The right to water for food and agriculture The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2020-03-01 The right to water emerged in the Nineties primarily as the right to domestic water for drinking washing and cooking and was closely related to the right to sanitation both of which are seen as a component of the right to an adequate standard of living This study examines the question of the right to water for food and agriculture and asks whether such a right can be found in the right to water or whether it is more appropriate to examine the right to adequate food for that purpose Seeking inspiration from the right to adequate food and from other fields of international law the study explores the content of the right to water for food and agriculture and then considers its implications for water law Recognizing a human right to water for drinking and household needs as well as for growing food has implications for water allocation and sets limits to the extent that water can be allocated for other uses In addition it entails the respect for procedural rights and attention to important principles such as the principle of non discrimination and the rights of indigenous peoples

Politics and Poverty John Abbott, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1992 At its foundation FAO was conceived as an organization that would bring together health and agriculture It would manage the world's food output to greater advantage and improve the well being of its people Almost a half century on FAO faced mounting criticism from its major funding nations professionals within the field and developing countries The efficacy of its constitution bureaucracy and aid and even its fidelity to original ideals are questioned This book presents an informed if irreverent insider's view The first part of the book sets out the structure and activities of FAO It gives a human dimension describing the personalities that have influenced decisions and performance the motivations of its staff its location in Rome The second part appraises FAO S success in achieving its ultimate objective the alleviation of poverty Throughout the concern is both for a more visionary organization to help develop a sustainable income base for the rural poor in the developing world

Strengthening School Feeding Programmes Food and Agriculture Organization,World Food Program,2019-08-07 The objective of the publication is to provide a regional overview and show the joint efforts of FAO and the World Food Program in supporting the School Feeding Programs SFPs in Latin America and the Caribbean Likewise the document focuses on the main strategic areas of joint work within the framework of the common vision of the SFPs as a public policy instrument to achieve the goals of sustainable development by 2030 Finally this document presents three case studies from countries where FAO and WFP work together in support of SFPs Dominican Republic Colombia and Honduras

SMALL-SCALE FAMILY FARMING IN THE NEAR EAST AND NORTH AFRICA REGION Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-08-09 This report provides an overview of a study conducted in the NENA region in 2015 2016 in partnership with FAO CIRAD CIHEAM IAMM and six national teams each of which prepared a national report In the six countries under review in the NENA region Egypt Lebanon Morocco Mauritania Sudan and Tunisia agriculture is carried out primarily by small scale family farmers the majority of whom run the risk of falling into the poverty trap largely due to the continuous fragmentation of inherited landholdings As such the development of small scale family farming can no longer be based solely on intensifying agriculture as the farmers are not able to produce sufficient marketable surplus due to the limited size of their landholdings An approach based strictly on agricultural activity is also insufficient as small scale family farms have already diversified their livelihoods with off farm activities In fact developing small scale farming cannot be achieved by focusing strictly on the dimension of production
