From A Culture Of Violence To A Culture Of Peace Peace Conflict Ibues S:

(Re)constructing Cultures of Violence and Peace Richard Jackson, 2004 Re Constructing Cultures of Violence and Peace brings together eleven original essays that were presented at the Third Global Conference on Cultures of Violence held in August 2002 in Prague Covering an array of violence related subjects and a range of methodologies textual historical theoretical quantitative the resulting volume is a multifaceted exploration of how cultures of violence are constructed and how they can be deconstructed and replaced with cultures of peace A common theme throughout the book is that violence is a fluid social and cultural construct it is made by individuals groups and social forces The implications of this are more than simply ontological if violence is made it can also be unmade if cultures of violence are socially and politically constructed they can also be deconstructed

U.S. War-Culture, Sacrifice and Salvation Kelly Denton-Borhaug, 2014-10-20 The military industrial complex in the United States has grown exponentially in recent decades yet the realities of war remain invisible to most Americans The U S has created a culture in which sacrificial rhetoric is the norm when dealing in war This culture has been enabled because popular American Christian understandings of redemption rely so heavily on the sacrificial U S War Culture Sacrifice and Salvation explores how the concept of Christian redemption has been manipulated to create a mentality of necessary sacrifice The study reveals the links between Christian notions of salvation and sacrifice and the aims of the military industrial complex

A Research Agenda for Military Geographies Rachel Woodward, A Research Agenda for Military Geographies explores how military activities and phenomena are shaped by geography and how geographies are in turn shaped by military practices A variety of future research agendas are mapped out examining the questions faced by geographers when studying the military and its effects

From a Culture of Violence to a Culture of Peace, 1996 Through this volume UNESCO aims to further reflection on the major changes facing the international community today how to replace the existing culture of violence with a culture of peace The text presents contributions by eminent peace researchers philosophers jurists and educators on the multiple facets of a culture of peace The contributors underline the universal nature of a culture of peace some delve into its very concept others analyze the manner in which it is achieved while others concentrate on the global endeavour to which UNESCO is dedicated

Handbook on Building Cultures of Peace Joseph de Rivera, 2008-11-28 Mediation and negotiation personal transformation non violent struggle in the community and the world these behaviors and their underlying values underpin the United Nations definition of a culture of peace and are crucial to the creation of such a culture The Handbook on Building Cultures of Peace addresses this complex and daunting task by presenting an accessible blueprint for this development Its perspectives are international and interdisciplinary involving the developing as well as the developed world with illustrations of states and citizens using peace based values to create progress on the individual community national and global levels The result is both realistic and visionary a prescription for a secure future

Peace Through Tourism Freya Higgins-Desbiolles, Lynda-Ann

Blanchard, Yoko Urbain, 2022-12-26 Peace through Tourism considers the possibilities for tourism to contribute to efforts to unmask conflict and promote peace. This edited volume considers the intersections between tourism, peace, justice, and sustainability through conceptual and empirical works surveying practices, problems, and challenges all around the globe. It presents a complex and critical approach, arguing that peace through tourism is dialogic and not as simple as describing a few good niche segments of tourism. The pedagogies of peace represented here work to analyse structural violence associated with tourism, such as in the dominance of neoliberal market imperatives over local or social economies, colonising patriarchal and anthropocentric practices in tourism, and tourism's complex role in post-conflict settings. Analyses found here place scholars, industry, and communities in conversation about building shared tourism futures where peace is understood as peace with justice and differences are bridged through dialogues towards understanding. In light of the many challenges in attaining sustainable development in the 21st century, this volume is an important and timely endeavour. Radical practices are explored that support more just tourism futures. With a new introduction, this book is an insightful resource for scholars and researchers of Tourism and Peace and Conflict Studies. The chapters in this book were originally published in Journal of Sustainable Tourism.

