From Behind The Veil A Study Of Afro American Narrative:

From Behind the Veil Robert B. Stepto, 1991 This pioneering study of Afro American narrative is far more critical historical and textual than biographical chronological and atextual Robert Stepto asserts that Afro American culture has its store of canonical stories or pregeneric myths the primary one being the quest for freedom and literacy This second edition includes a new preface and an afterward entitled Distrust of the Reader in Afro American Narratives From Behind the Veil Robert B. Stepto, 1979 Self-discovery and Authority in Afro-American Narrative Valerie Smith, 1987 It is by telling the stories of their lives that black writers affirm and legitimize their autonomy So Smith argues in this exploration of the relationship between autobiography and fiction in Afro American writing Smith sees plot construction and characterization as providing these narrators with a measure of authority unknown in their lives Remembering Scottsboro James A. Miller, 2021-07-13 How one of the greatest miscarriages of justice in the United States continues to haunt the nation's racial psyche In 1931 nine black youths were charged with raping two white women in Scottsboro Alabama Despite meager and contradictory evidence all nine were found guilty and eight of the defendants were sentenced to death making Scottsboro one of the worst travesties of justice to take place in the post Reconstruction South Remembering Scottsboro explores how this case has embedded itself into the fabric of American memory and become a lens for perceptions of race class sexual politics and justice James Miller draws upon the archives of the Communist International and NAACP contemporary journalistic accounts as well as poetry drama fiction and film to document the impact of Scottsboro on American culture The book reveals how the Communist Party NAACP and media shaped early images of Scottsboro looks at how the case influenced authors including Langston Hughes Richard Wright and Harper Lee shows how politicians and Hollywood filmmakers invoked the case in the ensuing decades and examines the defiant sensitive and savvy correspondence of Haywood Patterson one of the accused who fled the Alabama justice system Miller considers how Scottsboro persists as a point of reference in contemporary American life and suggests that the Civil Rights movement begins much earlier than the Montgomery Bus Boycott of 1955 Remembering Scottsboro demonstrates how one compelling provocative and tragic case still haunts the American racial imagination Literary Journalism in the Twentieth Century Norman Sims, 2008-11-04 This wide ranging collection of critical essays on literary journalism addresses the shifting border between fiction and non fiction literature and journalism Literary Journalism in the Twentieth Century addresses general and historical issues explores questions of authorial intent and the status of the territory between literature and journalism and offers a case study of Mary McCarthy's 1953 piece Artists in Uniform a classic of literary journalism Sims offers a thought provoking study of the nature of perception and the truth as well as issues facing journalism today Black Manhood in James Baldwin, Ernest J. Gaines, and August Wilson Keith Clark, 2022-08-15 Challenging the standard portrayals of Black men in African American literature From Frederick Douglass to the present the preoccupation of black writers with manhood and masculinity is a constant Black Manhood in James Baldwin Ernest J Gaines and August Wilson explores how in their own work three major African American writers contest classic portrayals of black men in earlier literature from slave narratives through the great novels of Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison Keith Clark examines short stories novels and plays by Baldwin Gaines and Wilson arguing that since the 1950s the three have interrupted and radically dismantled the constricting literary depictions of black men who equate selfhood with victimization isolation and patriarchy Instead they have reimagined black men whose identity is grounded in community camaraderie and intimacy Delivering original and startling insights this book will appeal to scholars and students of African American literature gender studies and narratology Defining Travel Susan L.

Turner,2014-08-01 The year of 1980 marked a pivotal turning point in the American political landscape the electoral victory of presidential candidate Ronald Reagan the beginnings of the public hysteria and eventual legislative dismantling of affirmative action and other civil rights initiatives the dawn of the ruthless reign of neo conservatism and in some ways serving as the glue the ascent of neo liberalism as the prevailing ideology and standard logic of viewing and ordering the world Some thirty five years later it is almost difficult to remember a world and more precisely a moment in United States history when these things were not so dominant When thinking about the lasting impact of that moment David Harvey writes Future historians may well look upon the years 1978 1980 as a revolutionary turning point in the world s social and economic history revolutionary impulses seemingly spread and reverberated to remake the world around us in a totally different image In short this was an instance of profound transformation it was the dawn of the counterrevolution By no means immune to the changes in the larger political landscape Black activists and intellectuals also felt the ground moving beneath their feet in 1980 as many would gradually shift from an all out advance towards liberation to a posture concerned with what James Turner described as the preservation of the modest gains made by African Americans over the last decade The previous decade witnessed an obvious waning in the Black liberation movement a slew of high profile manhunts arrests court cases and outright criminalizing of radical activists the unearthing of Cointelpro the blooming of the liberation movement in Southern Africa a taxing debate around various articulations of Marxism and Black nationalism the full swing of feminism and a full decade of Africana Studies which also meant institutionalized space to foster such discussions It was these changing times that provided the context for the important gathering of Black activists and intellectuals in Ithaca New York during September 1980 at the Africana Studies and Research Center at Cornell and the content for this book Bound together by the dual purposes of both assessing the road traveled and preparing for the journey ahead the ensemble in attendance gathered to ponder the Next Decade as the conference theme spelled out plainly A quick glance at the conference s list of attendees demonstrates the extraordinary sphere of activity that was the Africana Studies and Research Center at Cornell Participants and attendees at this historic meeting included Toni Cade Bambara Lerone Bennett Johnella Butler John Henrik Clarke Gayla Cook Louis Farrakhan Hoyt Fuller Ewart Guinier Vincent Harding Robert Harris Stephen Henderson Robert Johnson George Kent George Lamming Tilden Lemelle Bernard Magubane Manning Marable William Nelson William Sales Michael Thelwell Bettye Collier Thomas Eleanor Traylor Ivan Van Sertima Ronald Walters Shirley Weber Sylvia Wynter Howard Dodson William Strickland and two of the visual artists featured in this book David Bradford and Bertrand Phillips This book is both a contribution to the historiography of the Black African Studies movement and an intellectual treasure representing the ideas and visions of many of the best minds at a crucial juncture in the African world Within the Circle Angelyn Mitchell,1994

literature to examine their own works and to engage this critical canon The essays in this collection many of which are not widely available today either initiated or gave critical definition to specific periods or movements of African American literature They address issues such as integration separatism political action black nationalism Afrocentricity black feminism as well as the role of art the artist the critic and the audience With selections from Langston Hughes Sterling Brown W E B DuBois Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright James Baldwin Toni Morrison Barbara Smith Alice Walker Henry Louis Gates Jr and many others this definitive collection provides a dynamic model of the cultural ideological historical and aesthetic considerations in African American literature and literary criticism A major contribution to the study of African American literature this volume will serve as a foundation for future work by students and scholars Its importance will be recognized by all those interested in modern literary theory as well as general readers concerned with the African American experience
