From Betty with Love Betty, Bernard Rutter, 1985 Spirits of Community K. D. M. Snell, 2016-06-16 Concern about the decline of community and the theme of community spirit are internationally widespread in the modern world The English past has featured many representations of declining community expressed by those who lamented its loss in quite different periods and in diverse genres This book analyses how community spirit and the passing of community have been described in the past whether for good or ill with an eye to modern issues such as the so called loneliness epidemic or the social consequences of alternative structures of community It does this through examination of authors such as Thomas Hardy James Wentworth Day Adrian Bell and H E Bates by appraising detective fiction writers analysing parish magazines considering the letter writing of the parish poor in the 18th and 19th centuries and through the depictions of realist landscape painters such as George Morland K D M Snell addresses modern social concerns showing how many current preoccupations had earlier precedents In presenting past representations of declining communities and the way these affected individuals of very different political persuasions the book draws out lessons and examples from the past about what community has meant hitherto setting into context modern predicaments and judgements about spirits of community today

Campus Life in the Movies John E. Conklin, 2014-01-10 Hollywood films have presented audiences with stories of campus life for nearly a century shaping popular perceptions of our colleges and universities and the students who attend them These depictions of campus life have even altered the attitudes of the students themselves serving as both a mirror of and a model for behavior One can only imagine how many high school seniors enter college today with the hopes of living the proverbial Animal House or PCU Greek experience or how many have worried over the SAT and college admissions after watching more recent movies like 2004's The Perfect Score This book explores themes of college life in 681 live action theatrically released feature length films set in the United States and released from 1915 through 2006 evaluating how these movies both reflected and distorted the reality of undergraduate life Topics include college admissions the freshman experience academic work professor student relations student romance fraternity and sorority life sports political activism and other extracurricular activities The book also includes a complete filmography and 66 illustrations

Internment during the Second World War Rachel Pistol, 2017-09-07 The internment of enemy aliens during the Second World War was arguably the greatest stain on the Allied record of human rights on the home front Internment during the Second World War compares and contrasts the experiences of foreign nationals unfortunate enough to be born in the wrong nation when Great Britain and later the USA went to war While the actions and policy of the governments of the time have been critically examined Rachel Pistol examines the individual stories behind this traumatic experience The vast majority of those interned in Britain were refugees who had fled religious or political persecution in America the majority of those detained were children Forcibly removed from family friends and property internees lived behind barbed wire for months and years Internment initially denied these people the right to fight in the war and caused unnecessary hardships to individuals and families already suffering displacement because of Nazism or inherent societal racism In the first comparative history of internment in Britain and the USA memoirs letters and oral testimony help to put a human face on the suffering incurred during the turbulent early years of the war and serve as a reminder of what can happen to vulnerable groups during times of conflict Internment during the Second World War also considers how these tragedies of democracy have been remembered over time and how the need for the memorialisation of former sites of internment is essential if society is not to repeat the same injustices
