From Centrally Planned To Market Economies Vol 1 An Overview:

ERD Working Paper Series ,2002 Labor Market Distortions, Rural-Urban Inequality, and the Opening of the People's Republic of China Economy Thomas Hertel,2008-05 Evaluates the impact of some key factor market reforms on rural urban inequality income distribution using a household disaggregated recursive dynamic computable general equilibrium model of the People s Republic of China It also explores how these factor market reforms interact with product market reforms currently under way as part of the country s World Trade Org WTO accession process The simulation results show that reforms in the rural land rental market hukou system as well as increasing off farm labor mobility would reduce the urban rural income ratio dramatically Furthermore the combination of WTO accession factor market reforms improves both efficiency equality significantly Charts tables graphs Framework for Establishing Priorities in a Country

Poverty Reduction Strategy Ron Duncan,2008-05 This paper reviews the history progress of understanding development theory over the past 50 years Development thinking has evolved from an early paradigm that focused on savings capital investment to subsequent arguments favoring the inclusion of human capital policy technical change finally to the inclusion of the role of institutions good governance Secure property rights in the broadest sense which are applicable to all resources not just land are particularly important to realize investment yield This evolution of development thought describes a conceptual framework that can guide development practitioners in prioritizing sequencing characterizing all interventions aimed at reducing poverty Eastern Europe at the Turn of the Twenty-First Century Ian Jeffries,2002-02-07 Following on from Jeffries 2001 Economies in Transition A Guide to China Cuba Mongolia North Korea and Vietnam at the Turn of the Twenty First Century this comprehensive survey of economic and political change focuses on the countries of Eastern Europe Jeffries also discusses the general issues involved in economic transition including big Economic Management And

Transition Towards A Market Economy: An Asian Perspective Anthony Theng Heng Chin,Hock Guan Ng,1996-10-04 Much attention has been focused in recent years on the transformation of the economies of Eastern and Central Europe and the former Soviet Union However a growing demand for policy advice technical assistance and expertise is also coming from Asian reforming countries such as China Mongolia Vietnam Laos and Cambodia In addition business communities abroad are increasingly interested in exploring investment and marketing opportunities in these reforming countries Such developments are too important to overlook or ignore The transformation of socialist economies towards market based systems entails an unusually wide range of problems Studies of related topics are complicated by the speed of the changes and the lack of clear historical precedents Although the structural features of Asian reforming economies are in important ways different from those of the Eastern European economies all socialist economies share similar fundamental conditions on the eve of economic reform which raise a similar set of reform issues This volume brings together a rich collection of expertise and information in an attempt to shed some light on the transitional process in Asia The contributions are by no means exhaustive

However they provide the reader and analyst with an excellent starting point to the problems and prospects which are specific to Asian transforming economies North Korea Ian Jeffries,2013-06-17 There is much intense interest in North Korea at present This partly arises from questions about Korea s nuclear capability and intentions and about the extent to which North Korea may be viewed as a rogue state or part of the axis of evil In addition however North Korea has recently begun experimenting with reforms along Chinese lines The vigour with which these will be pursued and related questions about the degree of engagement or otherwise with South Korea are also important issues This book provides full details of economic and political developments in North Korea since 1989 when the communist world began to change irrevocably

Industrialization of China and India Nobuharu Yokokawa,Jayati Ghosh,Bob Rowthorn,2013-04-12 This book provides new perspectives on recent Asian dynamism which go beyond the mainstream views by attempting to situate the recent economic expansion within a broader analysis of capitalist accumulation and the various processes that it generates both within and across economies The contributions in the book include analyses of recent growth patterns in both China and India assessments of the sustainability of such growth and potential constraints and pitfalls the role of international finance in affecting both national and international growth and employment patterns the factors determining particular accumulation strategies and the results of these strategies These forces within the two economies of China and India are situated within a broader assessment of the impacts on the world economy by identifying long run tendencies in international capitalism and changing patterns of uneven development Specific issues emerging within the Asian region are identified including not just the relations between the three large Asian economies but also the wider geopolitical implications as well as the political economy of these changes This book therefore provides a more comprehensive examination of the longer run dynamics of the global capitalist system in which these economies are necessarily destined to play more significant roles in future

