From Ally To Enemy:

From Ally to Enemy Philip Towle, 2021-11-01 This study closely researched by Philip Towle over the past thirty years is principally concerned with the military relations between Britain and Japan during the first half of the twentieth century and the ambivalence misunderstandings and misconceptions that informed their relationship described by the author as an epic tragedy Following the signing of the Anglo Japanese Alliance in 1902 Japan was held up as a model in Britain and Britain in Japan But within a generation the British came to see Japan as the first country to challenge the League of Nations and to begin a new age of imperialism Conversely the Japanese armed forces saw Britain as the greatest obstacle to Japanese ambitions in China and elsewhere In 1936 Lieutenant Commander Tota Ishimaru's book Japan Must Fight Britain was printed in Britain its significance ignored at many levels and five years later the two countries were at war The feelings stirred up by that conflict notes Towle still have resonance today From Ally to Enemy brings together a most important body of research that is long overdue in book form and will be widely welcomed by historians and researchers of the period as well as those seeking more detailed analysis of specific aspects of the pre war Anglo Japanese military relationship

Haas, 2005 How do leaders perceive threat levels in world politics and what effects do those perceptions have on policy choices Mark L Haas focuses on how ideology shapes perception He does not delineate the content of particular ideologies but rather the degree of difference among them Degree of ideological difference is he believes the crucial factor as leaders decide which nations threaten and which bolster their state's security and their own domestic power These threat perceptions will in turn impel leaders to make particular foreign policy choices Haas examines great power relations in five periods the 1790s in Europe the Concert of Europe 1815-1848 the 1930s in Europe Sino Soviet relations from 1949 to 1960 and the end of the Cold War In each case he finds a clear relationship between the degree of ideological differences that divided state leaders and those leaders' perceptions of threat level and so of appropriate foreign policy choices These relationships held in most cases regardless of the nature of the ideologies in question the offense defense balance and changes in the international distribution of power
