Face Au Racisme:

Racism and Anti-Racism in Europe Alana Lentin, 2004-06-20 Remarkable a major contribution to our understanding and handling of one of the crucial contemporary issues that acquires more gravity by the day Zygmunt Bauman This is an in depth sociological study of the phenomenon of anti racism as both political discourse and social movement practice in western Europe Lentin develops a comparative study of anti racism in Britain France Italy and Ireland While race and racism have been submitted to many profound analyses anti racism has often been dealt with as either the mere opposite of racism or as a theme for prescriptives or polemics by those concerned with the persistence of racist discrimination By contrast this book views anti racism as a variety of discourses that are central to the understanding of the politics of modern states Examining anti racism gives us insights not only into current debates on citizenship immigration and Europeanisation but it also crucially assists us in understanding the nature of race racism and racialisation themselves At a time of mounting state racism against asylum seekers migrants and refugees throughout Europe and beyond this book provides a much needed exploration of the discourse of anti racism that shapes policy and public opinion today The Force of Prejudice

Pierre-André Taguieff, 2001 Pierre Andr Taguieff puts forward a powerful thesis that racism has evolved from an argument about races naturalizing inequality between biologically defined groups on the basis of fear of the other to an argument about cultures naturalizing historical differences and justifying exclusion Correspondingly Taguieff shows how antiracism must adopt the strategy that fits the variety of racism it opposes Already viewed as an essential work of reference in France The Force of Prejudice is an invaluable tool for identifying and understanding both racism and its antidote in our day The Politics of Racism in France P. Fysh, J. Wolfreys, 2003-01-31 While most analyses of the French National Front NF see it as a threat to democracy the exact nature of this threat has never been clearly defined Drawing on interviews with leading far right figures and access to internal party documents this book identifies the NF as a modern fascist party The authors produce an uncompromising assessment of attempts to confront the NF and explain how it emerged as the leading challenger to a discredited mainstream in the 2002 presidential election Racism without Racists Eduardo

Bonilla-Silva, 2021-12-09 Eduardo Bonilla Silva s acclaimed Racism without Racists examines in detail how Whites talk think and account for the existence of racial inequality and makes clear that color blind racism is as insidious now as ever The sixth edition of this provocative book includes new material on systemic racism and how color blind racism framed many issues during the COVID 19 pandemic A revised conclusion addresses what readers can do to confront racism both personally and on a larger structural level New to this edition New Chapter 2 What is Systemic Racism Coming to Terms with How Racism Shapes All Whites and Non Whites explains how all members of society participate in structural racism New Chapter 10 Color Blind Racism in Pandemic Times provides coverage of racial disparities in mortality the role of essential workers and hunger during the pandemic particularly how public discourse did not reflect how these problems are worse for communities of color Updated discussion of police surveillance and violence reflects the current salience of police brutality in the U S and enhances the conversation on suave racial discrimination Chapter 3 Addresses the question What is to be done and offers White people ideas on what they can do to change themselves Chapter 11

Muslims and Jews in France Maud S. Mandel,2016-08-02 This book traces the global national and local origins of the conflict between Muslims and Jews in France challenging the belief that rising anti-Semitism in France is rooted solely in the unfolding crisis in Israel and Palestine Maud Mandel shows how the conflict in fact emerged from processes internal to French society itself even as it was shaped by affairs elsewhere particularly in North Africa during the era of decolonization Mandel examines moments in which conflicts between Muslims and Jews became a matter of concern to French police the media and an array of self appointed spokesmen from both communities Israel's War of Independence in 1948 France's decolonization of North Africa the 1967 Arab Israeli War the 1968 student riots and François Mitterrand's experiments with multiculturalism in the 1980s She takes an in depth on the ground look at interethnic relations in Marseille which is home to the country's largest Muslim and Jewish populations outside of Paris She reveals how Muslims and Jews in France have related to each other in diverse ways throughout this history as former residents of French North Africa as immigrants competing for limited resources as employers and employees as victims of racist aggression as religious minorities in a secularizing state and as French citizens In Muslims and Jews in France Mandel traces the way these multiple complex interactions have been overshadowed and obscured by a reductionist narrative of Muslim Jewish polarization

Rethinking Anti-Racisms Floya Anthias,Cathy Lloyd,2005-07-08 This collection seeks to rethink anti racism both in light of social changes and also of new theoretical debates about citizenship multiculturalism hybridity diaspora and social movements As well as chapters on theoretical interventions Rethinking Anti Racisms has substantive chapters covering issues such as anti deportation campaigns anti fascism education the Southall Black Sisters the contradictory use of ethnicity as a way of tackling racism , Hostile and Malignant Prejudice Cyril Levitt,2018-05-08 Hostile and Malignant Prejudice Psychoanalytic Approaches represents the leading edge of work in the field by members of the International Psychoanalytical Association's Committee on Prejudice Including Anti-Semitism psychoanalysts who hail from Belgium Brazil Canada Germany Peru Sweden the United States and Uruguay It pursues the issues surrounding hostile and malignant prejudice as defined in the first chapter by Henri Parens whose path breaking work over four generations with children and their mothers uncovered the sources of aggression and prejudice on a scale from jocular slurs to murderous genocide One chapter examines the effects of Latin America's colonial past on the psychic development of a mixed race young man whose analysis implicates a major racial and social divide in the heart of his society In another chapter we learn of the identity conflicts of children who were separated from their parents during the Holocaust and hidden or hidden in plain sight by adopting a Christian persona