Political Economy of Transition Jozef M. van Brabant,2012-11-12 This book addresses the policy questions surrounding the challenge of transforming eastern European economies from their planned administrative past to vibrant market based entities Jozef van Brabant considers in turn the wider set of challenges facing these economies stabilization privatization liberalization institution building and developing and maintaining the sociopolitical consensus before examining the evolving role of the state Using concrete examples from the eastern European countries throughout including the Czech Republic and Bulgaria this work systematically examines in a society wide context the initial conditions of transformation the policy tasks ahead and the manner in which policies have been pursued Asian Yearbook of International Law, Volume 23 (2017)

Seokwoo Lee,Hee Eun Lee,2019-12-16 Launched in 1991 the Asian Yearbook of International Law is a major internationally refereed yearbook dedicated to international legal issues as seen primarily from an Asian perspective It is published under the auspices of the Foundation for the Development of International Law in Asia DILA in collaboration with DILA Korea the Secretariat of DILA in South Korea When it was launched the Yearbook was the first publication of its kind edited by a team of leading international law scholars from across Asia. It provides a forum for the publication of articles in the field of international law and other Asian international legal topics. The objectives of the Yearbook are two fold: First to promote research study and writing in the field of international law in Asia and second to provide an intellectual platform for the discussion and dissemination of Asian views and practices on contemporary international legal issues. Each volume of the Yearbook contains articles and shorter notes, a section on Asian state practice, an overview of the Asian states' participation in multilateral treaties and succinct analysis of recent international legal developments in Asia, a bibliography that provides information on books, articles, notes and other materials dealing with international law in Asia as well as book reviews. This publication is important for anyone working on international law and in Asian studies. The 2017 edition of the Yearbook is a special volume that has articles highlighting current international legal issues facing particular Asian states.

European Social Model Assar Lindbeck, 2008-06. Developing countries esp the least developed ones have more to learn from social policies in Europe during the early 20th cent than from the elaborate welfare state arrangements after WW2. In addition to macro economic growth and stability the main ambitions must be to fight human deprivation incl illiteracy, malnutrition and poor access to water and sanitation in some cases also weak incompetent and/or corrupt governments. Informal systems in the fields of transfers and social services must not be destroyed when developing countries embark on more formal systems. The European experience also warns against the creation of social systems that are so generous that disincentives and receding social norms distort the nat economy.

Political And Economic Transformation In East Central Europe Hanspeter Neuhold, Peter Havlik, Arnold Suppan, 2019-05-28. This is an examination of the progress that Croatia, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Poland, Slovakia and Slovenia have made in the process of transformation since the collapse of the Soviet bloc. Looking at issues such as democratization, the transition to a market economy and the new orientations in foreign policy, this book provides a report of the Banking Reforms and Monetary Policy in the People's Republic of China Yong Guo, 2002-09-06. From 1993-1995 the People's Republic of China undertook a series of reforms designed to modernise their banking and financial systems, the process of financial intermediation and to implement a sound and credible monetary policy in China. They based these reforms on the Federal Reserve System in the USA. This book analyses these reforms and assesses the effectiveness of the monetary policy that was put in place and shows whether it can withstand China's accession to the WTO.

Lessons from the Economic Transition Salvatore Zecchini, 2013-12-01. An attentive reader embarking on this book might wonder what the economic transition to which the title refers might be. In this century almost all countries have gone through periods of economic transition but which period of economic history can claim to embody the notion or to represent the era of the transition? Definitely no country or group of countries has experienced anything comparable to the economic upheavals that the fall of communism has brought about in a large portion of the world in just three years, 1989 to 1991. No other transition to date has prompted more interest and more studies among economists, academics and policy makers than has the transformation of centrally planned economies into market based systems It is this transformation that has come to define the transition Early in the transformation process in November 1990 with the support of the Centre for Co operation with the Economies in Transition CCET I launched a conference to examine the challenges faced by these countries About six years have gone by and a new economic landscape has emerged in that part of the world The difficulties in transforming these economies have exceeded all expectations and economic performances have varied considerably across countries The time has come therefore to make a first evaluation of progress and problems with a view to extracting useful policy lessons to guide policy makers in successfully completing the transition in the near future Market and

