Food For Peace Hope And Reality Of Us Food Aid:

Food for Peace: Hope and Reality of U.S. Food Aid Robert G. Stanley, 1973 Transplanting the Great Society Kristin L. Ahlberg, 2008 Uses recently declassified sources to trace the successes and limitations of the Johnson administration's efforts to use food aid as a diplomatic tool during the Cold War both to gain support for U.S. policies and to reward or punish allies such as Israel, India, and South Vietnam. Modern Methods in Forest Genetics J.P. Miksche, 2013-03-09 The present volume contains papers developed from courses given at the International Union of Forest Research Organizations IUFRO Biochemical Genetics Workshop Working Party S 04/5 held at the University of Göttingen, Germany, on July 5 through 28, 1973. The workshop was organized by Professor Robert G. Stanley and was held in memory of Professor Klaus Stern. Unfortunately, both met with untimely deaths. Professor Stanley was also instrumental in initiating the process of having the workshop proceedings published. I was asked by the workshop participants to complete this task and I wish to acknowledge their cooperation, advice, and encouragement. In addition to the courses and subsequent papers resulting from the above workshop, we have included some papers by colleagues who were unable to attend the meeting. The contents of this text may therefore be considered a working manual of generally modern techniques that are applicable to forest genetics and breeding programs. The chapters are placed in five major categories. The first three categories follow according to classes of chemical constituents inherent to plants which are nucleic acids, DNA, RNA, primary gene products, amino acids, proteins, and enzymes, and primary and secondary metabolites, carbohydrate polymers, resins, phenolics, pigments, etc. The fourth category is concerned with the interaction of environment and gene systems. Indirect selection, crossing, and protoplasmic and flowering manipulation are factors covered in the fifth category.

Protestant Missionaries & Humanitarianism in the DRC Jeremy McMaster Rich, 2020 A significant contribution to the history of humanitarianism, Christianity, and the politics of aid in Africa Trade and Aid Burton I. Kaufman, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1982, Trade and Aid outlines the transition of U.S. foreign policy during the Eisenhower administration. In the years leading up to Eisenhower's election, America's predominant foreign economic program was based on the concept of trade, not aid, which deemphasized foreign aid and relied instead on liberalized world trade and the encouragement of private foreign investment to assure world economic growth. When Eisenhower took office in 1953, he embraced this doctrine. However, as problems in the Third World worsened, it became clear to Eisenhower and other architects of American foreign policy that trade and private investment were insufficient solutions to the economic woes of developing nations. In 1954, Eisenhower began to embrace economic aid as a core axis of his foreign economic policy. Burton I. Kaufman contextualizes Eisenhower's foreign policy leadership in the ongoing historical evaluation of Eisenhower's leadership prowess. He evaluates the outcomes of the Eisenhower administration's trade and aid program, arguing that developing countries were worse off by the time Eisenhower left office. *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
