Economic Origins Of Antisemitism Poland And Its Jews In The Early Modern Period:

Economic Origins of Antisemitism Hillel Levine, 1993-01-27 Jews in the Early Modern World Dean Phillip Bell, 2008

Jews in the Early Modern World argues that the years between 1400 and 1700 represented a discrete cohesive and important period in Jewish history. Given the significant demographic shifts that began just before and ended just after this period, remarkable changes occurred in the history and experiences of Jews around the world. This volume begins with a broad context of Jewish experiences under medieval Christianity and Islam. It then turns to the early modern period, first providing an overview of Jewish demography and settlement. Next, the nature and structure of Jewish community and social structures in the early modern period are explored. In the final two chapters, this book presents a broad overview of Jewish religious and cultural life and Jewish relations with non-Jews throughout the early modern period. Publisher: Jewish Identity in Early Modern Germany Dean Phillip Bell, 2016-05-06

Although Jews in early modern Germany produced little in the way of formal historiography, Jews nevertheless engaged the past for many reasons and in various and surprising ways. They narrated the past in order to enforce order, empower authority, and record the traditions of their communities. In this way, Jews created community structure and projected that structure into the future. But Jews also used the past as a means to contest the marginalization threatened by broader developments in the Christian society in which they lived. As the Reformation threw into relief serious questions about authority and tradition, and as Jews continued to suffer from anti-Jewish mentality and politics, narration of the past allowed Jews to reinscribe themselves in history and contemporary society. Drawing on a wide range of sources, including chronicles, liturgical works, books of customs, memorybooks, biblical commentaries, rabbinic responsa, and community ledgers, this study offers a timely reassessment of Jewish community and identity during a frequently turbulent era. It engages but then redirects important discussions by historians regarding the nature of time and the construction and role of history and memory in pre-modern Europe and pre-modern Jewish civilization. This book will be of significant value not only to scholars of Jewish history but anyone with an interest in the social and cultural aspects of religious history.

Antisemitism and Its Opponents in Modern Poland Robert Blobaum, 2005

From the Middle Ages until World War II, Poland was host to Europe's largest and most vibrant Jewish population. By 1970, the combination of Nazi genocide, postwar pogroms, mass emigration, and communist repression had virtually destroyed Poland's Jewish community. Although the Poles themselves were subjected to enormous cruelties in the twentieth century, questions about the extent of their antisemitism and its role in the fate of Polish Jewry are today hotly disputed. Antisemitism and Its Opponents in Modern Poland serves as an effective guide to some of the most complex and controversial issues of Poland's troubled past. Fourteen original essays by a team of distinguished Polish and American scholars explore the different meanings, forms of expression, content, and social range of antisemitism in modern Poland from the late nineteenth century to the present. The contributors focus on both the variations in antisemitic sentiment and those Poles who opposed such prejudices. Central themes of this significant balanced and timely contribution to a contentious and often emotional debate include the deterioration of Polish Jewish relations in the era of national awakening for both the Poles and the Jews the meaning of the various forms of violence against the Jews intellectual movements in opposition to antisemitism the role of the Catholic Church in promoting antisemitism and the prospects for the Church to atone for this shameful chapter in its recent history Contributors Robert Blobaum West Virginia University Steven D Corrsin New York Public Research Libraries William W Hagen University of California Davis Janine P Holc Loyola College in Maryland Jerzy Jedlicki Institute of History Polish Academy of Sciences Katherine R Jolluck Stanford University Dariusz Libionka Institute of National Remembrance Lublin and Institute of History Polish Academy of Sciences Antony Polonsky Brandeis University and United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Brian Porter University of Michigan Szymon Rudnicki Warsaw University Konrad Sadkowski University of Northern Iowa Keely Stauter Halsted Michigan State University Dariusz Stola Institute of Political Studies Polish Academy of Sciences and Collegium Civitas Warsaw Bozena Szaynok Wroclaw University Theodore R Weeks Southern Illinois University
