Corruption and Justice in Colonial Mexico, 1650-1755 Christoph Rosenmüller, 2019-05-02 Provides the first detailed analysis of the evolution of the concept of corruption in colonial Mexico The Americas in the Age of Revolution, 1750-1850 Lester D. Langley, 1996-01-01 Langley examines the political and social tensions reverberating throughout British French and Spanish America pointing out the characteristics that distinguished each upheaval from the others the impact of place or location on the course of revolution the dynamics of race and color as well as class the relation between leaders and followers the strength of counterrevolutionary movements and especially the way that militarization of society during war affected the new governments in the postrevolutionary era Langley argues that an understanding of the legacy of the revolutionary age sheds tremendous light on the political condition of the Americas today virtually every modern political issue the relationship of the state to the individual the effectiveness of government the liberal promise for progress and the persistence of color as a critical dynamic in social policy was central to the earlier period Mexico: Volume 2, The Colonial Era Alan Knight, 2002-10-07 This 2002 book the second in a three volume history of Mexico covers the period 1521 to 1821 The History of Mexico Philip Russell, 2011-04-06 The History of Mexico From Pre Conquest to Present traces the last 500 years of Mexican history from the indigenous empires that were devastated by the Spanish conquest through the election of 2006 and its aftermath The book offers a straightforward chronological survey of Mexican history from the pre colonial times to the present and includes a glossary as well as numerous tables and images for comprehensive study For additional information and classroom resources please visit The History of Mexico companion website at www.routledge.com/textbooks/russell Colonial Legacies Jeremy Adelman, 1999 First Published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company European and Non-European Societies, 1450-1800 Robert Forster, 2019-07-16 First published in 1997 this is the first of two volumes It looks at the process of European expansion which brought into contact societies and cultures across the world which had been initially alien to one another Conflict and violent conflict was one aspect of this interaction but accommodation mutual adaptation and institutional and behavioural synthesis were also present though often biased in favour of European norms The intent of this book is to avoid treating colonization dominance and exploitation as the only focuses of attention In the first volume Robert Forster explores issues of formative influences the impact of Eurocentrism on historiography and the reaction against it and the differing approaches and perceptions of the Europeans notably the Spanish French and English In this period he distinguishes three modes of interaction that of the trading empires generally in Africa and Asia where the European control of the encounter was slighter and those of the regions of settlement as in North America and of exploitation typified by the Caribbean where the European impact was profound The second volume focuses on the Americas and uses the topics of religion class gender and race as its points of entry Christianity in Latin America Justo L. González, Ondina E. González, 2007-11-12 From the arrival of the conquistadores in the fifteenth century to the spread of the Pentecostal movement today Christianity has moulded coerced refashioned and enriched Latin America Likewise Christianity has been changed criticized and renewed as it crossed the Atlantic These changes now affect its practice and understanding not only in South and Central America and the Caribbean but also through immigration and global communication around the world Focusing on this mutually constitutive relationship Christianity in Latin America presents the important encounters between people ideas and events of this large heterogeneous subject In doing so it takes readers on a fascinating journey of explorers missionaries farmers mystics charlatans evangelists dictators and martyrs This book offers an accessible and engaging review of the history of Christianity in Latin America with a widely ecumenical focus to foster understanding of the various forces shaping both Christianity and the region

Colonialism and Postcolonial Development James Mahoney, 2010-02-15 In this comparative historical analysis of Spanish America Mahoney offers a new theory of colonialism and postcolonial development He explores why certain kinds of societies are subject to certain kinds of colonialism and why these forms of colonialism give rise to countries with differing levels of economic prosperity and social well being Mahoney contends that differences in the extent of colonialism are best explained by the potentially evolving fit between the institutions of the colonizing nation and those of the colonized society Moreover he shows how institutions forged under colonialism bring countries to relative levels of development that may prove remarkably enduring in the postcolonial period The argument is sure to stir discussion and debate both among experts on Spanish America who believe that development is not tightly bound by the colonial past and among scholars of colonialism who suggest that the institutional identity of the colonizing nation is of little consequence Bureaucrats, Planters, and

Workers Susan Deans-Smith, 2010-07-05 Honorable Mention Bolton Memorial Prize Conference on Latin American History A government monopoly provides an excellent case study of state society relationships This is especially true of the tobacco monopoly in colonial Mexico whose revenues in the later half of the eighteenth century were second only to the silver tithe as the most valuable source of government income This comprehensive study of the tobacco monopoly illuminates many of the most important themes of eighteenth century Mexican social and economic history from issues of economic growth and the supply of agricultural credit to rural relations labor markets urban protest and urban workers class formation work discipline and late colonial political culture Drawing on exhaustive research of previously unused archival sources Susan Deans Smith examines a wide range of new questions Who were the bureaucrats who managed this colonial state enterprise and what policies did they adopt to develop it How profitable were the tobacco manufactories and how rational was their organization What impact did the reorganization of the tobacco trade have upon those people it affected most the tobacco planters and tobacco workers This research uncovers much that was not previously known about the Bourbon government's management of the tobacco monopoly and the problems and limitations it faced Deans Smith finds that there was as much continuity as change after the monopoly's establishment and that the popular response was characterized by accommodation as well as defiance and resistance She argues that the problems experienced by the monopoly at the beginning of the nineteenth century did not originate from any simmering entrenched opposition Rather an emphasis upon political stability and short term profits prevented any innovative reforms that might have improved the monopoly s long term performance and productivity With detailed quantitative data and rare material on the urban working poor of colonial Mexico Bureaucrats Planters and Workers will be important reading for all students of social economic and labor history especially of Mexico and Latin America

Women and Religion in the Atlantic Age, 1550-1900 Emily Clark,2016-02-11 Bringing the study of early modern Christianity into dialogue with Atlantic history this collection provides a longue dur e investigation of women and religion within a transatlantic context Taking as its starting point the work of Natalie Zemon Davis on the effects of confessional difference among women in the age of religious reformations the volume expands the focus to broader temporal and geographic boundaries The result is a series of essays examining the effects of religious reform and revival among women in the wider Atlantic world of Europe the Americas and West Africa from 1550 to 1850 Taken collectively the essays in this volume chart the extended impact of confessional divergence on women over time and space and uncover a web of transatlantic religious interaction that significantly enriches our understanding of the unfolding of the Atlantic World Divided into three sections the volume begins with an exploration of Old World Reforms looking afresh at the impact of confessional change in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries upon the lives of European women Part two takes this forward tracing the adaptation of European religious forms within Africa and the Americas The third and final section explores the multifarious faces of the revival that inspired the nineteenth century missionary movement on both sides of the Atlantic Collectively the essays underline the extent to which the development of the Atlantic World created a space within which an unprecedented series of juxtapositions collisions and collusions among religious traditions and practitioners took place These demonstrate how the religious history of Europe the Americas and Africa became intertwined earlier and more deeply than much scholarship suggests and highlight the dynamic nature of transatlantic cross fertilization and influence
