Nelson,2020-11-17 This volume is the first in depth analysis of how infirm bodies were represented in Italy from c 1400 to 1650 Through original contributions and methodologies it addresses the fundamental yet undiscussed relationship between images and representations in medical religious and literary texts Looking beyond the modern category of disease and viewing infirmity in Galenic humoral terms each chapter explores which infirmities were depicted in visual culture in what context why and when By exploring the works of artists such as Caravaggio Leonardo and Michelangelo this study considers the idealized body altered by diseases including leprosy plague goitre and cancer In doing so the relationship between medical treatment and the depiction of infirmities through miracle cures is also revealed The broad chronological approach demonstrates how and why such representations change both over time and across different forms of media Collectively the chapters explain how the development of knowledge of the workings and structure of the body was reflected in changed ideas and representations of the metaphorical allegorical and symbolic meanings of infirmity and disease The interdisciplinary approach makes this study the perfect resource for both students and specialists of the history of art medicine and religion and social and intellectual history across Renaissance Europe
