates his program with two extended case studies one of a Portuguese marquis and the other of a dual subject made up of the author and a millenarian prophetess The result is a conceptual apparatus that is able to accommodate ethical pluralism and yield an account of the limits of ethical variation providing a novel resolution of the problem of relativism that has haunted anthropological inquiry into ethics since its inception Bodies of Difference Matthew Kohrman, 2005-05-23

Bodies of Difference chronicles the compelling story of disability's emergence as an area of significant sociopolitical activity in contemporary China Keenly attentive to how bodies are embedded in discourse history and personal exigency Matthew Kohrman details ways that disability became a fount for the production of institutions and identities across the Chinese landscape during the final decades of the twentieth century He looks closely at the creation of the China Disabled Persons Federation and the lives of numerous individuals among them Deng Pufang son of China's Communist leader Deng Xiaoping

Trading in Uncertainty Esther Horat, 2017-07-04 This book is an ethnographic case study based on first hand observation of family businesses in the northern Vietnamese village of Ninh Hi p along the Red River Delta which became a major hub for textiles in the wake of the country's shift towards market socialism The author explores how the traders experience negotiate and react to a marketization process that is markedly shaped by the state's morally ambivalent governance and which can be thus characterised as an admixture of socialist and neoliberal ideologies How are traders shaping the political economy of Vietnam How has the labour force changed as textile handling has become an increasingly profitable undertaking Horat explores the relationships between traders and local authorities as well as changing ideas of masculinity and femininity Focusing on the redevelopment of the market landscape and the increasing share of private ownership that have given rise to great uncertainty this book provides a well timed inquiry into current debates of economic development in a uniquely shaped market environment Postsocialism Maruška Svašek, 2008-01-01

In many parts of post socialist Europe the tumultuous political and economic developments have generated strong emotions ranging from hope and euphoria to disappointment envy disillusionment sorrow loneliness and hatred Yet these aspects have been largely neglected in analyses of the profound transformations that have taken place in Central and Eastern Europe since 1990 Based on a wide variety of ethnographic case studies focusing on Russian Siberian Romanian Bulgarian Slovenian Croatian Czech and Polish communities this volume proves the significance of emotions to post socialist political processes as an inherent part of the transformations and sheds new light on the impact of local national and transnational political forces that have given rise to the resurgence of nationalist sentiments increasing poverty and marginalization conflicts arising from the restitution of state property constitutional changes and economic deprivation Tupuna Awa Marama Muru-Lanning,2016-09-19 We have always owned the water we have never ceded our mana over the river to anyone King Tuheitia Paki asserted in 2012 Prime Minister John Key disagreed King Tuheitia's claim that Maori have always owned New Zealand's water is just plain wrong So who does own the water in New Zealand if anyone and why does it matter Offering some human context around that fraught question Tupuna Awa looks at the people and politics of the Waikato River For iwi and hapu of the lands that border its 425 kilometre length the Waikato River is an ancestor a taonga and a source of mauri lying at the heart of identity and chiefly power It is also subject to governing oversight by the Crown and intersected by hydro stations managed by state owned power companies a situation rife with complexity and subject to shifting and subtle power dynamics Marama Muru Lanning explains how Maori of the region the Crown and Mighty River Power have talked about the ownership guardianship and stakeholders of the river By examining the debates over water in one New Zealand river over a single recent period Muru Lanning provides a powerful lens through which to view modern iwi politics debates over water ownership and contests for power between Maori and the state Dynasties Jeroen Duindam,2016 A vibrant and broad ranging study of dynastic power in the late medieval and early modern world
