Eisenstein Sergei Eisenstein, 1974 The Cinema of Eisenstein David Bordwell, 2020-10-07 The Cinema of Eisenstein is David Bordwell's comprehensive analysis of the films of Sergei Eisenstein arguably the key figure in the entire history of film The director of such classics as Potemkin Ivan the Terrible October Strike and Alexander Nevsky Eisenstein theorized montage presented Soviet realism to the world and mastered the concept of film epic Comprehensive authoritative and illustrated throughout this classic work deserves to be on the shelf of every serious student of cinema Classical Epic Tradition John Kevin Newman, 2003-04-01 The literary epic and critical theories about the epic tradition are traced from Aristotle and Callimachus through Apollonius Virgil and their successors such as Chaucer and Milton to Eisenstein Tolstoy and Thomas Mann Newman's revisionist critique will challenge all scholars students and general readers of the classics comparative literature and western literary traditions A Short History of the Movies Gerald Mast, Bruce F. Kawin, 2003 B The seventh edition of A Short History of the Movies continues the tradition that has made it one of the most popular books ever in film history This volume offers students a panoramic overview of the worldwide development of film from the early Mack Sennett and Charlie Chaplin shorts through the studio heyday of the 1930s and 1940s and the Hollywood Renaissance of the 1960s and 1970s to the pictures and their technology appearing in the multiplexes of today This new edition which has been revised and rewritten to reflect current scholarship and recent industry developments and new films and filmmakers represents an accurate scrupulous updating of a classic Features an emphasis on key historical and aesthetic principles provides solid scholarship in an accessible intelligent and readable format Includes almost 500 color and black and white photographs including frame enlargements and production stills Includes evaluations of great works from such directors as Griffith Ford Scorsese and Hitchcock illuminates conflicts and controversies in many areas of filmmaking Also features extensive treatment of international film enables comparison and contrast between American films and those of other countries particularly Germany Russia France Italy and China For anyone interested in the history of film Sergei Rachmaninoff Sergei Bertensson, Jay Leyda, 2001 Throughout his career as composer conductor and pianist Sergei Rachmaninoff 1873 1943 was an intensely private individual When Bertensson and Leyda's 1956 biography appeared it lifted the veil of secrecy on several areas of Rachmaninoff's life especially concerning the genesis of his compositions and how he was affected by their critical reception These pages are fabulously peopled Here we find the Tchaikovsky brothers Rimsky Korsakov Scriabin Glazunov and Stravinsky as well as Chekhov Stanislavsky Chaliapin Fokine Hofmann and Horowitz This biography reflects direct consultation with a number of people who knew Rachmaninoff worked with him and corresponded with him Even with the availability of such sources and full access to the Rachmaninoff Archive at the Library of Congress Bertensson Leyda and Satina Rachmaninoff's cousin and sister in law were tireless in their pursuit of privately held documents particularly correspondence The wonderfully engaging product of their labours masterfully incorporates primary materials into the narrative Almost half a century after it first appeared this volume remains essential reading A History of the Screenplay S. Price,2013-11-26 The screenplay is currently the focus of extensive critical re evaluation however as yet there has been no comprehensive study of its historical development International in scope and placing emphasis on the development and variety of screenplay texts themselves this book will be an important and innovative addition to the current literature

History and Popular Memory Paul A Cohen,2014-04-29 When people experience a traumatic event such as war or the threat of annihilation they often turn to history for stories that promise a positive outcome to their suffering During World War II the French took comfort in the story of Joan of Arc and her heroic efforts to rid France of foreign occupation To bring the Joan narrative more into line with current circumstances however popular retellings modified the original story so that what people believed took place in the past was often quite different from what actually occurred Paul A Cohen identifies this interplay between story and history as a worldwide phenomenon found in countries of radically different cultural religious and social character He focuses here on Serbia Israel China France the Soviet Union and Great Britain all of which experienced severe crises in the twentieth century and in response appropriated age old historical narratives that resonated with what was happening in the present to serve a unifying restorative purpose A central theme in the book is the distinction between popular memory and history Although vitally important to historians this distinction is routinely blurred in people s minds and the historian s truth often cannot compete with the power of a compelling story from the past even when it has been seriously distorted by myth or political manipulation Cohen concludes by suggesting that the patterns of interaction he probes given their near universality may well be rooted in certain human propensities that transcend cultural difference

Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America, 1896-1960 Rielle Navitski, Nicolas Poppe, 2017-06-19 Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America examines how cinema forged cultural connections between Latin American publics and film exporting nations in the first half of the twentieth century Predating today's transnational media industries by several decades these connections were defined by active economic and cultural exchanges as well as longstanding inequalities in political power and cultural capital The essays explore the arrival and expansion of cinema throughout the region from the first screenings of the Lumière Cinématographe in 1896 to the emergence of new forms of cinophilia and cult spectatorship in the 1940s and beyond Examining these transnational exchanges through the lens of the cosmopolitan which emphasizes the ethical and political dimensions of cultural consumption illuminates the role played by moving images in negotiating between the local national and global and between the popular and the elite in twentieth century Latin America In addition primary historical documents provide vivid accounts of Latin American film critics movie audiences and film industry workers experiences with moving images produced elsewhere encounters that were deeply rooted in the local context yet also opened out onto global horizons The Invisible Art of Film Music Laurence E. Left of Hollywood Chris Robé,2012-11-29 In the 1930s as the capitalist system faltered many in the United States turned to the political Left Hollywood so deeply embedded in capitalism was not immune to this shift Left of Hollywood offers the first book length study of Depression era Left film theory and criticism in the United States Rob studies the development of this theory and criticism over the course of the 1930s as artists and intellectuals formed alliances in order to establish an engaged political film movement that aspired toward a popular cinema of social change Combining extensive archival research with careful close analysis of films Rob explores the origins of this radical social formation of U S Left film culture Grounding his arguments in the surrounding contexts and aesthetics of a few films in particular Sergei Eisenstein s Que Viva Mexico Fritz Lang s Fury William Dieterle s Juarez and Jean Renoir s La Marseillaise Rob focuses on how film theorists and critics sought to foster audiences who might push both film culture and larger social practices in more progressive directions Turning at one point to anti lynching films Rob discusses how these movies united black and white film critics forging an alliance of writers who championed not only critical spectatorship but also the public support of racial equality Yet despite a stated interest in forging more egalitarian social relations gender bias was endemic in Left criticism of the era and female centered films were regularly discounted Thus Rob provides an in depth examination of this overlooked shortcoming of U S Left film criticism and theory
