Moving Beyond the Crisis : Reclaiming and Reaffirming our Common Administrative Space Demetrios Argyriades, Gérard Timsit, 2013-03-14 With the financial meltdown and the economic crisis in their fifth year already no one can any longer be in doubt about their exceptional gravity their truly global impact and their profound effects hurting vulnerable groups and the very poor especially As the world looks for an exit from this economic crisis the worst in eight decades the focus of attention is naturally on the causes the factors that account for its wide reach and severity as well as on strategies that might bring it to a closure The quest for exit strategies is at the very centre of the issues and concerns explored in the present volume produced by the IIAS Like the preceding volumes but even more emphatically this volume representing a collective endeavour of scholars and practitioners from many parts of the globe finds cause to lay the blame for our difficult predicament on the institutional deficit the policies the practices and values that have followed in the trail of a highly misleading and erroneous model of governance The Market Model of Governance as it is known sought to reform the structures and culture of administration and government in private sector ways While instrumental values like efficiency and effectiveness were raised and praised profusely those of democratic governance were discounted by comparison In particular integrity the rule of law and due process equity legality and public service professionalism suffered a steep decline in several parts of the world Likewise the invasion and the capture of public space inevitably led to an unprecedented surge of greed abuse and corruption that contributed directly to the crisis which is upon us Looking for exit strategies as its title aptly suggests the present volume offers a rich menu of ideas drawn from the current experience of all the world's main regions Not surprisingly two concepts stand out throughout the book as necessary correctives as well as pressing remedies to the world's ongoing malaise They call for the recapture of our common administrative space and the reaffirmation of the values and virtues appropriate for democratic governance To the IIAS none perhaps are more important than public service professionalism and none other can contribute more effectively to the reform and consolidation of sound institutions for national sub national global and regional governance For these reasons at this juncture the new volume like the others should be featured in every public library and become a vademecum of all scholars and practitioners of public administration and politics around the world Beyond Piety and Politics Sabri Ciftci,F. Michael Wuthrich,Ammar Shamaileh,2022-05-03 How do ordinary men and women in Muslim majority societies create religion informed views of political topics such as democracy and economics Beyond Piety and Politics provides a groundbreaking approach to understanding the depth and variety of political attitudes held by people who consider themselves to be pious Muslims Using survey data on religious preferences and behavior the authors argue for the relevance and importance of four outlook categories religious individualist social communitarian religious communitarian and post Islamist and use these to explore complex and nuanced attitudes of devout Muslims toward issues like democracy and economic distribution They also reveal how intrafaith variation in political attitudes is not due simply to doctrinal differences but is also a product of the social aspects of religious association operating within political contexts By highlighting the dynamic societal and political implications of religious devotion Beyond Piety and Politics offers a fascinating new theoretical perspective on Islam and politics Transnational Generations in the Arab Gulf States and Beyond Kyoko Matsukawa,Akiko Watanabe,Zahra R. Babar,2023-12-01 This book examines the recent migration phenomenon in the Arab Gulf states for work and residence It sheds light on the transnationality of diverse groups of migrants from different generations and unpacks how migrants multiple senses of belonging orientations and adaptive strategies have shaped contemporary migration in the Gulf region In turn the analysis presented here shows how the Arab Gulf states citizenship and educational policies affect second generation migrants in particular Through a series of fine grained ethnographic case studies the authors demonstrate the ways in which these second generation migrants construct their identities in relation to their putative home country in the Gulf as well as their complex relationship to their parents countries of origin This is what underpins the deeply transnational character of their lives choices and notions of belonging While migration scholars often situate these groups as temporary this does not in fact capture the reality of temporariness for the migrants themselves their children or their dependants The result is a complex and ongoing construction of identity that shapes the way of life for millions of migrants Relevant to scholars of migration and international studies particularly focused on the Middle East Transnational Generations in the Arab Gulf States and Beyond is also of interest to social scientists researching student mobility in higher education intergenerational families identity politics and globalisation US Economic Aid in Egypt Dina Jadallah,2016-01-27 Economic aid is one of the cornerstones of the Egyptian American relationship and plays a significant role in promoting US policy objectives in the Middle East Focusing on the latter half of Hosni Mubarak s rule Dina Jadallah argues that through its aid policy the US has attempted to use a reforming and democratising narrative to transform Egypt into a stable market democracy that would be aligned with US interests in the region This aim has been pursued in conjunction with one that promoted a comprehensive warm peace with Israel By highlighting the opposition within Egypt to US aid Jadallah analyses the key issues that came to the fore during the 2010 11 protests in the country and led to the downfall of Mubarak Extending her analysis into the post revolutionary period the author provides interviews with regime insiders and prominent critics inside state institutions and outside who actively challenged the regime This enables her to assess the different perceptions of US aid both under Mubarak and in the current political situation contributing to an incisive analysis of modern Egypt and its relations with its superpower ally in the region

Egypt Rabab El Mahdi, Professor Philip Marfleet, 2013-04-04 Egypt is at the axis of the Arab world With the largest population the largest industrial economy and the longest tradition of modern political activity it has profound influence across the region But there have been few attempts to understand contemporary Egyptian society in particular growing internal pressures for change and their implications for the Middle East and the wider world This book is the first for over 20 years to offer an accessible examination of contemporary issues in Egypt It offers the reader analyses of its politics culture and society including contributions by several Egyptian academics and activists This unique new book addresses the turmoil created by imposition of neo liberal economic policies the increasingly fragile nature of an authoritarian regime the influence of movements for democratic opening and popular participation and the impacts of Islamism The authors argue that Egypt has entered a period of instability during which the low intensity democracy embraced by the Mubarak regime faces multiple challenges including demands for radical change This unique new book assesses the ability of the state to resist the new movements and the latter's capacity to fulfill their aims