Africa in Europe: Antiquity into the age of global expansion Stefan Goodwin,2009-01-01 Africa in Europe in two volumes is an interdisciplinary work about Europeans that demonstrates fluid boundaries and connections between them and Africans from antiquity until the present Written by a scholar with expertise that includes anthropology social history and international relations the subject matter of this fascinating work ranges from science to art and invites much new thinking about racism territoriality citizenship and frontiers in a world that is increasingly globalized

Displacement, Diaspora, and Geographies of Identity Smadar Lavie, Ted Swedenburg, 2013-07-22 Displacement Diaspora and Geographies of Identity challenges conventional understandings of identity based on notions of nation and culture as bounded or discrete Through careful examinations of various transnational hybrid border and diasporic forces and practices these essays push at the edge of cultural studies postmodernism and postcolonial theory and raise crucial questions about ethnographic methodology This volume exemplifies a cross disciplinary cultural studies and a concept of culture rooted in lived experience as well as textual readings Anthropologists and scholars from related fields deploy a range of methodologies and styles of writing to blur and complicate conventional dualisms between authors and subjects of research home and away center and periphery and first and third world Essays discuss topics such as Rai a North African pop music viewed as westernized in Algeria and as Arab music in France the place of Sephardic and Palestinian writers within Israel's Ashkenazic dominated arts community and the use and misuse of the concept postcolonial as it is applied in various regional contexts In exploring histories of displacement and geographies of identity these essays call for the reconceptualization of theoretical binarisms such as modern and postmodern colonial and postcolonial It will be of interest to a broad spectrum of scholars and students concerned with postmodern and postcolonial theory ethnography anthropology and cultural studies Contributors Norma Alarcón Edward M Bruner Nahum D Chandler Ruth Frankenberg Joan Gross Dorinne Kondo Kristin Koptiuch Smadar Lavie Lata Mani David McMurray Kirin Narayan Greg Sarris Ted Swedenburg

The Colonial Legacy in France Nicolas Bancel, Pascal Blanchard, Dominic Thomas, 2017-05-01 Debates about the legacy of colonialism in France are not new but they have taken on new urgency in the wake of recent terrorist attacks Responding to acts of religious and racial violence in 2005 2010 and 2015 and beyond the essays in this volume pit French ideals against government sponsored revisionist decrees that have exacerbated tensions complicated the process of establishing and recording national memory and triggered divisive debates on what it means to identify as French As they document the checkered legacy of French colonialism the contributors raise questions about France and the contemporary role of Islam the banlieues immigration race history pedagogy and the future of the Republic This innovative volume reconsiders the cultural economic political and social realities facing global French citizens today and includes contributions by Achille Mbembe Benjamin Stora Françoise Vergès Alec Hargreaves Elsa Dorlin and Alain Mabanckou among others

Shaping Race Policy Robert Lieberman, 2011-06-27 Shaping Race Policy investigates one of the most serious policy challenges facing the United States today the stubborn persistence of racial inequality in the post civil rights era Unlike other books on the topic it is comparative examining American developments alongside parallel histories of race policy in Great Britain and France Focusing on on two key policy areas welfare and employment the book asks why America has had such uneven success at incorporating African Americans and other minorities into the full benefits of citizenship Robert Lieberman explores the historical roots of racial incorporation in these policy areas over the course of the twentieth century and explains both the relative success of antidiscrimination policy and the failure of the American welfare state to address racial inequality He chronicles the rise and resilience of affirmative action including commentary on the recent University of Michigan affirmative action cases decided by the Supreme Court He also shows how nominally color blind policies can have racially biased effects and challenges the common wisdom that color blind policies are morally and politically superior and that race conscious policies are merely second best Shaping Race Policy has two innovative features that distinguish it from other works in the area First it is comparative examining American developments alongside parallel histories of race policy in Great Britain and France Second its argument merges ideas and institutions which are usually considered separate and competing factors into a comprehensive and integrated explanatory approach The book highlights the importance of two factors America s distinctive political institutions and the characteristic American tension between race consciousness and color blindness in accounting for the curious pattern of success and failure in American race policy

