Purifying the Consciousness in Hebrews Joshua D. A. Bloor, 2023-02-23 Joshua D A Bloor argues that the purification of the consciousness of sin via Jesus perpetual heavenly blood offering is a vital motif for understanding Hebrews sacrificial argumentation and vice versa Jesus objective earthly achievements are many yet only his subjective heavenly blood offering purges the heavenly tabernacle and subsequently the consciousness of sin Bloor views the Levitical cult as having a positive role in Hebrews with Levitical guilt foreshadowing and informing Hebrews notion of the consciousness of sin Levitical sacrifices could purge the consciousness but only Jesus heavenly blood can offer complete perpetual purgation This blood is a qualitative type of purgation which continually speaks in heaven offering eternal assurance for the recipients regarding their consciousness of sin Bloor begins with the defiled consciousness and situates the world of Hebrews within cultic defilement enabling the consciousness of sin and its cosmic implications to be properly understood From here the solution to a defiled consciousness is explored by examining Hebrews cultic argumentation Bloor highlights the distinctive purposes inherent in both Jesus earthly and heavenly achievements with the latter concerned particularly with Yom Kippur imagery and the purgation of the consciousness Bloor concludes by differentiating between Jesus session present heavenly activity and perpetual heavenly blood offering Throughout this volume Bloor engages critiques and advances current discourse concerning the nature and timing of Jesus offering in Hebrews Sermons in Syntax, Or, Studies in the Hebrew Text John

Adams, 1908 The present series of studies has been designed as a secondary or supplementary volume to the author s former treatise on Hebrew accentuation He began with the accents not because they were of greater interest or value to the Hebrew expositor but because historically the accentuators preceded and prepared the way for the later theorists and grammarians As a mine of homiletical suggestion the accentual system cannot compare for a moment with the ever varying light and shade of Hebrew syntax Consequently if students and preachers have profited in any measure from the homiletical hints provided in Sermons in Accents they may rest assured that in the sphere of Hebrew grammar we enter upon a field of biblical exposition that is far more fruitful and suggestive We offer them in addition to a sufficiently accurate account of the Hebrew tenses and moods a second sheaf of expository outlines persuaded so rich and varied is this practical side of Hebrew syntax that they who deal with the minutiae of the text will never lack sermons Preface
