From Luababa To Polk County Zora Neale Hurston Plays At The Library Of Congress:

From Luababa to Polk County Jean Lee Cole, 2006 This fully edited volume contains nine of Zora Neale Hurston's unpublished plays at the Library of Congress including three of her full length plays Polk County Cold Keener and De Turkey and De Law This book is expected to be a major contribution to American literary scholarship as it portrays customary African American life in the 20th century through a highly nonconformist African American lens Zora Neale Hurston is a world renowned author best known for her fiction and folklore including her novel Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 and her autobiography Dust Tracks on the Road 1942 Zora Neale Hurston Zora Neale Hurston, 2008-06-03 Though she died penniless and forgotten Zora Neale Hurston is now recognized as a major figure in African American literature Best known for her 1937 novel Their Eyes Were Watching God she also published numerous short stories and essays three other novels and two books on black folklore Even avid readers of Hurston's prose however may be surprised to know that she was also a serious and ambitious playwright throughout her career Although several of her plays were produced during her lifetime and some to public acclaim they have languished in obscurity for years Even now most critics and historians gloss over these texts treating them as supplementary material for understanding her novels Yet Hurston's dramatic works stand on their own merits and independently of her fiction Now eleven of these forgotten dramatic writings are being published together for the first time in this carefully edited and annotated volume Filled with lively characters vibrant images of rural and city life biblical and folk tales voodoo and most importantly the blues readers will discover a real Negro theater that embraces all the richness of black life Kinship and Performance in the Black and Green Atlantic Kathleen Gough, 2013-11-07 Kinship and Performance in the Black and Green Atlantic advances an innovative and compelling approach to writing comparative studies of performance in transnational intercultural relation to one another Its chosen subject in this case is the cultural and political intersection of African and Irish diasporic peoples and movements Gough approaches her subject via five key flashpoints in Black Green relations moving from the mid nineteenth century to the early twenty first century In turn each of these is related to mediums of performance that were prevalent at the time such as abolitionist oratory and melodrama photography and tableaux architecture and folk drama television and political demonstrations and visual art and dramaturgy By examining the unlikely kinship between social actors such as Ida B Wells and Maud Gonne Lady Augusta Gregory and Zora Neale Hurston and Bernadette Devlin and Alice Childress along with a host of old and new theatrical characters this book explores how a transmedial investigation of gender community and performance allows for a revision of historiography in Atlantic studies while the study itself revises and reimagines key concepts central to performance studies In 2014 Kinship and Performance was given the Errol Hill Award for Outstanding Scholarship in African American Theatre from the American Society for Theatre Research Contemporary African American Women Playwrights Philip C. Kolin, 2007-11-07 The impressive array of scholars gathered in this collection all experts in the field read the plays with nuance and situate them deftly within their cultural and historical contexts Scholars of contemporary theater and drama and of African American literature will find value in this engaging collection Choice For students and scholars of American theatre and drama generally and African American theatre and drama most particularly this is an extremely valuable critical source Harry Elam Stanford University USA In the last fifty years American and World theatre has been challenged and enriched by the rise to prominence of numerous female African American dramatists Contemporary African American Women Playwrights is the first critical volume to explore the contexts and influences of these writers and their exploration of black history and identity through a wealth of diverse courageous and visionary dramas Kolin compiles a wealth of new essays comprising Yale scholar David Krasner on the dramatic legacy of Lorraine Hansberry Zora Neale Hurston Marita Bonner and Georgia Douglas Johnson individual chapters devoted to Alice Childress Sonia Sanchez Adrienne Kennedy Ntozake Shange Pearl Cleage Aishah Rahman Glenda Dickerson Anna Deavere Smith and Suzan Lori Parks an essay and accompanying interview with Lynn Nottage comprehensive discussion of attendant theatrical forms from choreopoems and surrealist plays to documentary theatre and civil rights dramas and their use in challenging racial and gender hierarchies Contributors Brandi Wilkins Catanese Soyica Diggs James Fisher Freda Scott Giles Joan Wylie Hall Philip C Kolin David Krasner Sandra G Shannon Debby Thompson Beth Turner and Jacqueline Wood Florida Studies Keith Huneycutt, Claudia Slate, 2009-05-27 Included in this volume are essays on various aspects of Florida Literature and history by scholars from across the state representing every kind of institution of higher learning Of special interest are the studies of Florida literature in the 19th Century and in the late 20th and early 21st centuries areas that are generally underrepresented in national journals The papers on the contributions of African America figures such as Zora Neale Hurston are noteworthy Of particular interest are the suggestions for teaching Florida Studies in the classroom which can be adapted for high school as well as college students Native Speakers María Eugenia Cotera, 2010-01-01 Gloria Anzaldua Book Prize National Women s Studies Association 2009 In the early twentieth century three women of color helped shape a new world of ethnographic discovery Ella Cara Deloria a Sioux woman from South Dakota Zora Neale Hurston an African American woman from Florida and Jovita Gonz lez a Mexican American woman from the Texas borderlands achieved renown in the fields of folklore studies anthropology and ethnolinguistics during the 1920s and 1930s While all three collaborated with leading male intellectuals in these disciplines to produce innovative ethnographic accounts of their own communities they also turned away from ethnographic meaning making at key points in their careers and explored the realm of storytelling through vivid mixed genre novels centered on the lives of women In this book Cotera offers an intellectual history situated in the borderlands between conventional accounts of anthropology women s history and African American Mexican American and Native American intellectual genealogies At its core is also a meditation on what it means to draw three women from disparate though nevertheless interconnected histories of marginalization into conversation with one another Can such a conversation reveal a shared history that has been erased due to institutional racism sexism and simple neglect Is there a mode of comparative reading that can explore their points of connection even as it remains attentive to their differences These are the questions at the core of this book which offers not only a corrective history centered on the lives of women of color intellectuals but also a methodology for comparative analysis shaped by their visions of the world Harlem Speaks Cary D.
