

CHOZ BELEN PRESENTS A FILM BY STEVE NGUYEN

A stylized, collage-like illustration for a movie poster. The central figure is a young woman with dark hair, looking upwards with a somber expression. Behind her, a man in a suit and tie looks forward with a stern expression. To the left, a young boy covers his eyes. To the right, a woman looks down with a sad expression. In the background, there are other figures, including a man in a military uniform and a woman in a white shirt. The background is a mix of red and orange tones, suggesting a sunset or a fire. The title 'HIBAKUSHA' is written in large, bold, red letters with a white outline at the bottom.

Friends Of The Hibakusha:

Friends of the Hibakusha Virginia Naeve, 1964 Beyond Hostile Islands Daniel McKay, 2024-04-02 WINNER JAVIER COY BIENNIAL RESEARCH AWARD BEST MONOGRAPH Offers a fascinating window into how the fraught politics of apology in the East Asian region have been figured in anglophone literary fiction The Pacific War 1941-1945 was fought across the world's largest ocean and left a lasting imprint on anglophone literary history However studies of that imprint or of individual authors have focused on American literature without drawing connections to parallel traditions elsewhere Beyond Hostile Islands contributes to ongoing efforts by Australasian scholars to place their national cultures in conversation with those of the United States particularly regarding studies of the ideologies that legitimize warfare Consecutively the book examines five of the most significant historical and thematic areas associated with the war island combat economic competition internment imprisonment and the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki Throughout the central issue pivots around the question of how or whether at all New Zealand fiction writing differs from that of the United States Can a sense of islandness the tyranny of distance Mori cultural heritage or the political legacies of the nuclear free movement provide grounds for distinctive authorial insights As an opening gambit Beyond Hostile Islands puts forward the term ideological coproduction to describe how a territorially and demographically more minor national culture may accede to the essentials of a given ideology while differing in aspects that reflect historical and provincial dimensions that are important to it Appropriately the literary texts under examination are set in various locales including Japan the Solomon Islands New Zealand New Mexico Ontario and the Marshall Islands The book concludes in a deliberately open ended pose with the full expectation that literary writing on the Pacific War will grow in range and richness aided by the growth of Pacific Studies as a research area

Were We The Enemy? American Survivors Of Hiroshima Rinjiro Sodei, 2018-05-04 In August 1945 the first atomic bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki What is hardly known is that 4 000 Nisei Japanese Americans the sons and daughters of Japanese immigrants who had been sent back to Japan to be educated before World War II erupted were caught in the Hiroshima bombing This extraordinary book commemorates the 3 000 Nisei who died from the atomic blast in Hiroshima and documents the plight of another 1 000 hibakusha survivors of the bomb who returned to the West Coast after the war Branded as foreigners in wartime Japan and as enemies in postwar United States their existence as victims of the atomic blast has not been recognized by either the Japanese or the U S government both of which have refused to alleviate the medical and political problems of the survivors Drawing on primary sources and rich interview data Rinjiro Sodei has contributed an original scholarly work to the literature on World War II and the Asian American experience This book bears witness to the human calamities of the nuclear age and to the dignity of these Japanese Americans striving to obtain their rights and sustain their bicultural identity

American Survivors Naoko Wake, 2021-06-24 American Survivors is a fresh and moving historical account of U S survivors of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bombings breaking new ground not only in the study of World War II but also in the public understanding of nuclear weaponry A truly trans Pacific history American Survivors challenges the dualistic distinction between Americans as victors and Japanese as victims often assumed by scholars of the nuclear war Using more than 130 oral histories of Japanese American and Korean American survivors their family members community activists and physicians most of which appear here for the first time Naoko Wake reveals a cross national history of war illness immigration gender family and community from intimately personal perspectives American Survivors brings to light the history of Hiroshima and Nagasaki that connects as much as separates people across time and national boundaries Friends Journal ,2006 Performing

