Taylor, 2012 Family Life Education with Diverse Populations is a T2 for courses in Family Life Education Family Studies and Social Work students often go through the additional certification of becoming Family Life Educators FLEs As a family life educator the student will help educate families in and outside the traditional classroom environment on how to strengthen relationships in the home and foster positive individual couple and family development Such education comprises many topics including marriage education parenting skills anger management to strategies in adjusting to divorce This book takes the content delivered in courses on FLE a step further by examining and presenting key strategies for working with diverse populations Diverse is defined broadly in terms of race and ethnicity but also by setting such as military families rural families families with loved ones in prison and more The book is unique in defining the group and presenting their strengths and then prescribing treatments and strategies for working with each group In addition the book takes an evidence based practice approach and demonstrates proven strategies in working with the populations listed above Sharon M Ballard Ph D CFLE CFCS is an Associate Professor in the Department of Child Development and Family Relations at East Carolina University Alan C Taylor Ph D CFLE is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Child Development and Family Relations at East Carolina

University Rural Transformation and Newfoundland and Labrador Diaspora Amarjit Singh, Mike Devine, 2013-11-08

This book is endorsed by Dr Clar Doyle in his preface to this book Dr Doyle is very well known locally This book is about the contemporary life of grandparents in Newfoundland and Labrador a geographically isolated and culturally unique rural region of Canada The book can be used for courses in the areas of critical social work family studies gerontology nursing rural development critical pedagogy and diaspora studies Clar Doyle Professor of Education Memorial University of Newfoundland and member of the Founding Scholars Advisory Board The Paulo and Nita Freire International Project for Critical Pedagogy This book offers a platform not only to look in on the lives of vital grandparents but paints in broad strokes a mural of coming changing as well as challenging cultural and social settings In what the astute editors call small nuanced studies we find telling narratives of generational connections in the face of changing and challenging odds This book does a great service to the concept of diaspora as well as to the changing nature of that concept This book elevates the status of grandparents by positioning them as vital members of a complex and challenging society where their skills gifts and sheer presence are most formative As is strongly advocated in this book it is essential that educators curriculum developers and teachers appreciate the place of grandparents in their students lives Dementia and Social Work Practice Carole B.

Cox, 2007-04-15 Practical coverage of driving day care support groups and respite is particularly welcome This is a good book to have available not just for social work faculty and students but also for those in the health sciences psychology and sociology It will be a useful resource for professionals coping with the increasing problems for family and community that an aging population and the epidemic of Alzheimer s disease bring with them Recommended Lower level undergraduate through professionals practitioners Choice Beyond the immediate and devastating effects dementia can have on individuals and their quality of life are the strains that are placed on the families caregivers and communities that support them Social workers are in a unique position to address all these issues at the same time that they provide care for individuals with dementia To facilitate the entrance of social workers into this area of care Carol B Cox has edited a volume of expert articles on the biological psychological and social aspects of dementia Readers will learn the latest assessment instruments as well as how to distinguish between Alzheimer s and non Alzheimer s dementias Intervention strategies for every stage of dementia are presented The effects of culture and diversity on the treatment of persons with dementia are examined including examples of successful programs from several countries The benefits and drawbacks of adult day services community care and residential care are discussed Finally a discussion of the legal financial and psychological stresses faced by caregivers of those with dementia rounds out this much needed text Social Policy for an Aging Society Carole B. Cox, 2015-01-16 As people age they are at increased risk of having their basic human rights threatened or violated When age is perceived as incompetence it can easily lead to discrimination that impacts human rights Based on the premise that social policy must reflect human rights principles this graduate level textbook views the challenges associated with aging as opportunities for policy development that stresses the rights of older adults rather than needs. The text distinguishes between needs and rights and describes those policies and services that best ensure that the rights of older adults are actually met, particularly programs that enable people to remain in their own communities so they can benefit from continued integration and participation in society. Issues and challenges surrounding such efforts and gaps in social policies faced by specific subsets of older people are critically examined. The book first analyzes current aging policies and rights and considers the Older Americans Act as a basic policy framework. With an eye to promoting independence, the book discusses issues of income, housing, transportation, health, and home care and what constitutes a livable community along with policies that promote wellbeing and focus on preventing senior abuse and exploitation. Challenges faced by older workers are covered, as are issues particular to family caregivers, older women, and grandparents as caregivers. Gaps in social policies for LG/BT seniors and older members of specific ethnic groups are discussed. Particular attention is given to global issues and aging policies in diverse countries and the ways in which they reflect human rights concerns. Each chapter concludes with probing discussion questions for classroom use.

