Rosenthal, 1996 In the USA the number of college students with limited English proficiency is increasing Even after successfully completing a course of English as a second language many face both linguistic and cultural barriers in mainstream classes This book focuses on both the theory and practice of assisting such students especially in the sciences As the number of non native English speaking students increases at colleges and universities innovative approaches are needed to successfully educate this population and how science is taught may be crucial Instruction in the students native language may become increasingly important in attracting and retaining non native English speakers in college This book is aimed primarily at staff who teach science to LEP undergraduates but others who should be interested include staff involved with postgraduate students and high school science teachers      Effective Schooling for English Language Learners Patricia Smiley, Trudy Salsberry, 2007 Organized around a series of Critical Questions and Leadership Challenges this book offers knowledge and expertise about the elementary principal s leadership

Paik,Herbert J. Walberg,2007-06-04 The subject of minority children s learning has long been the concern of civic leaders parents scholars and educators The federal legislation No Child Left Behind emphasizes the concern even more It specifically requires assessing the academic achievement of minority students particularly in economically disadvantaged areas and holding schools accountable for their progress Schools that fail to attain Adequate Yearly Progress face the real possibility of being forced to close if they continually fail to perform Unlike the past these are increasingly high stakes consequences for educators parents students and the schools that serve them This book is timely and relevant because it addresses these issues and recommends solutions for Latino Black and Asian students This book also has implications for the problems the nation faces in helping all students to learn well particularly those that lag in academic achievement In considering the broad problems and in recommending solutions the book provides breadth concision and unique organization As the introductory chapter makes clear the book simultaneously considers not only the three most visible minority groups in the U S but draws upon the perspectives of anthropology education ethnic studies psychology and sociology From these several perspectives this book is organized within three broad sections 1 culturally diverse families and schooling 2 issues of immigration and schooling experiences and 3 socio cultural perspectives on teaching learning and development Within each section the authors marshal research literature regarding each ethnic minority group

Educating Everybody's Children Robert W. Cole W. Cole, 2008-06-15 Designed to promote reflection discussion and action among the entire learning community Educating Everybody's Children encapsulates what research has revealed about successfully addressing the needs of students from economically ethnically culturally and linguistically diverse groups and identifies a wide range of effective principles and instructional strategies Although good teaching works well with all students educators must develop an extensive repertoire of instructional tools to meet the varying needs of students from diverse backgrounds Those tools and the knowledge base behind them are the foundation of this expanded and revised second edition of Educating Everybody's Children Each strategy discussed in the book includes classroom examples and a list of the research studies that support it The most important thing we have learned as a result of the education reform movement is that student achievement stands or falls on the motivation and skills of teachers We must ensure that all teachers are capable of delivering a standards based curriculum that describes what students should know and be able to do and that these standards are delivered by means of a rich and engaging pedagogy of plenty By these two acts we can ensure that all schools will be ready and able to educate everybody's children
