Frightened Wife/The Mary Roberts Rinehart, 1988-10 In the event of her untimely demise at the hands of her brutal husband, Anne Collier wanted her fortune to go to her six-year-old son. But the tides suddenly turned when her husband turned up dead, and Anne was accused of being a cold-blooded killer.

Folk Traditions of the Arab World Hasan M. El-Shamy, 1995 The Berlin Wife's Vow Marion Kummerow, 2025-04-28 She kneels by her husband, his face contorted with pain. You must get yourself to safety, he tells her. She grips his hand tighter as a tear tracks down her drawn, pale face. I promised to stay beside you. I will keep that vow to the end. Berlin, 1944. Edith Falkenstein weeps with joy when the crowds of brave women protesting on Rosenstrasse manage to save their Jewish relatives, including her husband Julius, from deportation to the camps. Julius once believed abiding by the rules would shield him and his wife. But now he knows better: there is no such thing as mercy from the Nazis, and they must do all they can to save others. Their apartment, long stripped of its luxurious furnishings, might offer little protection from the frigid winter air, but it has become a place of secret shelter, though it puts all their lives at risk. As bombs rain a thunder of devastation on the city, and Soviet soldiers close in from the east, the Nazis have only become more desperate and more deadly. For the inhabitants, their only option is to flee. But when another raid leaves Julius critically injured, Edith realises he is far too frail to make the perilous journey. She closes her eyes and prays for a miracle. The final days of the war are here, but there is no cause for celebration in Berlin, where death lingers on every corner. Their love has been the source of their strength and survival all these long years, but will either of them live to see the end? An absolutely page-turning and deeply heart-rending story of one woman's promise to protect the people she loves. Perfect for fans of The Nightingale, The Alice Network, and The Tattooist of Auschwitz. Readers are falling in love with the German Wives series. Wow, what a whirlwind of a story! Brotherhood in Christ Oleksandr Geychenko, 2024-05-31 Traditional evangelical theology with its emphasis on individual responsibility and the independence of faith communities has often failed to offer a robust ecclesial vision for the unity of Christ's church Engaging this reality Dr Oleksandr Geychenko seeks to provide a theological framework for understanding the ecclesiological nature of Ukrainian Baptist church associations He traces the history and development of Baptist unions in Eastern Europe examining associational practices and organisational structure along with the theological language used to describe the role and purpose of such unions In dialogue with the covenant theology of Paul S Fiddes he demonstrates that church associations should be viewed as more than pragmatic entities Rather they are ecclesial bodies embodying covenantal unity committed to mutual care and participation in Christ's mission to the world While drawing from primary sources and ecclesial practices to provide a unique and significant contribution to local theology this study bears relevance for engaging ecumenical relations across traditions and encouraging the unity of the broader global church

Spousal Violence Among World Christians Elizabeth Koepping, 2020-10-01 This book takes a global approach to violence between husbands and wives in faith contexts Focusing primarily on Christians the book uses anthropological theological and historical methods which intersect with and are challenged by lay and ordained women and men from sixteen countries Focusing on marital violence the book explores ways to understand how various churches their priests preachers theologians and members approach the topic interpret the texts and with often thoughtless complicity hide from the sin Drawing on over a decade researching marital violence in Christian contexts across five continents Elizabeth Koepping an anthropologist and priest presents testimonies from abused women as well as theological and cultural justifications for spousal abuse employed by perpetrators and bystanders She argues that if violence against the female spouse is understood as proper behaviour by manly men towards unruly wives Christians may set aside the core text Men and women are made in the Image of God enabling and silently colluding in abuse The book shows that spousal abuse is an ecumenical phenomenon present all over the inhabited world and therefore in all Christian churches and indeed other faith traditions