The American Imperial Gothic Johan Höglund, 2016-03-16 The imagination of the early twenty-first century is catastrophic, with Hollywood blockbusters, novels, computer games, popular music, art, and even political speeches all depicting a world consumed by vampires, zombies, meteors, aliens from outer space, disease, crazed terrorists, and mad scientists. These frequently gothic descriptions of the apocalypse not only commodify fear itself; they articulate and even help produce imperialism. Building on and often retelling the British imperial gothic of the late nineteenth century, the American imperial gothic is obsessed with race, gender, degeneration, and invasion, with the destruction of society, the collapse of modernity, and the disintegration of capitalism. Drawing on a rich array of texts from a long history of the gothic, this book contends that the doom faced by the world in popular culture is related to the current global instability, renegotiation of worldwide power, and the American bid for hegemony that goes back to the beginning of the Republic and which have given shape to the first decade of the millennium. From the frontier gothic of Charles Brockden Brown's Edgar Huntly to the apocalyptic torture porn of Eli Roth's Hostel, the American imperial gothic dramatises the desires and anxieties of empire. Revealing the ways in which images of destruction and social upheaval both query the violence with which the US has asserted itself locally and globally, and feed the longing for stable imperial structures, this book will be of interest to scholars and students of popular culture, cultural and media studies, literary and visual studies, and sociology.

Nietzsche's Will to Power Raymond Angelo Belliotti, 2016-12-14 This book represents a unique contribution to Nietzschean scholarship in its analysis of the concept of power as preliminary to addressing Nietzsche's psychological version of will to power. It advances a fresh interpretation of will to power that connects it explicitly to the meaning of human life, and in so doing, the author addresses major questions such as: What does will to power designate? What does it presuppose? What effects does it engender?

What is its status epistemologically and metaphysically How is will to power to be evaluated How persuasive is will to power as an explanation of fundamental human instincts and as the lynchpin of a way of life The volume argues that Nietzsche's psychological notion of will to power cannot plausibly be understood as merely a first order drive to attain and exert power Moreover despite some of the philosopher's extravagant rhetoric will to power is not an inherent instinct to oppress other people or things Instead will to power understood generically is a second order desire to have pursue and attain first order desires it bears a relationship to confronting and overcoming resistances and obstacles and is related to the pursuit of excellence and personal transformation as well as to experiences of feeling power As according to Nietzsche's account all human beings embody will to power the book concludes that we should distinguish at least three varieties robust moderate and attenuated will to power Only by doing this can we understand and evaluate will to power concretely

Cultures of Peace Elise Boulding, 2000-05-01 Renowned sociologist Elise Boulding offers an eminent collection of essays that emphasizes her study of civil society over the past fifty years While most media and academic attention focuses on the extreme violence in today's society Elise Boulding notes an equally significant presence of cultures and societies of peace Here in a volume that represents a life's work she revisits her theme of the connection among family community and government and offers enriching perspectives and advice on how to fuel the process of peace Boulding examines structural violence in terms of the major institutional obstacles to a more peaceful future the tension between the states and the people trapped inside them the tension between the techno sphere and the biosphere and between global systems and local know how She describes social movements around the world that are developing alternative ways of handling the great diversity of human biospheric needs on the planet In addition Boulding brings together her experiences to empower the peace building activities if we are to do better in the twenty first century than we have done in the twentieth century Provided by publisher

Handbook on Building Cultures of Peace Joseph De Rivera, 2011-03-21 Regional Conference on Non-Traditional Security Discourse, 2001

