Lau, 2024-04-23 An indispensable reference to the development of the Chinese economy past present and future DALE W JORGENSON Samuel W Morris University Professor Harvard University Since China undertook economic reform and opened its economy to the world in the late 1970s its economy has been growing at an average annual rate of over 9 percent for more than four decades No other economy in recorded history has grown at such a high rate and for such a long period as China has done The questions that naturally arise are Was the Chinese economy a miracle Or was it a mere bubble Will the Chinese economy begin to stagnate like the Japanese economy did in the 1990s and perhaps decline Will it be able to escape the middle income trap If it is not a miracle can the Chinese development experience be replicated elsewhere This book provides a comprehensive and detailed discussion of the remarkable growth of the Chinese economy over the past decades by scrutinising the sources of economic growth and evaluating the strategies adopted by the Chinese government to promote the transition from a centrally planned economy to a market based economy by means of the dual track approach It is argued that while the Chinese economy is unique and exceptional in many ways its development experience can be explained and attributed A comprehensive and detailed discussion of the remarkable growth of the Chinese economy at nearly double digit rates in the four decades since the reforms of Deng Xiaoping in 1978 This volume will be an indispensable reference to the development of the Chinese economy past present and future Dale W Jorgenson Samuel W Morris University Professor Harvard University Lawrence Lau's discussion and economic reasoning with regard to the economic development of China dispels the view that the Chinese economic development since the opening up in the late 1970s was bubble I found his reasoning fascinating and his arguments that other countries can replicate the Chinese experience to facilitate their own development sound and well reasoned This book will be read and discussed by scholars and practitioners interested in a better understanding of the road to economic development Myron Scholes Nobel Laureate in Economic Sciences 1997 Professor Emeritus Stanford University The essays in this book present a rich and informed analysis of China's long run economic development They provide a unique insight into the Chinese economy at a crucial point in the country's development The essays have deep analytical weight reflecting Lawrence Lau's outstanding contribution to economic thought and policy formation in China Peter Nolan Founding Director Centre of Development Studies University of Cambridge This is a great and well researched book As a distinguished scholar and renowned adviser to Chinese economic policymakers Professor Lawrence Lau utilizes extensive data and economic models to evaluate the various sources of growth since China's 1978 reforms from an innovative perspective The book juxtaposes China's experience with other East Asian economies offering unique and deep insights into its distinctive development path It's essential reading for politicians scholars business leaders investors students and anyone interested in understanding China better Junsen Zhang Dean and Distinguished University Professor School of Economics Zhejiang University Fellow of the Econometric Society

COLLECTIVE INSTITUTIONS IN INDUSTRIALIZED NATIONS: Economic Lessons for sub-Saharan Africa Samuel Enajero, Ph.D., 2015-12-08 Fundamental institutions are core values that originate from beliefs Beliefs reflect on behaviors and repeated behaviors become habits Shared habits are people's values which when ingrained become norms and customs Societies that believed in human interdependency formed collective institutions These institutions are compatible with modern economic prosperity Thus Contrary to conventional economic teaching which implies that behaviors including preferences are biologically determined all socially relevant behaviors including economic behaviors are acquired learned and routinized through habits institutions in which individuals find themselves Again contrary to popular beliefs that economics is about pursuit of self interest as stipulated by Adam Smith 1776 the pursuit of self interest does not translate to selfishness For example an entrepreneur relies on public capitals and skilled labors to succeed a producer relies on adequate consumption to produce at capacity a firm's profit is enhanced with higher consumer income etc Therefore capitalism is a function of collective institutions Collectivism is a solution to group interdependency People sharing the same space are interdependent and are faced with interdependency costs Interdependency cost equals external cost plus decision making cost Failures to eliminate or minimize external costs externalities through collectivization of activities result to resource misallocation The problem of sub-Saharan Africa Moreover modern development theories are constructed around macroeconomic variables Money banking interest rate savings trade liberalization financial assets deficit and debt management are modern macroeconomic development tools These are based on aggregation of data and variables Thus collectivism is more pronounced in macroeconomic policies Yet many emerging nations of sub-Saharan Africa do not find it mandatory to build all inclusive economies by mobilizing resources en masse Customs Bulletin and Decisions, 1995