Institutional Regulation in Chinese Industrialization,1978-94 D. Lo,1997-01-14 There is now a vast and still rapidly expanding literature of scholarly studies on the Chinese experience of economic growth and systemic transformation over the past 16 years By and large most of the studies tend to conceptualize the experience as a process of transition to the market economy This position applies to even the moderate evolutionary economists who thanks to the overwhelming evidence of the heterodox nature of the experience have seemd to outcompete outright free market advocates and have dominated the literature In contrast to the market centred orthodoxy this book develops an alternative interpretation that is in the tradition of the late industrialization literature Based on a wealth of evidence and well articulated theoretical arguments it submits that the outstanding performance of the Chinese economy during the period of 1978 94 was based on an appropriate combination of market and non market institutional regulation Market-oriented Systemic Transformations in Eastern Europe Paul J.J. Welfens,2012-12-06 Socialist economies in Eastern Europe have collapsed and embarked upon market oriented reforms The causes of the demise of centrally planned economies are analyzed and the basic challenges of systemic tranformation discussed Negative income and wealth effects as well as distribution issues make adjustment extremely difficult The fundamental roles of privatization and foreign investment are adressed Foreign economic liberalization is considered to be of centralimportance for a growth oriented adjustment path in a stage of conflict prone policy and options Politico economic aspects of the new European developments in addition to North South issues are analyzed Difficult choices await decison makers in economic policy and the business community in Eastern Europe and in leading market economies Market Liberalization Policies in a Reforming Socialist Economy Mr.Timothy D.

Lane,Mr.Elias Dinopoulos,1991-12-01 The IMF Working Papers series is designed to make IMF staff research available to a wide audience Almost 300 Working Papers are released each year covering a wide range of theoretical and analytical topics including balance of payments monetary and fiscal issues global liquidity and national and international economic developments

A History of Eastern Europe Robert Bideleux,Ian Jeffries,2006-04-10 A History of Eastern Europe Crisis and Change is a wide ranging single volume history of the lands between the lands which have lain between Germany Italy and the Tsarist and Soviet empires Bideleux and Jeffries examine the problems that have bedevilled this troubled region

during its imperial past the interwar period under fascism under communism and since 1989 While mainly focusing on the modern era and on the effects of ethnic nationalism fascism and communism the book also offers original striking and revisionist coverage of ancient and medieval times the Hussite Revolution the Renaissance the Reformation and the Counter Reformation the legacies of Byzantium the Ottoman Empire and the Hapsburg Empire the rise and decline of the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth the impact of the region's powerful Russian and Germanic neighbours rival concepts of Central and Eastern Europe the 1920s land reforms and the 1930s Depression Providing a thematic historical survey and analysis of the formative processes of change which have played the paramount roles in shaping the development of the region A History of Eastern Europe itself will play a paramount role in the studies of European historians Inflation Stabilization and Economic Transformation in Poland Mr. Timothy D. Lane, 1991-07-01 This paper reviews the experience of 1990 the first year of Poland's program of stabilization and reform The background is described including previous reform efforts and the crisis of the late 1980s Then the various elements of the program are discussed including fiscal adjustment wage controls the possibility of an initial liquidity overhang the exchange rate anchor and structural reforms The initial results of the program are assessed and alternative explanations of the decline in output are considered The Political Economy of Asian Transition from Communism Sujian Guo, 2017-11-28 A comparative study of the political economy of the transition from communism in East and Southeast Asian countries China North Korea Vietnam Laos and Cambodia addressing the key theoretical questions generated from the debate between shock therapists and gradualists While accurately defining the pre-reform model this book explores the causal variables that have contributed to reform efforts within Asia examining the significance of the sequencing of political and economic transition and the interplay between politics and the economy in determining variations in transition outcomes Comparing the real world experiences of transition nations in communist Asia with Eastern Europe prominent questions are brought to the fore will market capitalism or market socialism prevail after the grand failure of communism This book makes an important contribution to the political economy theory of comparative communist and post communist studies and provides detailed analytical insights that will prove influential in future theoretical work Role of Infrastructure in Land-Use Dynamics and Rice Production in Viet Nam's Mekong River Delta Christopher Edmonds, 2008-06 Examines the role of infrastructure development and technical change in explaining increases in agricultural production and changes in land use in the Mekong Delta Region of Viet Nam during the mid 1990s The transportation costs involved in moving agricultural input and output between farms and markets significantly effect farm land use and production decisions Greater transport costs reduce the likelihood that farms adopt intensive cropping patterns or cultivate non rice crops Results suggest that the quality of local water management infrastructure is much more important than transport costs in explaining the increased intensity of land use and level of production observed in the Mekong Delta during the 1990s Illustrations
