Webster,Anthony Russell,Peter Blatchford,2015-10-05 Teaching assistants are an integral part of classroom life yet pioneering research by the authors has shown schools are not making the most of this valued resource Evidence shows the more support pupils receive from TAs the less academic progress they made Yet the reason for this has little to do with TAs It is decisions made about them by school leaders and teachers that best explain this provocative finding The fully updated second edition of this book draws on the experiences of schools that have put this guidance into action via the Maximising the Impact of Teaching Assistants programme Revised to reflect the latest research evidence and changes within education including the 2014 SEND Code of Practice this book will help school leaders and teachers in primary and secondary settings to rethink the role purpose and contribution of TAs and add real value to what can be achieved in classrooms Setting out a field tested process structured around a coherent and empirically sound conceptual framework this book helps school leaders review reform and reenergise their TA workforce provides practical strategies to implement in the classroom illustrates key points with new case studies provides photocopiable templates and resources to support decision making and action

Maximising the Impact of Teaching Assistants provides much needed and evidence informed guidance on how to unleash the huge potential of TAs and is essential reading for all school leaders

Transferring the Notion of Good Practice when Working with Pupils with Emotional, Behavioural and Social Difficulties in a Cypriot Educational Context Stella

Tryfonos,2014-11-19 Pupils with Social Emotional and Behaviour Difficulties often known as SEBD and EBD comprise a group of learners who present challenges to their educators and the educational system often working with these pupils can be challenging and stressful for their teachers as well as any professional involved In England research concerning the education and learning of pupils with SEBD has progressed considerably in the past three decades and good practice when working with pupils who present these difficulties has been widely investigated In Cyprus however it is not nearly so widely known about and has not been researched to any great extent This book explores the situation in the Cypriot education system and begins by expanding the reader s knowledge on developments on the education of those pupils whose behaviour raises challenges to the educational system and causes concerns to those involved The book is informed by research which was undertaken by the author in Cyprus and documents the views of educators and professionals on good practice It explores the microsystem of a school and will enrich the knowledge and understanding of those with personal and professional interests in working with these pupils to be ready to accommodate their needs The book also contributes to a better understanding of the nature of SEBD especially since the number of students presenting such difficulties in Cypriot primary education requires practitioners to be ready to provide the best practices possible