Commemoration Annegret Fauser,Michael A. Figueroa,2020-10-07 Public commemorations of various kinds are an important part of how groups large and small acknowledge and process injustices and tragic events Performing Commemoration Musical Reenactment and the Politics of Trauma looks at the roles music can play in public commemorations of traumatic events that range from the Armenian genocide and World War I to contemporary violence in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the sayhername protests Whose version of a traumatic historical event gets told is always a complicated question and music adds further layers to this complexity particularly music without words The three sections of this collection look at different facets of musical commemorations and reenactments focusing on how music can mediate but also intensify responses to social injustice how reenactments and their use of music are shifting and not always toward greater social effectiveness and how claims for musical authenticity are politicized in various ways By engaging with critical theory around memory studies and performance studies the contributors to this volume explore social justice in and through music Sunrise from Blue Thunder Pirene's Fountain,2011 Living with the Bomb: American and Japanese Cultural Conflicts in the Nuclear Age Laura E. Hein,Mark Selden,2015-02-18 The development and use of the atomic bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki number among the formative national experiences for both Japanese and Americans as well as for 20th century Japan US relations This volume explores the way in which the bomb has shaped the self image of both peoples

Socializing Medicine Pao-chen Tang,Yuqian Yan,Ling Zhang ,2025-01-07 In Socializing Medicine Pao chen Tang Yuqian Yan and Ling Zhang explore the intersections of medicine health and East Asian media Interweaving archival research audiovisual analyses and theoretical insights from the emerging field of health humanities the book reveals the multifaceted ways in which the mass media from photography and film to television and live streaming has been deployed as a tool for controlling medicine and health privileging those with power and authority from the early twentieth century to the present Adopting anti colonial and anti capitalist perspectives the contributors in this volume challenge the dominant mediations of health against the backdrop of imperialism Cold War geopolitical tensions and neoliberal capitalism Collectively they advocate for alternative understandings of medical culture through media productions that envision accessible and equitable healthcare practices This groundbreaking anthology diverges from Eurocentric models to span the celluloid past and digital present and investigate how East Asia offers not only illuminating examples of media shaping the socially based construction of health and medicine but also some fascinating alternatives to state centered efforts to bind the body to the nation Aaron Gerow Yale University Expanding the boundaries of health humanities and media studies simultaneously Socializing Medicine presents an enthralling picture of the ideological significance of medical media in East Asia Its transnational and intermedial approach wisely recognizes that media like viruses rarely remain stable entities or respect national borders An essential addition to the growing literature on the relationship between media medicine and power Scott Curtis Northwestern University Handbook of Modern and Contemporary Japanese Women Writers Rebecca Copeland, 2025-10-01 The Handbook of Modern and Contemporary Japanese Women Writers offers a comprehensive overview of women writers in Japan from the late 19th century to the early 21st Featuring 24 newly written contributions from scholars in the field representing expertise from North America Europe Japan and Australia the Handbook introduces and analyzes works by modern and contemporary women writers that coalesce loosely around common themes tropes and genres Putting writers from different generations in conversation with one another reveals the diverse ways they have responded to similar subjects Whereas women writers may have shared concerns the pressure to conform to gendered expectation the tension between family responsibility and individual interests the quest for self affirmation each writer invents her own approach As readers will see we have writers who turn to memoir and autobiography while others prefer to imagine fabulous fictional worlds Some engage with the literary classics whether Japanese Chinese or European and invest their works with rich intertextual allusions Other writers grapple with colonialism militarism nationalism and industrialization This Handbook builds a foundation which invites readers to launch their own investigations into women s writing in Japan Bridge ,1982