Makdisi, 2017-01-05 A cross country examination of authoritarianism and democracy in North Africa and the Middle East Beyond Parliament Horman Chitonge, 2015-08-25 In Beyond Parliament Horman Chitonge offers a unique combination of the conceptual dimensions with the practical examples of human rights discourse deployed as an instrument for social change in the global south He uses the right to water and the right to food to illustrate that human rights are never given on a silver platter giving effect to human rights is always an outcome of a continuous struggle to protect human dignity and value To implement this view of human rights the book argues requires going beyond the parliamentary politics of recognising and acknowledging human rights in statutes and bill of rights to the radical democratic politics of giving effect to the recognised rights especially among the poor and marginalised Movement, Power and Place in Central Asia and Beyond Madeleine Reeves, 2013-09-13 Central Asia is a region singularly marked by attempts to transform social life by transforming place Drawing together established scholars and a new generation of historians geographers and anthropologists this volume brings empirical specificity and theoretical depth to debates about the politics of place making in this diverse region making an important contribution to Central Asian studies and a distinctive regional comparison to the spatial turn in social analysis Case studies draw on archival research and oral history to explore the workings and unintended consequences of policies aimed at sedentarizing collectivizing and resettling populations as a means to fix and territorialize space The book also examines ethnographic studies attuned to the role of movement in sustaining social life from Soviet era trade networks that linked rural Central Asia and the Russian metropolis to pilgrimage routes through which kazakhness is articulated to the contemporary moralization of migration abroad in search of work Rather than analysing flows as abstract processes the book enquires about effortful activity material infrastructures political relations and social habits through which people ideas knowledge skills and material objects move or are prevented from moving As such it offers new insights into the complex intersections of movement power and place in this important region over the last two centuries This book was originally published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey

The New Politics of Energy Security in the European Union and Beyond Andrea Prontera, 2017-05-18 Combining theoretical reflections and empirical insights from paradigmatic case studies in the area of external energy governance pipeline politics Liquefied Natural Gas development and offshore petroleum policy and politics this ground breaking study demonstrates that a distinctive and new politics of energy security is definitively emerging in the European Union Innovative not only in regard to the case studies presented which include the Caspian region the Baltic Mediterranean countries Central Asia and EU Russia relations but also in regard to the analytical framework adopted an International Political Economy approach informed by an historical institutional perspective the book challenges the common view of the de politicisation of energy security supported by the mainstream market approach and the power politics and zero sum game view supported by the geopolitical perspective This book places the study of EU energy politics in the broader evolving context of global energy markets and explores the complex interactions between EU and national political dynamics and between energy security and environmental concerns at the local level

Allying beyond Social Divides Yasmine Berriane, Marie Duboc, 2020-11-25 This book offers a fresh look at the role of coalitions in contentious politics in North Africa and the Middle East based on conceptual reflexions and empirical case studies by researchers who have conducted extensive fieldwork in the region Coalitions of actors that have traditionally not been allies have become a key feature of the protest movements that have emerged across North Africa and the Middle East since 2011 But what happens when Islamists ally with Leftists workers with student unions and young engineers with local tribesmen How do coalitions form across ideological generational professional ethnic and class divides Are such collaborations transformative The authors seek to show that it is important to go beyond analyses that focus mainly on identifying the factors that led to a coalition's success or failure coalitions are moments of transformative encounter that can lead to changes affecting relations with political authorities ideological learnings repertoires of action and understandings of the notion of right Instead of analyzing coalitions and social divides as two opposite processes this book further argues that studying the alliance of social groups goes hand in hand with exploring processes of differentiation that are engineered by both political regimes and social actors Focusing on the role of coalitions in contentious politics before and after the Arab uprisings this book proposes a sociology of coalitions in the Middle East based on key empirical examples to analyze the transformations that emerged out of such alliances at the levels of repertoires of action forms of organization relations to political authorities and ideological learnings The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Mediterranean Politics

Beyond International Intervention Katarina Kušić,2025-03-27 Studies of statebuilding and peacebuilding have been criticized for their disregard of people living the consequences of intervention projects Beyond International Intervention takes on the task of engaging with spaces and peoples not usually present in IR scholarship to rethink the very concept of intervention by paying close attention to how people actually experience and make sense of those efforts In particular the book offers a detailed engagement with ethnographic fieldwork in two policy areas in Serbia agricultural policy and non formal youth education By engaging with subjects the book not only enhances our understanding of intervention but also uncovers the limitations of the concept Katarina Kušić argues that the concept limits what we can observe and theorize and it prevents researchers from engaging with the people living in spaces of intervention as coeval political subjects As an alternative she proposes to foreground improvement over intervention This reorientation enables researchers to trace hierarchies beyond the local international dichotomy expands fields of visibility beyond those prescribed by interventions themselves and seriously considers the contradictions at the heart of liberalism

Sultana,2013-09-03 Private tutoring supplementary out of school instruction offered at a fee to individuals or groups represents a substantial household expenditure even in systems that claim to have free public education It plays out across alongside and even within some school systems Emerging as a shadow education private tutoring now operates as a system and industry crossing national regional and social class boundaries Private tutoring is provided through different modes of delivery including the internet Policy makers parents teachers trade unions corporations community associations and students are implicated in the private tutoring industry The debates over private tutoring are therefore part of the larger struggles over the ends of education in just and equitable societies The authors in this volume address diverse national settings of private tutoring across the Mediterranean and examine its political economic social and cultural underpinnings They draw on a range of conceptual frameworks and deploy a variety of research methods to problematize the multifaceted relationships between tutoring learning and equity The volume captures a multiplicity of voices and focuses on some of the central challenges facing education in pluralistic societies
