A New History of War Reporting Kevin Williams,2019-12-23 This book takes a fresh look at the history of war reporting to understand how new technology new ways of waging war and new media conditions are changing the role and work of today s war correspondent Focussing on the mechanics of war reporting and the logistical and institutional pressures on correspondents the book further examines the role of war propaganda accreditation and news management in shaping the evolution of the specialism Previously neglected conflicts and correspondents are reclaimed and wars considered as key moments in the history of war reporting such as the Crimean War 1854 56 and the Great War 1914 18 are re evaluated The use of objectivity as the yardstick by which to assess the performance of war correspondents is questioned The emphasis is instead placed on war as a messy business which confronts reporters and photographers with conditions that challenge the norms of professional practice References to the demise of the war correspondent have accompanied the growth of the specialism since the days of William Howard Russell the so called father of war reporting This highlights the fragile nature of this sub genre of journalism and emphasises that continuity as much as change characterises the work of the war correspondent A thematically organised historically rich introduction this book is ideal for students of journalism media and communication Seeing Human Rights Sandra Ristovska,2021-08-03 As video becomes an important tool to expose injustice an examination of how human rights organizations are seeking to professionalize video activism Visual imagery is at the heart of humanitarian and human rights activism and video has become a key tool in these efforts The Saffron Revolution in Myanmar the Green Movement in Iran and Black Lives Matter in the United States have all used video to expose injustice In Seeing Human Rights Sandra Ristovska examines how human rights organizations are seeking to professionalize video activism through video production verification standards and training The result she argues is a proxy profession that uses human rights videos to tap into journalism the law and political advocacy Ristovska explains that this proxy profession retains some tactical flexibility in its use of video while giving up on the more radical potential and imaginative scope of video activism as a cultural practice Drawing on detailed analysis of legal cases and videos as well as extensive interviews with staff members of such organizations as Amnesty International Human Rights Watch WITNESS the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia ICTY and the International Criminal Court ICC Ristovska considers the unique affordances of video and examines the unfolding relationships among journalists human rights organizations activists and citizens in global crisis reporting She offers a case study of the visual turn in the law describes advocacy and marketing strategies and argues that the transformation of video activism into a proxy profession privileges institutional and legal spaces over broader constituencies for public good