Carole B. Cox, MSW, PhD, is professor at the Graduate School of Social Service, Fordham University. She is a fellow of the Gerontological Society of America and a Fulbright scholar. She is the author of more than 50 journal articles and chapters dealing with various aspects of aging and caregiving, with extensive research on caregivers for persons with dementia, their needs, and their use of services. Her recent work includes a study of the impact of dementia on the workplace. Her caregiving research also includes that of grandparents raising grandchildren, leading to the development of a curriculum, Empowering Grandparents Raising Grandchildren: A Training Manual for Group Leaders (Springer Publishing Company, 2000). She is the editor of To Grandmother's House We Go and Stay: Perspectives on Custodial Grandparents (Springer Publishing Company, 2000). Her other books include Home Care for the Elderly: An International Perspective (coauthored with Abraham Monk, 1991), The Frail Elderly: Problems, Needs, and Community Responses (1993), Ethnicity and Social Work Practice (coauthored with Paul Ephross, 1998), Community Care for an Aging Society: Policies and Services (Springer Publishing Company, 2005), and Dementia and Social Work Practice (Springer Publishing Company, 2007).

Women in the Middle Elaine M. Brody, MSW, DSc (Hon.), 2003-11-12. Women in the Middle was so named because daughters who are the main caregivers to elderly disabled parents most often in their middle years are caught in the middle of multiple competing demands on their time and energy. Since the first edition, women's responsibilities and the pressures they have experienced have increased and intensified. Dr. Brody revisits this phenomenon in this new updated edition of her ground-breaking work Women in the Middle. 2^e describes and discusses the caregiving women's subjective feelings, experiences, and problems and the effects on their mental and physical well being life styles family relationships and vocational activities These case studies and narratives present an insider s view of the harsh and sometimes joyful experience of caregiving Special attention is given to the changing face of social economic and environmental conditions as well as the diversity of the caregiver in which caregiving in which caregiving takes place

Baby Boomers M. Joanna Mellor, DSW,Helen Rehr, DSW, D.Sc.(Hon),2005-05-17 Is the United States prepared for the Baby Boomers to grow old This book seeks to answer these questions It also suggests strategies to make sure that the answer to these questions becomes YES Much has been written about the Baby Boom generation but this is the first book to address current issues they face while simultaneously projecting ahead to challenges and benefits that are likely to characterize this next generation of older persons It is based on keynote presentations by noted leaders in the field of aging who discuss their expectations of their old age Thus it is both an introductory primer to aging today as well as a book that raises questions suggests solutions and indicates avenues of planning for the future The book takes a close look at the state of readiness of health and social service providers for the large numbers of older persons in society s future A careful look is taken at what is and what might be in the areas of income security health security and health care long term care and housing and living arrangements The importance of this book lies in the fact that it addresses the lack of planning by both the Baby Boomers and services providers and identifies steps to be taken with particular emphasis given to needed changes in the education of health and social service professionals to prepare them for what lies ahead

Elders, Crime, and the Criminal Justice System Max B. Rothman, JD, LLM,Burton D. Dunlop, PhD,Pamela Entzel, JD,2004-01-01 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of interactions between older people and the criminal justice system The editors present current research on elders in a multitude of roles from victim and offender to attorney defendant witness juror and prisoner Of particular interest are chapters on the psychological and medical conditions of elder prisoners and issue around selective decarceration Each contributor documents empirical data and identifies social policy and ethical implications where applicable Recommended for gerontologists sociologists social workers and professionals in the legal and criminal justice fields

Community Care for an Aging Society Carole B. Cox,2004-11-23 Most older persons desire to remain living in the community but those requiring care are often at risk of not having their needs met Families may find themselves unable to care for their older relatives while formal services are often unavailable or inaccessible Policies and services are beginning to focus on the community rather than institutions as the primary axis for care This book examines the many factors contributing to needs for care among older persons as well as the ways in which impairments are defined and responded to by both the individual and society Focusing on practice and policy issues Dr Cox describes many of the early stage community care innovations that hold the promise of making contributions to the well being and independence of the older population

Successful Aging and Adaptation with Chronic Diseases Betsy M. Sprouse,Sarah H. Gueldner,Leonard W. Poon,2003-05-06 For many people growing old means facing one or more chronic diseases Successful Aging and

Adaptation with Chronic Diseases reviews coalesces and expands what we know about how older adults successfully experience the aging process and how they feel about and live with chronic illnesses Questions considered include How do older adults approach and deal with everyday life when affected by multiple health problems What kind of impact do they feel diseases have on their successful aging How do existent models and theories of coping address these issues Presenting research funded by the AARP Andrus Foundation this book brings together contributions by originators in the field including Robert Kahn and Ann Whall This volume is sure to be a seminal reference point for future research Grandparents

Raising Grandchildren Bert Hayslip, Robin S. Goldberg-Glen, 2000 This volume contains research and theory based discussions of the new phenomenon of grandparents raising their grandchildren Clinically oriented chapters explore cultural differences the management of physical and psychological difficulties clinical legal and service related topics surrounding those limitations and policy sensitive issues involved in surrogate parenting Cover Families in Society, 2007 Index to Jewish Periodicals, 2002 An author and subject index to selected and American Anglo Jewish journals of general and scholarly interests