Nagasaki Susan Southard, 2017-08-31 On August 9th 1945 the US dropped an atomic bomb on Nagasaki It killed a third of the population instantly and the survivors or hibakusha would be affected by the life altering medical conditions caused by the radiation for the rest of their lives They were also marked with the stigma of their exposure to radiation and fears of the consequences for their children Nagasaki follows the previously unknown stories of five survivors and their families from 1945 to the present day It captures the full range of pain fear bravery and compassion unleashed by the destruction of a city Susan Southard has interviewed the hibakusha over many years and her intimate portraits of their lives show the consequences of nuclear war Nagasaki tells the neglected story of life after nuclear war and will help shape public debate over one of the most controversial wartime acts in history Published for the 70th anniversary of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombs this is the first study to be based on eye witness accounts of Nagasaki in the style of John Hersey s Hiroshima On August 9th 1945 three days after the atomic bombing of Hiroshima a 5 tonne plutonium bomb was dropped on the small coastal city of Nagasaki The explosion destroyed factories shops and homes and killed 74 000 people while injuring another 75 000 The two atomic bombs marked the end of a global war but for the tens of thousands of survivors it was the beginning of a new life marked with the stigma of being hibakusha atomic bomb affected people Susan Southard has spent a decade interviewing and researching the lives of the hibakusha raw emotive eye witness accounts which reconstruct the days months and years after the bombing the isolation of their hospitalisation and recovery the difficulty of re entering daily life and the enduring impact of life as the only people in history who have lived through a nuclear attack and its aftermath Following five teenage survivors from 1945 to the present day Southard unveils the lives they have led their injuries in the annihilation of the bomb the dozens of radiation related cancers and illnesses they have suffered the humiliating and frightening choices about marriage they were forced into as a result of their fears of the genetic diseases that may be passed through their families for generations to come The power of Nagasaki lies in the detail of the survivors stories as deaths continued for decades because of the radiation contamination which caused various forms of cancer Intimate and compassionate while being grounded in historical research Nagasaki reveals the censorship that kept the suffering endured by the hibakusha hidden around the world For years after the bombings news reports and scientific research were censored by U S occupation forces and the U S government led an efficient campaign to justify the necessity and morality of dropping the bombs As we pass the seventieth anniversary of the only atomic bomb attacks in history Susan Southard captures the full range of pain fear bravery and compassion unleashed by the destruction of a city The personal stories of those who survived beneath the mushroom clouds will transform the abstract perception of nuclear war into a visceral human experience Nagasaki tells the neglected story of life after nuclear war and will help shape public discussion and debate over one of the most controversial wartime acts in history

Race and Migration in the Transpacific Yasuko Takezawa, Akio Tanabe, 2022-11-25 Looking at a range of cases from around the Transpacific the contributors to this book explore the complex formulations of race and racism emerging from transoceanic migrations and encounters in the region Asia has a history of ceaseless active and multidirectional migration which continues to bear multilayered and complex genetic diversity The traditional system of rank order between groups of people in Asia consisted of multiple invisible differences in variegated entanglements including descent birthplace occupation and lifestyle Transpacific migration brought about the formation of multilayered and complex racial relationships as the physically indistinguishable yet multifacetedly racialized groups encountered the hegemonic racial order deriving from the transatlantic experience of racialization based on visible differences Each chapter in this book examines a different case study identifying their complexities and particularities while contributing to a broad view of the possibilities for solidarity and human connection in a context of domination and discrimination These cases include the dispossession of the Ainu people the experiences of Burakumin emigrants in America the policing of colonial Singapore and data governance in India A fascinating read for sociologists anthropologists and historians especially those with a particular focus on the Asian and Pacific regions

Art and Activism in the Nuclear Age Roman Rosenbaum, Yasuko Claremont, 2023-05-12 This book explores the contemporary legacy of Hiroshima and Nagasaki following the passage of three quarters of a century and the role of art and activism in maintaining a critical perspective on the dangers of the nuclear age It closely interrogates the political and cultural shifts that have accompanied the transition to a nuclearised world Beginning with the contemporary socio political and cultural interpretations of the impact and legacy of the destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki the chapters examine the challenges posed by committed opponents in the cultural and activist fields to the ongoing development of nuclear weapons and the expanding industrial uses of nuclear power It explores how the aphorism that all art is political is borne out in the close relation between art and activism This multi disciplinary approach to the socio political and cultural exploration of nuclear energy in relation to Hiroshima Nagasaki via the arts will be of interest to students and scholars of peace and conflict studies social political and cultural studies fine arts and art and aesthetic studies
