Emotion, Truth and Meaning C. Wilks, 2013-03-14 The aim of this book is to defend the Emotive Theory of Ethics and in particular the versions of that theory proposed by A J Ayer in Language Truth and Logic 1936 and by C L Stevenson in Ethics and Language 1944 For those readers who are familiar with the conventional history of Twentieth Century moral philosophy and the infamous place which the Emotive Theory occupies in that history the question which may well spring to mind at this point is Why bother In order to answer this question however I will need to provide a rough sketch of the very unconventional history of Twentieth Century moral philosophy which inspired me to resurrect a theory which most modem moral philosophers have long assumed to be safely dead and buried From the very outset the Emotive Theory ET was a misunderstood misrepresented and unjustly ridiculed theory but contrary to what one might expect it has with the passing of time become an even more misunderstood misrepresented and unjustly ridiculed theory Commanding Right and Forbidding Wrong in Islamic Thought Michael Cook, 2001-01-25 What kind of duty do we have to try to stop other people doing wrong The question is intelligible in just about any culture but few of them seek to answer it in a rigourous fashion The most striking exception is found in the Islamic tradition where commanding right and forbidding wrong is a central moral tenet already mentioned in the Koran As an historian of Islam whose research has ranged widely over space and time Michael Cook is well placed to interpret this complex subject His book represents the first sustained attempt to map the history of Islamic reflection on this obligation It covers the origins of Muslim thinking about forbidding wrong the relevant doctrinal developments over the centuries and its significance in Sunni and Shi ite thought today In this way the book contributes to the understanding of Islamic thought its relevance to contemporary Islamic politics and ideology and raises fundamental questions for the comparative study of ethics Pursued - Women's Bible Study Leader Guide Jennifer Cowart, 2021-04-20 Discover how God is pursuing you as you explore We all want to be loved We long to be desired pursued whether by a special someone our friends or others in our lives This longing for love and acceptance is the underlying story of many of our lives and it s the overarching story we see throughout the Scriptures Although the Bible tells many stories the main theme is God's relentless love for us In Pursued a six week Bible study by Jennifer Cowart we will explore God's great love for us from Genesis to Revelation We will see that God passionately pursues people who do not deserve His love and we are those people Like Cain Abraham Sarah Rebekah David the woman caught in adultery Peter and so many others we are the ones who have broken relationship with God But He runs after us anyway to bring us home In this study we will explore God's love as evidenced in the stories of creation the patriarchs the judges and prophets Jesus and the early church Together we will dive into a great love story and discover that it is our story Through this study women will See the big picture of God s love for them throughout the Scriptures Discover that God wants a personal relationship with them Experience God s relentless love for them individually Realize that God never stops pursuing them Components for this six week Bible study each available separately include a Participant Workbook a Leader Guide and video sessions with six 25 minute segments Accountant Student and Accountants' Journal ,1908 with closed captioning The New Age in Glastonbury Ruth Prince, David Riches, 2000 The New Age movement is a twentieth century socio cultural phenomenon in the Western world with Glastonbury as one of its major centers Through experimenting with a number of ways of analyzing this movement the authors were able to develop a novel theory of social religious movements of broad applicability Based around contradictions relating to such central anthropological concepts as communitas egalitarianism individualism holism and autonomy it reveals the processes by which having abandoned a mainstream lifestyle people come to build up a counter culture way of life Drawing on their own work on tribal shamanistic religions the authors are able to point out interesting similarities between the latter and the Glastonbury New Age movement Not only that their model allows them to explain such wide ranging social and religious movements as the Hutterites the Kibbutz and Green communes In fact the authors argue these movements may Understanding E-Government in Europe Paul G. be regarded as variations of the Glastonbury type Ouestion ,1950 Nixon, Vassiliki N.
