Encrypting the Past Kirstin Gwyer,2014-09-11 Encrypting the Past puts forward the interpretative category of the first generation German Jewish Holocaust novel and examines its representational strategies With reference to works by H G Adler Jenny Aloni Elisabeth Augustin Erich Fried and Wolfgang Hildesheimer and a concluding section on W G Sebald it shows how Holocaust literature was being written decades before postwar authors such as Sebald were credited with having found new ways of reflecting the unspeakable It demonstrates that before the theoretical debate over the fundamental representability of the Holocaust was even fully under way first generation authors were already translating un narratable trauma into a literary strategy of un narrating a strategy of encrypting the Holocaust into the form and structure of their texts The implications of treating these writers as a set and their body of work as a hitherto unacknowledged category of Holocaust fiction go well beyond drawing attention to a number of important but critically neglected authors This study frames the analysis of first generation narrative strategies in the broader debate on the ethics and aesthetics of Holocaust writing In revealing how certain kinds of testimony have been privileged above others in international Holocaust studies it raises questions of a more general nature concerning canon formation and our theoretical responses to the Holocaust In considering foremost among these responses the theory of deconstruction and trauma theory it finally invites a re examination of the relationship between the post modern and trauma

The essays contained in this volume were originally delivered as papers to a conference on the German language broadcasting of the BBC held in London in 2002 For over sixty years the BBC German Service was Britain's most authoritative voice to the German speaking world representing a virtual paradigm of British cultural and political attitudes towards Germany and Austria and helping to define their perceptions of Britain and the British Despite the BBC's enormous cultural standing and influence however this volume is the first to evaluate the Corporation's German language broadcasting since the BBC German Service was closed down in 1999 The essays fall into three broad categories German language broadcasting during the Second World War broadcasting to Germany and Austria during the Cold War and finally a series of personal accounts from former employees of the Service The volume will be of interest to scholars and students of broadcasting including media studies as well as those involved in German Studies and in German and Austrian Exile Studies

Women and National Socialism in Postwar German Literature Katherine

Stone, 2017 In recent years historians have revealed the many ways in which German women supported National Socialism as teachers frontline auxiliaries and nurses as well as in political organizations In mainstream culture however the women of the period are still predominantly depicted as the victims of a violent twentieth century whose atrocities were committed by men They are frequently imagined as post hoc redeemers of the nation as the rubble women who spiritually and literally rebuilt Germany This book investigates why the question of women's complicity in the Third Reich has struggled to capture the historical imagination in the same way It explores how female authors from across the political and generational spectrum Ingeborg Bachmann Christa Wolf Elisabeth Plessen Gisela Elsner Tanja Döckers Jenny Erpenbeck conceptualize the role of women in the Third Reich As well as offering innovative re-readings of celebrated works this book provides instructive interpretations of lesser known texts that nonetheless enrich our understanding of German memory culture Katherine Stone is Assistant Professor in German Studies at the University of Warwick

Austrian Exodus Edward Timms, Ritchie Robertson, 1995 Following the German annexation of Austria in 1938 and the intensified persecution of the Jews the British and American governments relaxed their restrictions on immigration and issued entry visas to tens of thousands of German speaking refugees The resulting exodus can be seen as the most significant cultural migration of modern times For the majority of the refugees from National Socialism came from educated backgrounds and they included some of the most gifted members of the cultural elite The remarkable contributions made by refugees from Austria to the cultural life of the English speaking world form the subject of this book which reviews the achievements both of refugee organisations and of outstanding individual authors including Stefan Zweig Erich Fried Hilde Spiel Josef Fraenkel Felix Pollak and Elias Canetti Their commitment to the struggle against fascism exemplified by the political cartoons of Joseph Otto Flatter also provided an inspiration for the restoration of Austrian independence after the defeat of Nazi Germany Book Jacket

Jews in German Literature Since 1945 Pól Ó Dochartaigh, 2000 This volume contains some 46 essays on various aspects of contemporary German Jewish literature The approaches are diverse reflecting the international origins of the contributors who are based in seventeen different countries Holocaust literature is just one theme in this context others are memory identity Christian Jewish relations anti-Zionism la belle juive and more Prose poetry and drama are all represented and there is a major debate on the controversial attempt to stage Fassbinder's Der Mörder die Stadt und der Tod 1985 The overall approach of the volume is an inclusive one In his introduction the editor calls for a reappraisal of the terms of German Jewish discourse away from the notion of Germans and Jews and towards the idea that both Jews and non-Jews all of them Germans have contributed to the corpus of German Jewish literature
