Unravelling examines the nature of contemporary education policy its purposes and political formation This thoroughly revised edition charts the continuity of policy development along neo liberal lines taking a historical perspective broadly from the 19th century and towards the emerging position of the current Conservative government in the UK This new edition now includes the developments in education policy which took place under the Coalition government administration between 2010 2015 a brand new chapter on policy developments in early childhood education and care a brand new chapter on inclusive schools special educational needs and disability new activities and illustrative case studies to challenge and inform students thinking and understanding around key policy issues discussion of new research and recent legislation to illuminate important and emergent issues in education Written in an accessible style this is an invaluable guide for engaging with education policy as it uses a variety of key elements of policy theory in order to support students through some of the complexities involved in contemporary policy analysis and critique

The Legal Legacy of the Reformation

John Duddington, 2024-11-25 The growing interest in the relationship between religion and law is in the case of Christianity often viewed in monolithic terms Moreover the debate is often seen in terms of the relationship of Christianity to the state along with discussions about for example religious freedom Christianity is often seen as responding to claims made on it by the state and by the growth of secularism This book takes a different approach First it makes the claim that Christianity has something of value to say about various pressing issues which are of direct relevance to contemporary society Amongst these are the place of human rights and that of individual claims of conscience Second it does not regard Christianity as a monolithic whole but takes as its starting point the sundering of Christendom at the Reformation which it claims led in many cases to divergent patterns of thought between Catholics and Protestants about law and its place in society However as this book shows in many cases Catholic and Protestant thinking on areas such as natural law is not as divergent as it is often thought Five hundred years after the Reformation the work presents a reflection on the roots of Catholic and Protestant thinking on law and its place in society It will be of interest to canon lawyers as well as academics and students of law and religion

The City and Education in Four Nations Ronald K. Goodenow, William E. Marsden, Peter Clark, 2003-12-04 The City and Education in Four Nations is a response to a long standing need for the placing of urban educational study in broader comparative contexts both historical and international This volume offers an account of the historical educational experiences of four major English speaking countries opening up new research agendas in a variety of fields An international team of contributors has been assembled combining historical and educational expertise and the work should interest scholars in a number of disciplines including urban history urban and comparative education social and public policy social and cultural history and the history of education

Education Law and Policy in an Urban Society

Piet Akkermans, Jan De Groof, Hilde Penneman, 1999-05-27 Just how fascinating the discussion between the disciplines of education law and education policy can be was apparent at the Annual Congress of the European Education Law and Policy Association ELA in

Rotterdam in December 1997 Although on this occasion the option was for an education policy subject a multidisciplinary approach is always to be preferred Policy makers interrogate lawyers lawyers question scientists from other fields of study and lines of practice It was at the same time a further illustration of how inspiring and productive in the context of the European Union at any rate comparative analyses can be for national and international education and social policy The theme of the 1997 Congress and consequently of this Yearbook was urban education policy and its legal form as the touchstone of the modern interpretation of individual and social rights This collection of thought provoking essays and country reports thus centres on the question what challenges for education do urban associations represent Rethinking Law and Religion

Russell Sandberg, 2024-06-05 This incisive book delineates the development of Law and Religion as a sub discipline critically reflecting on the author's own role in constructing the field It develops a subversive social systems theory in order to take both law and religion seriously and to challenge them equally Negotiating Adult-Child Relationships in Early

Childhood Research Deborah Albon, Rachel Rosen, 2013-08-15 Negotiating Adult Child Relationships in Early Childhood Research presents a substantive critique of technicist and neoliberal approaches to ethics through an exploration of the complicated and often messy situations faced in negotiating relationships in research with children Despite growing acknowledgement of their centrality relationships between adult researchers and very young participants have been neglected and under theorised and in response this book offers a comprehensive conceptualisation of adult child research relationships through examination of questions including How do power and inequity impact on adult child research relationships What does it mean for relationships when researchers intervene in the field How do bodies matter in research relationships What does an emphasis on relationships with young children mean for the research process Drawing on data from their own research the authors contend that relationships are part of a wider web of social relations and space time configurations They propose and develop a relational ethics of answerability and social justice inspired by the work of Bakhtin and in addition explore the way material bodies come to matter the ambiguity of consent in educator research and the risks and possibilities of research relationships Chapters include innovative formulations of reciprocity sensing practices and political ethical responsibility This book contributes to current debates about research with young children offering an incisive and thorough exploration of the importance of relationships to the research process Relevant for international audiences this book is essential reading for early childhood students and educators researchers and lecturers with an interest in research with children Primary Core National Curriculum David Coulby, Stephen Ward, 1996-01-01 This updated text surveys the debate amongst politicians and professionals surrounding the evolution and revision of the National Curriculum for England and Wales setting the scene for the implementation of the core subjects Information Technology English Mathematics and Science The contributors investigate the ways in which schools have managed curriculum policies the role of subject co ordinators and the development of teaching methods The text in its second edition contains a new chapter on Information Technology Disability and Society Len Barton, 2018-10-08 The study of disability has traditionally been influenced mainly by medical and psychological models The aim of this new text Disability and Society is to open up the debate by introducing alternative perspectives reflecting the increasing sociological interest in this important topic Disability and Society brings together for the first time some of the most recent original research in this rapidly expanding area The contributors both disabled and non disabled are all leading thinkers in their field and suggest new ways of understanding disability developing policy and challenging current practice Freedom of Religion, Minority Rights and the Law

Aleksandra Gliszczynska-Grabias, Aviad Hachon, 2025-08-08 This book provides an in depth scholarly reflection on the challenges that arise in guaranteeing religious freedom and protection of the rights of religious minorities in law and practice Currently the protection of religious minorities constitutes one of the foundations of the international human rights protection systems and is provided for in the constitutions of all democratic states The volume identifies analyses and assesses the legal status of religious freedom and protection of religious minorities with special focus on Jewish and Muslim minorities in the European and Israeli legal environments It compares the discourses on the scope and boundaries of religious freedom with the actual treatment of religious freedom in legal regulations the case law and in practice by the general society The book employs the resources of comparative law and national and international law as well as legal theory Extensive use is also made of decisions of the international courts including the European Court of Human Rights and the Court of Justice of the European Union The book will be a valuable resource for academics researchers and policymakers working in the areas of law and religion international human rights law comparative constitutional law and religious studies

The Governance of Schooling Margaret A. Arnott, Charles D. Raab, 2002-11-01 Recent reforms in the governance of schooling have affected roles relationships and decision making within schools and between them and the wider community Using empirical and theoretical approaches this book describes analyses and compares the effects of devolved management on secondary schools in a number of countries It casts a critical light upon policy assumptions and aims challenging assumptions about the way policy works in practice Through a comparative international perspective which looks at countries including the UK and the US the conflicting options for school governance are addressed These include parental participation and school management policy professional managerial and market principles in education school based decision making and the implications of overarching government policies devolution and centralisation This is a timely study for practitioners in education policy makers in local and central government academics and students of education policy and management
