Georgakis,2008-06-10 Sydney University Sport 1852 2007 More than a Club offers a fascinating and highly informative overview of the development of sport at the University of Sydney over the past century and a half     Modern Eloquence Ashley Horace Thorndike,1928     Challenge of a Liberal Faith George N. Marshall,1988     World Literature After Empire Pieter Vanhove,2021-07-28 This book makes the case that the idea of a world in the cultural and philosophical sense is not an exclusively Western phenomenon During the Cold War and in the wake of decolonization a plethora of historical attempts were made to reinvent the notions of world literature world art and philosophical universality from an anticolonial perspective Contributing to recent debates on world literature the postcolonial and translatability the book presents a series of interdisciplinary and multilingual case studies spanning Europe the United States and China The case studies illustrate how individual anti imperialist writers and artists set out to remake the conception of the world in their own image by offering a different perspective centered on questions of race gender sexuality global inequality and class The book also discusses how international cultural organizations like the Afro Asian Writers Bureau UNESCO and PEN International attempted to shape this debate across Cold War divides     The Slavonic and East European Review ,1923 Includes section Reviews     The Slavonic Review ,1923     Modern Eloquence, Founded by Thomas B. Reed: Hart to Snyder Ashley Horace Thorndike,Brander Matthews,Sir Robert Laird Borden,1927     The Handwriting on the Wall Arthur Dehon Little,1928     New World, Known World David Read,2005 New World Known World examines the works of four writers closely associated with the early period of English colonization from 1624 to 1649 John Smith s Generall Historie of Virginia William Bradford s Of Plymouth Plantation Thomas Morton s New English Canaan and Roger Williams s A Key into the Language of America in conjunction with another of Williams s major works The Bloudy Tenent of Persecution David Read addresses these texts as examples of what he refers to as individual knowledge projects the writers attempts to shape raw information and experience into patterns and narratives that can be compared with and assessed against others from a given society s fund of accepted knowledge Read argues that the body of Western knowledge in the period immediately before the development of well defined scientific disciplines is primarily the work of individuals functioning in relative isolation rather than institutions working in concert The European colonization of other regions in the same period exposes in a way few historical situations do both the complexity and the uncertainty involved in the task of producing knowledge Read treats each work as the project of a specific mind reflecting a high degree of intentionality and design and not simply as a collection of documentary evidence to be culled in the service of a large scale argument He shows that each author adds a distinct voice to the experience of North American colonization and that each articulates it in ways that are open to analysis in terms of form style convention rhetorical strategies and applications of metaphor and allegory By applying the tools of literary interpretation to colonial texts Read reaches a fuller understanding of the immediate consequences of English colonization in North America on the culture s base of knowledge Students and scholars of early modern colonialism and transatlantic
