Hamada, 2017-05-26 This book covers the entire Nile Basin and reflects the latest findings It provides unique and cutting edge insights into the region's agriculture water resources governance poverty productivity upstream downstream linkages innovations future plans and their implications Many international summits and conferences have declared that there is an urgent need to save agriculture from its demise Most international agencies now recognize that something must be done but what Beyond policy changes the restructuring of global governance and institutional reforms are called for Commitments must be translated into concrete actions leading to a renewed interest in agriculture and a return to the basic objective of achieving food security

Sudan's Wars and Peace Agreements Stephanie Beswick, Jay Spaulding, 2010-07-12 Originating from the 2008 27th annual conference of the Sudan Studies Association SSA of the same title these essays document and analyze Sudan's chronic history of conflict since independence in 1956 as well as its own and international efforts to bring an end to these conflicts As the country moves toward what some see as the inevitable separation of South Sudan in 2011 honoring the principle of self determination long fought for by southerners the lessons of six decades of a history of war and peace agreements is both telling and compelling This analysis is offered by the real experts on Sudan rather than the usual story offered by journalists and pundits In addition to an Introduction by the editors all founders or current or past presidents of the SSA the essays by Sudanese and non Sudanese explore the often bitter history of North South relations and loss of life leading to the consideration of a range of options from a continuation of national unity under revised terms to federation or redivision to full separation of the South and the constitution of a new African state The role of the Khartoum government s pursuit of policies of Islamization and Islamism for a quarter of a century across multiple regimes is also treated The central question of constructing a sustainable peace irrespective of the outcome in 2011 is detailed along with the essential consideration of women and gender perspectives to sustain any peace negotiated This book is must reading in advance of or in response to the crucial events as they unfold in Sudan in 2011 and beyond The Report: Egypt 2016 Oxford Business Group,2016-01-13 The country s economic strengths include its large domestic market diversified economic base favourable trade relations with major partners such as the EU and geographic location As Egypt continues to rebuild its economy it faces a number of risks External challenges include regional unrest and a slowdown in exports due to muted global growth although the nation s limited exposure to Asian markets lends it some degree of protection The possibility of unrest also features in the domestic risk matrix and security remains a national concern Nevertheless Egypt s economy has continued to expand with the IMF forecasting GDP growth of roughly 4% for 2015 and 4.4% for 2016 AF Press Clips ,1990-04

The Politics of Fresh Water Catherine M. Ashcraft,Tamar Mayer,2016-12-08 Water scarcity is not simply the result of what nature has to offer but always involves power relations and political decisions This volume discusses the politics of the freshwater crisis specifically how access to water is determined in different regions and historical periods how conflict is constructed and managed and how identity and efforts to control water systems through development technologies and institutions shape one another The book analyzes responses to the water crisis as efforts to mitigate water insecurity and as expressions of collective identity that legitimate resist or seek to transform existing inequalities The chapters focus on different processes that contribute to freshwater scarcity including land use decisions pollution privatization damming climate change discrimination water management institutions and technology Case studies are included from North and South America Africa Asia Europe and New Zealand AF Press Clips United States Department of State. Bureau of African Affairs,1983 Environmental Consequences of International Conflicts Aleksander V. Semenov,Igor S. Zonn,Andrey G. Kostianoy,Sergey S. Zhiltsov,Abdelazim Negm,2025-01-23 This is the first of two volumes that taken together provide an integrated picture of the environmental consequences arising from international conflicts The volumes build upon the successful book Environmental Consequences of War and Aftermath published in The Handbook of Environmental Chemistry in 2009 The books focus on environmental consequences only and discuss land degradation erosion water scarcity and pollution water resources management air pollution desertification deforestation food scarcity and radioactive contamination among others This volume addresses conflicts in the MENA region Middle East and North Africa covering historical and more recent events such as water conflicts military conflicts migration and overpopulation and infrastructure projects Readers will also find several chapters in this book on the theory of international conflicts and their impact on the environment in general. Given its breadth, this book appeals to environmental scientists, policy makers, and researchers interested in the environmental impacts of international conflicts.

A River Flows Through It Selina Ho, 2020-12-18. A River Flows Through It: A Comparative Study of Transboundary Water Disputes and Cooperation in Asia explores water disputes in Asia and addresses the question of how states sharing a river system can be incentivized to cooperate. Water scarcity is a major environmental, societal, and economic problem around the world. Increasing demand for water as a result of rapid economic development, high population growth, and density has depleted the world's water resources, leading to floods, droughts, environmental disasters, and societal displacement. Shared river basins are therefore often a source of tension and conflict between states. In regions where relations between countries have historically been conflictual, scarce river water resources have exacerbated tensions and have even sparked wars. Yet more often than not, states sharing a river basin are able to come to some form of agreement, whether they are far-reaching ones such as water sharing agreements or those that are more limited such as the sharing of hydrological data. Why do riparian states cooperate, especially when power asymmetries between upstream and downstream countries are characteristic of transboundary river basins? How do non-state actors affect the management of international rivers? What are the conditions that facilitate or hinder cooperation? This book wrestles with these questions by exploring water disputes and cooperation in the major river systems in Asia and by comparing them with cases in Africa, Europe, and the United States. This book will be of great value to scholars, students, and policymakers interested in transboundary water disputes and cooperation, hydro diplomacy, and river activism. It was originally published as special issues of Water International.

Integration of Core Sustainable Development Goals in Rural Areas Abdelazim M. Negm, Zeina ElZein, 2024-07-18. This book addresses the application of the water-energy and food nexus in the MENA Region. It highlights the technologies and solutions to support the sustainable development of rural areas in the region. The first part provides an introduction and an overview of water-energy, food, climate change, and ecosystem interactions within the framework of sustainable development goals. The editors present a brief overview and highlights of the book's themes and chapters. The second part discusses current State and Security of the WEF Nexus in the MENA Region, addresses the role of water-energy and food nexus in sustainable development through reviewing case studies in the MENA Region that have followed an integrated nexus approach.