Deconstructing the Nation Maxim Silverman,2002-11-01 Deconstructing the Nation examines the connection between racism and the development of the nation state in modern France The author raises important questions about the nature of citizenship rights in modern French society and contributes to wider European debates on citizenship By challenging the myths of the modern French nation Maxim Silverman opens up the debate on questions of immigration racism the nation and citizenship in France to non French speaking readers Until quite recently these matters have largely been ignored by researchers in Britain and the USA However European integration has made it essential to look beyond national frontiers The major part of his analysis concerns the period from the end of the 1960s to the beginning of the 1990s Yet contemporary developments are placed in a historical context first through a consideration of the construction of the modern question of immigration since the second half of the nineteenth century and second through a survey of political economic and social developments since 1945 There are analyses of the major debates on nationality in 1987 and the headscarf affair of 1989 Finally questions of immigration racism and citizenship are considered within the framework of European integration

Africa in Europe: Interdependencies, relocations, and globalization Stefan Goodwin,2009-01-01 Africa in Europe in two volumes is an interdisciplinary work about Europeans that demonstrates fluid boundaries and connections between them and Africans from antiquity until the present Written by a scholar with expertise that includes anthropology social history and international relations the subject matter of this fascinating work ranges from science to art and invites much new thinking about racism territoriality citizenship and frontiers in a world that is increasingly globalized Africa in Europe: Antiquity into the Age of Global Exploration Stefan Goodwin,1955-01-01 Africa in Europe in two volumes meticulously documents Europe's African presence from antiquity to the present. It incorporates findings from areas of study as diverse as physical anthropology, linguistics, social history, social theory, international relations, migrational studies, and globalization. In contrast to most other works focusing on Eurafrican relationships that largely revolve around Atlantic and trans-Atlantic developments since the Age of Global Exploration, this work has a much broader perspective which takes account of human evolution, the history of religion, Judaic studies, Byzantine studies, the history of Islam, and Western intellectual history, including social theory. While the issue of racism in its variant manifestations receives thorough treatment, African in Europe is also about human connections across fluid boundaries that are ancient as well as those that date to the Age of Exploration, the Age of Revolution, and continue until the present. Hence it brings new clarity to our understanding of such processes as acculturation and assimilation, while deepening our understanding of interrelationships among racism, violence, and social identities. This work is full of new insights, fresh interpretations, and highly nuanced analyses relevant to our thinking about territoriality, citizenship, migration, and frontiers in a world that is increasingly globalized. The author moves across boundaries of time and space in ways that result in an encyclopedic work that is an integrated and programmatic whole, as well as one in which each chapter is a complete module of scholarship that is self-contained. The Postnational Self Ulf Hedetoft, Mette Hjort, 2002. What happens to a sense of belonging when national and regional governments, religious organizations, community groups, political parties, and corporations become unstable and incoherent as they have in these nationalist and postnationalist times? From a richly interdisciplinary perspective, the authors examine notions of citizenship and cultural hybridization, migration, and other forms of mobility, displacements, and ethnic cleansing, and the nature of national belonging in a world turning ever more fluid, aided by transnational flows of capital, information, people, and ideas. Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2000. Of all mankind's vices, racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn.

Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time, but victories have been limited, thus far, because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs, ignoring generosity of the soul. This bibliography brings together the literature, providing access by subject groupings, as well as author and subject indexes. Contents: Racial Attitudes, Racism, and Poverty, Hate Groups, Racial Justice, Racism and Politics, Race Discrimination, Racial Identity, Racism Around the World.

Where Have All The Fascists Gone? Tamir Bar-On, 2016-12-05. The Intellectual European New Right (ENR), also known as the nouvelle droite, is a cultural school of thought with origins in the revolutionary Right and neo-fascist milieu. Born in France in 1968, it situated itself in a Gramscian mould, exclusively on the cultural terrain of political contestation, in order to challenge the apparent ideological hegemony of dominant liberal and leftist elites. It also sought to escape the ghetto status of a revolutionary Right milieu wedded to violent extra-parliamentary politics and battered by the legacies of Fascism and Nazism. This study traces the cultural, philosophical, political, and historical trajectories of the French nouvelle droite in particular, and the ENR in general. It examines the ENR worldview as an ambiguous synthesis of the ideals of the revolutionary Right and New Left ENR themes related to the loss of cultural identity and immigration have appealed to anti immigrant political parties throughout Europe In a post 9 11 climate as well as an age of rising economic globalization and cultural homogenization its anti capitalist ideas embedded within the framework of cultural preservation might make further political inroads into the Europe of the future Troubadours, Trumpeters, Troubled Makers Gregory B. Lee,1996

Whether examining the globalized consumption of satellite broadcast pop music or the heroic efforts of little known poets on the margins of the Chinese diaspora he finds a questioning and contesting of both the Orientalist construction of a mythic monolithic China invented by the West and the Chinese obsession with ideas of authenticity and purity of nationhood

Race in France Herrick Chapman,Laura L. Frader,2004-06-01 Scholars across disciplines on both sides of the Atlantic have recently begun to open up as never before the scholarly study of race and racism in France These original essays bring together in one volume new work in history sociology anthropology political science and legal studies Each of the eleven articles presents fresh research on the tension between a republican tradition in France that has long denied the legitimacy of acknowledging racial difference and a lived reality in which racial prejudice shaped popular views about foreigners Jews immigrants and colonial people Several authors also examine efforts to combat racism since the 1970s