Security Sector Transformation in Africa Alan Bryden, Funmi Olonisakin, 2010 The need for security sector transformation SST is prominent in the work of scholars policy makers and practitioners that focus on the security sector and its governance in Africa At the heart of this approach is the requirement for comprehensive change in the orientation values principles and practices that shape the provision management and oversight of security on the African continent The evident obstacles to achieving such far reaching goals mean that it is particularly important to identify the practical utility of the SST concept in supporting positive behaviour change within different African settings It is also necessary to clarify the relationship between the concept of security sector transformation and the evolving security sector reform SSR discourse This volume seeks to provide such additional clarity to SST and its relationship to SSR It includes contributions from a range of acknowledged experts analysing dynamics of security sector transformation at the domestic level as well as beyond the state The resulting insights are intended to help elaborate an understanding of the challenges to and opportunities for the realisation of an operational security sector transformation agenda in Africa Cultures of Sustainable Peace Hyab Teklehaimanot Yohannes, Alison Phipps, Tawona Sitholé, 2024-12-10 This book shifts the focus of peacebuilding away from nation states and international organisations to make a powerful argument that sustainable peacebuilding is the work of ordinary people It brings together work done in Gaza Ghana Mexico Morocco and Zimbabwe alongside work with refugees in Scotland to argue for a place for successful intercultural relations as a central aim of peacebuilding moving beyond the more usual focus on economic development With a particular emphasis on addressing gender based violence and the role of women in peacebuilding together with a central role for arts and culture as a means of resistance and social change the chapters represent the fruit of collaborative work across geographical and cultural borders between artists activists and academics bringing a wide range of disciplinary perspectives to bear on situations of violence and precarity In a world where peace work can feel increasingly futile this book makes a powerful case for the crucial role of local action and cultural work and play in the creation of a better future The book will be open access under a CC BY ND licence Building Cultures of Peace Randall Amster, Elavie Ndura-Ouédraogo, 2020-07-13 From violence and abuse within family units to communities and regions torn apart by inter group conflict and wars among nations the human condition is rife with turmoil The consequences of this seemingly perpetual strife weigh heavily on humanity often creating feelings of powerlessness and hopelessness that only serve to breed more conflict and violence In the face of these monumental challenges initiatives for peace struggle to take root Seeking effective ways to encourage these efforts the United Nations adopted three declarations on the eve of the 21st century including the Declaration on a Culture of Peace that broadly defines what the vision looks like and the actions necessary to build cultures of peace Taking up this central challenge of our time this volume of collected essays presents multiple perspectives on the critical issues of peace and conflict resolution that pervade the globe addressing the UN s charge to develop values attitudes modes of behavior and ways of life conducive to the promotion of peace among individuals groups and nations Bringing together scholars and practitioners from fields including education sociology criminology political science and peace studies this work constructively engages the task of creating peace and fostering hope in a conflict ridden world The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Theatre Nicholas Grene, Chris Morash, 2016-07-28 The Oxford Handbook of Modern Irish Theatre provides the single most comprehensive survey of the field to be found in a single volume Drawing on more than forty contributors from around the world the book addresses a full range of topics relating to modern Irish theatre from the late nineteenth century to the most recent works of postdramatic devised theatre Ireland has long had an importance in the world of theatre out of all proportion to the size of the country and has been home to four Nobel Laureates Yeats Shaw and Beckett Seamus Heaney while primarily a poet also wrote for the stage This collection begins with the influence of melodrama and looks at arguably the first modern Irish playwright Oscar Wilde before moving into a series of considerations of the Abbey Theatre and Irish modernism Arranged chronologically it explores areas such as women in theatre Irish language theatre and alternative theatres before reaching the major writers of more recent Irish theatre including Brian Friel and Tom Murphy and their successors There are also individual chapters focusing on Beckett and Shaw as well as a series of chapters looking at design acting and theatre architecture The book concludes with an extended survey of the critical literature on the field In each chapter the author does not simply rehearse accepted wisdom all of the contributors push the boundaries of their respective fields so that each chapter is a significant contribution to scholarship in its own right

Marketing Rural Tourism Gunjan Saxena,2016-11-25 Gunjan Saxena seeks to encourage a fuller understanding of rural tourism marketing by uncovering the lived experiences and enterprise of different actor groups as they respond to the impact of tourism on their communities and cultural identities In so doing the author makes a key contribution to the wider marketing discourse that circulates around place marketing and rural destinations

Cultural Variation in Conflict Resolution Douglas P. Fry,Kaj Björkqvist,Kaj Björkqvist,2013-04-15 This volume s central purpose is to provide a clearly written scholarly exploration of cultural variation regarding conflict resolution and in so doing highlight certain alternatives to violence It presents an interdisciplinary examination of how conflicts are perceived and handled in a variety of cultural settings Drawing on data and models from anthropology psychology and political science the chapters analyze conflict resolution across the societal spectrum including cases from Western and non Western traditions complex and tribal societies and violent and non violent cultures While demonstrating the extremely important impact of culture on conflict resolution processes the book does not solely emphasize cultural specificity Rather through introductory chapters section introductions and a concluding chapter the volume editors draw attention to cross cultural patterns in an attempt to further the search for more general conflict principles An explicit message throughout the book is that alternatives to violence exist The volume demonstrates that at various levels from the interpersonal to the international conflicts can be handled in ways that cause far less pain and destruction than violence Chapters by psychologists discuss social and cognitive processes for facilitating the learning of alternatives to violence among children and youth Anthropology contributors explore mechanisms for dealing with social conflict which allow some cultures to remain relatively peaceful and consider implications of their work for reducing violence in other societies Chapters by former President of Costa Rica Oscar Arias and by political scientists examine how non violent political solutions can be employed as alternatives to warfare and violent resistance
