The Seven Deadly Sins of Small Group Ministry Bill Donahue, Russ G. Robinson, 2009-08-30 Assessment and solution for seven common obstacles to building small groups It's one thing to start a small group ministry It's another to keep the groups in your church healthy and headed in the same direction Whatever your church's approach maybe whether it is a church with groups or of groups sooner or later as a leader you'll need to do some troubleshooting That's when the expert to the point guidance in this book will prove its worth The beauty of this book lies in its unique diagnostic process It allows you to assess diagnose and correct seven common deadly sins that can drain the life from your church's small group ministry In The Seven Deadly Sins of Small Group Ministry what would take you years to learn through trial and error is distilled into some of the most useful information you can find Drawing on the knowledge they've gleaned from working inside Willow Creek Community Church from consulting with hundreds of churches and from conducting conferences and seminars worldwide small group experts Bill Donahue and Russ Robinson furnish you with proven real life solutions to the toughest problems in your small group ministry This is not theory it is hands on material you can read and apply today Understanding

Deterrence Keith B. Payne, 2014-06-11 For decades the rational actor model served as the preferred guide for U.S. deterrence policy It has been a convenient and comforting guide because it requires little detailed knowledge of an opponent's unique decision making process and yet typically provides confident generalizations about how deterrence works The model tends to postulate common decision making parameters across the globe to reach generalizations about how deterrence will function and the types of forces that will be stabilizing or destabilizing Yet a broad spectrum of unique factors can influence an opponent's perceptions and his calculations and these are not easily captured by the rational actor model The absence of uniformity means there can be very few deterrence generalizations generated by the use of the rational actor model that are applicable to the entire range of opponents Understanding Deterrence considers how factors such as psychology history religion ideology geography political structure culture proliferation and geopolitics can shape a leadership's decision making process in ways that are specific and unique to each opponent Understanding Deterrence demonstrates how using a multidisciplinary approach to deterrence analysis can better identify and assess factors that influence an opponent's decision making process This identification and assessment process can facilitate the tailoring of deterrence strategies to specific purposes and result in a higher likelihood of success than strategies guided by the generalizations about opponent decision making typically contained in the rational actor model This book was published as a special issue of Comparative Strategy

Losing Our Religion? Kevin Ronald Ward, 2013-10-22 Church going in most Western societies has declined significantly in the wake of the social and cultural changes that began in the 1960s Does this mean that people in these societies are losing any religious dimension in their lives or is it being expressed in other forms and places This study begins by looking at comparative data on how church going patterns have changed in five countries Britain the United States Canada Australia and New Zealand examining reasons for the decline how churches have responded to these changes and why some churches have shown greater resilience It then explores some of the particular challenges these changes pose for the future of churches in these societies and some of the responses that have been made drawing on both sociological and theological insights The conclusion is that despite the loss of belonging believing persists and religion continues to play a significant role in these societies mediated in a variety of diffuse cultural forms Cases illustrating these changes are largely drawn from New Zealand which as the country most recently settled by Europeans has always been secular and thus provides helpful insights

Community Brad House, 2011-09-07 Community within the church today is hemorrhaging Attention spans are dwindling noise levels are increasing and we can't seem to find time for real relationships The answer to such social fragmentation can be found in small groups and yet the majority of small groups at least in the traditional sense are often not the intentional transformational community we really want and need Somehow we need to get our groups off life support and into authentic community Pastor Brad House helps us to re-imagine what gospel centered community looks like and shares from his experience leading and reproducing healthy small groups With wisdom and candor House challenges us to think carefully about our own groups and to take steps toward cultivating communities that are able to glorify Jesus bless one another and participate in the mission of God
