From Hitler To Heimat The Return Of History As Film:

From Hitler to Heimat Anton Kaes, 1989 Examines changing attitudes among Germans as evident in films of the modern German era leading away from guilt and atonement and seeking national identity "Getting History Right" Mark Wolfgram, 2011 Collective memory politics and culture Victims and perpetrators the view from the East Victims and perpetrators the view from the West Collaboration and resistance blood and redemption Division and unity a revolutionary people unites itself Defeat and liberation ending the war Conclusion Mourning loss and the difficulty of remembering Appendix Charts and chart notes Filmography Germany as a Culture of Remembrance Alon Confino, 2017-03-01 An acknowledged authority on German history and memory Alon Confino presents in this volume an original critique of the relations between nationhood memory and history applied to the specific case of Germany In ten essays three never before published and one published only in German Confino offers a distinct view of German nationhood in particular and of nationhood in general as a product of collective negotiation and exchange between the many memories that exist in the nation The first group of essays centers on the period from 1871 to 1990 and explores how Germans used conceptions of the local or Heimat to identify what it meant to be German in a century of ideological upheavals The second group of essays comprehensively critiques and analyzes the ways laypersons and scholars use the notion of memory as a tool to understand the past Arguing that the case of Germany contains particular characteristics with broader implications for the way historians practice their trade Germany as a Culture of Remembrance examines the limits and possibilities of writing history

New Austrian Film Robert von Dassanowsky, Oliver C. Speck, 2011-04-01 Out of a film culture originally starved of funds have emerged rich and eclectic works by film makers that are now achieving the international recognition that they deserve Barbara Albert Michael Haneke Ulrich Seidl and Stefan Ruzowitzky to give four examples This comprehensive critical anthology by leading scholars of Austrian film is intended to introduce and make accessible this much under represented phenomenon Although the book covers the full development of the Austrian new wave it focuses on the period that has brought it global attention 1998 to the present New Austrian Film is the only book currently available on this topic and will be an essential reference work for academics students and filmmakers interested in modern Austrian film Towards a Comparative History of Coalfield Societies Andy Croll, 2017-05-15 Few areas of labour history have received as much attention as the coal industry with miners often finding themselves at the centre of studies on working class political and industrial history Yet whilst much has been written about the struggles of miners and their unions in particular countries their national confrontations and political organization much less work has been done on the regional communities and how they related both to the national and international picture The central theme of this volume is to transcend such over arching national models and to focus instead on local coal mining societies which can then be compared and contrasted to similar communities elsewhere In so doing the book is able to tackle a number of familiar labour history themes in a more nuanced way exploring issues of political activism and class relationships from the perspectives of gender ethnicity race and specific localized cultural traditions As the chapters in this volume illustrate such an approach can offer rich and often surprising conclusions in many cases challenging the accepted notion of miners as the vanguard of militant working class political activism Adopting a regional approach that compares coalfield communities from five continents this volume reflects coalfield experiences on a truly global scale By looking at what made communities unique as well as what they shared in common a much fuller understanding of the workplace neighbourhood family identity and political organization is possible Underlining the strong connections between politics community and identity this work emphasizes the challenges and opportunities available to labour historians pushing forward the boundaries of the discipline in new and exciting ways

Holocaust Representations in History Daniel H. Magilow, Lisa Silverman, 2015-02-26 Holocaust Representations in History is an introduction to critical questions and debates surrounding the depiction, chronicling and memorialization of the Holocaust through the historical analysis of some of the most provocative and significant works of Holocaust representation. In a series of chronologically presented case studies, the book introduces the major themes and issues of Holocaust representation across a variety of media and genres including film, drama, literature, photography, visual art, television, graphic novels and memorials. The case studies presented not only include well-known, commercially successful and canonical works about the Holocaust such as the film Shoah and Elie Wiesel's memoir Night, but also controversial examples that have drawn accusations of profaning the memory of the genocide. Each work's specific historical and cultural significance is then discussed to provide further insight into the impact of one of the most devastating events of the 20th century and the continued relevance of its memory. Complete with illustrations, a bibliography and suggestions for further reading, key terms and discussion questions, this is an important book for any student keen to know more about the Holocaust and its impact.
