S. Murrieta, Walter A. Neves, Mark Harris, 2008-12-02 Amazonia is never quite what it seems Despite regular attention in the media and numerous academic studies the Brazilian Amazon is rarely appreciated as a historical place home to a range of different societies Often left invisible are the families who are making a living from the rivers and forests of the region Broadly characterizing these people as peasants Amazon Peasant Societies in a Changing Environment seeks to bring together research by anthropologists historians political ecologists and biologists A new paradigm emerges which helps understand the way in which Amazonian modernity has developed This book addresses a comprehensive range of questions from the politics of conservation and sustainable development to the organization of women's work and the diet and health of Amazonian people. Apart from offering an analysis of a neglected aspect of Amazonia, this collection represents a unique interdisciplinary exercise on the nature of one of the most beguiling regions of the world. Sociedades Caboclas Amazônicas Cristina Adams, 2006 Cooking and Coping Among the Cacti Roberta D. Baer, 2014-05-01 Using data collected from 105 households in Sonora, Mexico, the author combines detailed ethnographic research with quantitative analyses of income, diet, and nutritional status to examine the dietary patterns of residents who cook and cope among the cacti. Employing a new analytical concept of available income which can differ greatly from total income and provide valuable insight into why people eat what they do, the work explores a variety of social and cultural factors that affect food expenditure and consumption. Home production of food and the extent to which women are employed outside of the home are just two of the many variables discussed that influence available income and how it is used. But even among groups with similar available incomes, variables of ethnicity, prestige, nutritional knowledge, and the desire for consumer goods come into play. Ecology & Environment for General Studies CSAT - Paper 1 IAS Prelims 2nd Edition Disha Experts, Ecology and Environment General Studies CSAT Paper 1 IAS Prelims for Civil Services Preliminary Exam covers various Chapters and their important topics. C. Sangin, Isaac Bekalo, 2010 The complex and dynamic interlinks between natural resource management, NRM, and development have long been recognized by national and international research and development organizations and have generated voluminous literature. However, much of what is available is in the form of university course books, practical learning manuals, and reference materials. In NRM, based on experiences from outside Africa, Managing Natural Resources for Development in Africa: A Resource Book provides an understanding of the various levels at which NRM issues occur and are being addressed scientifically, economically, socially, and politically. The book's nine chapters present state-of-the-art perspectives within a holistic African context. The book systematically navigates the tricky landscape of integrated NRM with special reference to Eastern and Southern Africa against the backdrop of prevailing local, national, regional, and global social, economic, and environmental challenges. The authors' wide experience, the rich references made to emerging challenges and opportunities, and the presentation of different tools, principles, approaches, case studies and processes make the book a rich and valuable one stop resource for postgraduate students researchers policymakers and NRM practitioners The book is designed to help the reader grasp in depth NRM perspectives and presents innovative guidance for research design and problem solving including review questions learning activities and recommended further reading The book was developed through a writeshop process by a multi disciplinary team of lecturers from the University of Nairobi Egerton University Kenyatta University the University of Zimbabwe the University of Malawi Makerere University and the University of Dar es Salam In addition selected NRM experts from regional and international research organizations including the World Agroforestry Center ICRAF the Africa Forest Forum RUFORUM IIRR and the International Development Research Centre IDRC participated in the writeshop and contributed material to the book
