Working Together Cynthia Estlund, 2003-10-02 The typical workplace is a hotbed of human relationships of friendships conflicts feuds alliances partnerships coexistence and cooperation Here problems are solved progress is made and rifts are mended because they need to be because the work has to get done And it has to get done among increasingly diverse groups of co workers At a time when communal ties in American society are increasingly frayed and segregation persists the workplace is more than ever the site where Americans from different ethnic religious and racial backgrounds meet and forge serviceable and sometimes lasting bonds What do these highly structured workplace relationships mean for a society still divided by gender and race Structure and rules are in fact central to the answer Workplace interactions are constrained by economic power and necessity and often by legal regulation They exist far from the civic ideal of free and equal citizens voluntarily associating for shared ends Yet it is the very involuntariness of these interactions that helps to make the often troubled project of racial integration comparatively successful at work People can be forced to get along not without friction but often with surprising success This highly original exploration of the paradoxical nature and the paramount importance of workplace bonds concludes with concrete suggestions for how law can further realize the democratic possibilities of working together In linking workplace integration and connectedness beyond work Estlund suggests a novel and promising strategy for addressing the most profound challenges facing American society

Labor & Employment Law, 1978 Cases, Materials and Text on National, Supranational and International Non-Discrimination Law Dagmar Schiek, Lisa Waddington, Mark Bell, Tufyal Choudhury, Olivier De Schutter, Janneke Gerards, Aileen McColgan KC, Gay Moon, 2007-08-31 This casebook the result of the collaborative efforts of a panel of experts from various EU Member States is the latest in the Ius Commune Casebook series developed at the Universities of Maastricht and Leuven The book provides a comprehensive and skilfully designed resource for students practitioners researchers public officials NGOs consumer organisations and the judiciary In common with earlier books in the series this casebook presents cases and other materials legislative materials international and European materials excerpts from books or articles As non discrimination law is a comparatively new subject the chapters search for and develop the concepts of discrimination law on the basis of a wide variety of young and often still emerging case law and legislation The result is a comprehensive textbook with materials from a wide variety of EU Member States The book is entirely in English i e materials are translated where not available in English At the end of each chapter a comparative overview ties the material together with emphasis where appropriate on existing or emerging general principles in the legal systems within Europe The book illustrates the distinct relationship between international European and national legislation in the field of non discrimination law It covers the grounds of discrimination addressed in the Racial Equality and Employment Equality Directives as well as non discrimination law relating to gender In so doing it covers the law of a large number of EU Member States alongside some international comparisons The Ius Commune Casebook on Non Discrimination Law provides practitioners with ready access to primary and secondary legal material needed to assist them in crafting test case strategies provides the judiciary with the tools needed to respond sensitively to such cases provides material for teaching non discrimination law to law and other students provides a basis for ongoing research on non discrimination law provides an up to date overview of the implementation of the Directives and of the state of the law This Casebook is the result of a project which has been supported by a grant from the European Commission s Anti Discrimination Programme See the detailed website for this book www casebooks eu nonDiscrimination
